ACKNOWLEDGMENT

An informed citizenry is indispensable to the necessary support of the judicial branch and its continued improvement to enable it to meet its responsibilities in present-day society.

By working together at all levels of the judiciary, we provide a better forum for the administration of justice for all of our citizenry. Only with the cooperation of the judges and clerks can our citizens be informed of the work performed by the various courts.

Special acknowledgement must be accorded to Chief Justice Jack Pope of the Supreme Court, and to Judge Ben Z. Grant of the 71st District Court, who serves as president of the Judicial Council, for their continuing aid and support, as well as to members of the Judicial Council, who serve without remuneration, for their personal time and dedication.

The Texas Judicial Council expresses its appreciation to the many judges and clerks of the courts who have so promptly submitted the monthly reports on the operations of the courts. This information has enabled the Council to prepare this report on the judicial activity of the State.

This report is intended to inform the general public, as well as members of the legislative and executive branches of government, of the extent of the duties, responsibilities, and accomplishments of the judicial branch of government during the calendar year of 1982.

TO THE GOVERNOR, MEMBERS OF THE 68TH LEGISLATURE, AND MEMBERS OF THE JUDICIARY:

I am pleased to transmit to you the 54th Annual Report of the Texas Judicial Council, as required by Article 2328a, V.T.C.S. This report covers the activities and operations of more than 2,500 courts in the State of Texas for the calendar year 1982.

The Council, then known as the Texas Civil Judicial Council, was created by the Legislature in 1929 to act as an advisory body on the operations of the civil courts. It published its first report in December of that year.

In the decades since, the Council has grown from 16 to 19 members, and has been charged with advising on criminal court operations as well as civil. The Annual Report has evolved into a chronicle of the changes in the Texas Judicial System and a statistical record of the state courts.

In addition to regular features which are published in each edition, the 54th Annual Report includes: (1) the State of the Judiciary Message delivered to the 68th Legislature by Chief Justice Jack Pope of the Supreme Court; (2) a report on the personnel and equipment needs of the Courts of Appeals; (3) a report on the feasibility of a state court interpreters certification program; (4) a comparison of appropriations for the judiciary over the last five years; (5) a statistical history of the appellate, district, and county-level courts from 1972 through 1982; and (6) a directory of federal courts in Texas.

It is my sincere hope that the information contained in this report will be helpful in channeling the efforts of the State to meet the needs of society by providing for a more just, effective and efficient system of justice for all of our citizens.

Respectfully submitted,

Ben Z. Grant

THE STATE OF THE JUDICIARY MESSAGE

Delivered by CHIEF JUSTICE JACK POPE
SUPREME COURT OF TEXAS

To The
SIXTY EIGHTH LEGISLATURE
January 17, 1983

Pursuant to the provisions of Article 5429h V.T.C.S.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY MESSAGE

By Chief Justice Jack Pope

January 17, 1983

Some years ago, Warren Burger, Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, initiated the practice of making State of the Judiciary speeches. In 1977, the 65th Texas Legislature adopted the practice in Texas. I am here to speak about some of the matters that concern the third constitutional branch of our government. That branch includes more than 760 municipal judges, 962 justices of the peace, judges of 254 constitutional county courts, 120 judges of county courts at law, 347 judges of district courts and 97 appellate judges.[1]

On behalf of all those judges, I thank Lt. Governor Hobby and the Texas Senate and Speaker Lewis and the House of Representatives for according the third branch of government this early opportunity to review with you matters of concern to all of us.

I will not discuss all of the material in the text that has been delivered to you, nor will I present this in the form of a budget request. I shall briefly discuss three broad subjects. First, I will give you an appraisal of the good and the bad in recent events affecting the judiciary. Second, I will mention some specific reforms that are urgent and capable of improving our system at no cost or slight cost. Finally, I will lay out some areas both you and we need to study now, so we will be prepared to handle the onslaught of massive dockets that we will confront by the end of this century.

REPORT ON THE COURTS OF APPEALS

The last Session of the Legislature implemented the constitutional amendment that conferred criminal jurisdiction on the 14 Courts of Appeals which previously had only civil jurisdiction. That was the most significant change in the jurisdictional structure of the Texas courts in nearly a century. It was designed to dislodge the crunch of cases that had accumulated in the Court of Criminal Appeals. That court, while writing more opinions than any court in the country, was unable to stay apace with the flow of appeals, and was about three years behind. The merger afforded some help at the intermediate level.

The restructured criminal appellate system has eased the backlog in the Court of Criminal Appeals. The Honorable Tommy Lowe, Clerk of the Court of Criminal Appeals, reports that on September 1, 1981, that court had 3,066 pending cases, including death penalty cases. On January 1, 1982, that number was reduced to 2,470 pending cases and on January 1, 1983, it was again reduced to 1,237 cases. The Court of Criminal Appeals disposed of a total 4,141 cases during 1982.[2]

The 14 Courts of Appeals, beginning with many judges who had not previously worked in the criminal law area, disposed of a total of 6,838 appeals, 2,442 civil and 4,396 criminal, during 1982. Of the 1,637 old cases that the Court of Criminal Appeals had transferred to the Courts of Appeals, 1,511 (92%) have been decided. At the end of 1982 those courts had a total of 4,463 cases pending.[2]

Presiding Judge Onion reports that, while 1,641 cases were transferred to the Courts of Appeals, 3,066 cases were retained by the nine judges on the Court of Criminal Appeals, including all death penalty cases. All of those have been disposed of except 1,237 cases. Judge Onion reports disappointment that a part of the backlog still exists, but indicates that a sizeable number of appeals are now terminated at the first level of appeal, that is, the Courts of Appeals. He also reports that it appears the time of pendency from filing in the Courts of Appeals to disposition by the Courts of Appeals has been ten months or less. This is a marked improvement. But Judge Onion states further:

> The bad news concerns the 1,135 cases remaining out of the backlog left with the Court of Criminal Appeals on September 1, 1981 by S.B. 265. Most of these cases had taken some time in reaching the Court because of the preparation of the appellate record, filing of briefs, etc. Most had been pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals for some time on September 1, 1981, and now 16 months later are still pending because of the still overwhelming workload of the Court of Criminal Appeals. . . . Some of the backlog cases that are now being disposed of reflect the lapse of four or five years between the time of offense and final disposition on appeal. Thus delay continues to be one of the outstanding characteristics of a criminal case on appeal.

Judge Onion suggests two remedies to attack the remaining backlog--the appointment of two commissioners and another equalization of the criminal dockets.

On the downside, I report an unexpected growth in the number of criminal appeals. Both the Legislature and we made predictions two years ago of new filings upon the basis of experience during the previous four years. Three thousand, one hundred criminal appeals were predicted; there were in fact 5,653 or sixty-three percent more than anticipated. Then an additional 1,637 cases were transferred to the Courts of Appeals, so those courts faced 8,023 cases, 150% more than projected. We believe, however, that this phenomenon is not a long-range situation, because almost half of the large number of appealed criminal cases (2,943) were filed during the three months immediately after September 1, 1981, the effective date of the merger. By the end of the year, the filings had leveled out, but they were still 43% more than was projected in 1980.

[1] For more recent figures on numbers of judges, see the Profile of Appellate and Trial Judges located elsewhere in this Annual Report.

[2] For a more detailed analysis of 1982 appellate court activity, refer to the "Court Activity: Summaries and Analyses" section of this Annual Report.

During this same period, the filings of civil appeals has remained constant, but the early necessary attention of the judges to the old criminal docket is beginning to slow down the progress of appeals in civil causes in the Courts of Appeals. Those courts have more cases on their dockets today than they had two years ago because of the increased criminal appeals.

Minds are numbed by figures, but sound legislation cannot ignore them. It is my duty to report to you a bumper crop of actions filed in Texas. About 1.9 million cases have been added to the trial court dockets of the district and county courts in Texas since the last State of the Judiciary Address two years ago. That is almost a million filings a year. The equivalent of one person in fifteen in a two year period went to court. The fact that so many people rely upon the courthouse may well be the highest recommendation of the judiciary and the courts as the institution and the place that they have placed their confidence. Presently, 250 cases are on the docket of the Supreme Court.

This is the report on what has happened since the constitutional merger of the criminal and civil jurisdictions in the intermediate courts. It is not too bad for the first year, but it needs to improve.

MOVING DOCKETS

I find that all of us talk about the disposition of cases. We address the out-put of courts. There is an equally important and wholly neglected consideration that we should address. That factor is the in-put to the court dockets. Let us now address the in-put of cases and some ways to make the cases flow more swiftly.

Impact

We are familiar with the terms "fiscal impact" and "environmental impact." Courts cannot and were never intended to resolve all of the problems of mankind. Society has a way of casting problems with which they are weary, upon the courts by creating a new crime or action. Courts often become our culture's wastebasket. Every legislative session generates new causes of actions, remedies, and crimes. A stack of worthy bills is neither self-enacting nor self-enforcing. Some judge must eyeball every person who violates the new law.

Legislation impacts the need for more courtrooms, judges, bailiffs, court reporters, and appellate judges. Legislative impact costs money and when costs are created we do no service to the public by failing to tell you of our increased needs. You do yourselves no service by refusing to support the implementation of what you have created.

When you enacted, for example, the Deceptive Trade Practices Act, we obtained a new law that cut across existing contract, fraud, insurance, and warranty law. It simplified and modernized these fields of law. It also created new remedies that have dynamically impacted the law. I could give you scores of other examples.

I examined the first list of 108 pre-filed bills. Many of them will not succeed, but if all of them would be enacted, 57 of them would directly affect the workload of our courts. These docket influences are really hidden. Legislation impacts already overtaxed courts and hits the courts as surprise assignments. That is why we sometimes return to you and ask for new courts and increased support. Would it be feasible to attach to each bill a note about "Judicial Impact"?

Venue

Our venue laws are an extravagant waste of money for the State and litigants. In venue, the simple question is, where shall the case be tried? Archaic statutes require that the entire case be tried in a preliminary trial, which may be and often is appealed to one and perhaps two levels. That first trial settles only the place of the trial on the merits. In other words, the entire case is tried twice--once to decide where it will be tried and once to decide who wins. This waste of time of judges, court reporters, lawyers, jurors, and litigants is also costly in dollars. Texas generates more appeals on venue and writes more appellate decisions on that subject than all the other 49 states combined. It is almost impossible to try a multi-party action without dividing a case needlessly into multiple wasteful lawsuits. It surely should not take three court trials and two appeals just to determine whether part or all of a unified cause should be tried in Corpus Christi or 40 miles away in Kingsville.

Legislation ought to embody two simple principles for courts to follow in determining venue:

(1) Does the lawsuit have a rational relation to the place where the case is to be tried?

(2) Is there some factor connecting the defendant to the county in which he is to be sued?

In 1975, Representative Pike Powers introduced House Bill 771 in the 64th Legislature to simplify our venue statute. While this proposal passed the House of Representatives, it never came to a vote in the Senate. Limited efforts were made in the 1977 and 1979 Sessions to amend portions of the venue statute. Prior to the 1981 Regular Session, the House Judiciary Committee, under the Chairmanship of Representative Ben Z.

Grant, studied venue reform and recommended that the venue statute be amended along the lines of the earlier Powers bill.

Last Session, both Representative Bush and Senator Oscar Mauzy introduced bills to accomplish this purpose. The Senate bill was reported from committee but failed for lack of the necessary two-thirds vote.

The House Judiciary Committee has continued its study of venue and, I understand, has recommended House Bill 45 to you. It has been introduced in this Session by Representative Bush and is similar to his House Bill 909 of the last Session. The Texas Judicial Council voted its approval of these efforts several times in 1981 and 1982.

An alternate approach would be the adoption of House Concurrent Resolution 10 by Representative Bush. This would create a special interim committee composed of members of both houses of the Legislature to work with the State Bar and the Supreme Court in drafting rules of venue. A similar approach worked well in drafting the Rules of Evidence recently adopted by the Supreme Court.

A second alternative would be for the Legislature to repeal Article 1995, the venue statute, effective at some future date, conditioned upon the adoption by the Texas Supreme Court of proper rules for venue as authorized by article 1731a, the Rule Making Act.

This change would save money, not cost money. It would clean up trial and appellate dockets.

Tort Reparations

Many lawyers and judges are very concerned about the confusion that has developed in the trial of tort cases. At one time negligence cases clogged our dockets because the charge to the jury was extremely complex. That has been rectified, but we have fallen into a system in which negligence, products liability, and implied warranty cases, when joined in a single action, require different rules of statutory and substantive law for each theory. The actions inconsistently require variances about the kind of proof of fault, the kind of causation, the nature of defenses, whether defenses are proportionate or total, and whether contribution is on percentage of fault or prorated by number of parties. Present statutes compel this complexity, which could be simplified by a comparative fault act.

There is conflict between the provisions of article 2212a, the comparative negligence statute, and article 2212, the contributions statute. This conflict needs to be eliminated.

Court Reporter Delay

The Fifth Court of Appeals in Dallas recently studied its records to locate the causes of delays in the system. Their independent study confirmed that in felony cases the primary delay on appeal is the preparation of the record. The cause is the inability of court reporters to be two places at one time. Court reporters cannot prepare records for appeal when they are in court taking the records.

Court reporters are paid from county budgets and many counties do not provide sufficient numbers of reporters. The solution to the problem is technology. Technological court reporting methods are now available to complete the work within a week of the close of the trial. However, this comes at an expense that the individual counties cannot afford. At this point we recommend pilot programs in metropolitan counties to develop an efficient and reliable reporting system using the latest technology. When the system is proved effective, county funds could be attracted to a method that would be more economical than hiring more personnel to maintain the old system.

Better Use of Retired Judges

We have in Texas about 23 retired appellate judges who cannot now be used to work in appellate courts due to the lack of funding for such a program. Article 1812 authorizes the Chief Justice to assign active or retired justices to sit temporarily on any Court of Appeals. No funds have ever been appropriated for this service. Implementation of this plan would reduce the need to transfer many cases from one court to another, it would speed the disposition of several hundred cases annually, and it would save money by reducing the need for new judgeships and the accompanying liability for judicial retirement.

We ask that article 1812 be implemented so appellate judges may serve in the way retired judges now serve as trial judges. This has been recommended by the Texas Judicial Council.

Presiding Judge Onion recommends that the Legislature provide funds for that Court to appoint two commissioners who could attack the remaining backlog of old criminal cases on the docket. Article 1811e already empowers the Court to make the appointments. The Legislative Budget Board has also recommended appropriations for this purpose.

PREPARING FOR THE NEXT CENTURY

The Texas Code of Evidence

Senate Resolution 565 of the 67th Legislature established an interim committee to work "with the Supreme Court of Texas, the Texas Judicial Council, and the Committee on Administration of Justice of the State Bar of Texas to study codification of the Texas rules of evidence." In compliance with that Resolution, Lieutenant Governor Hobby appointed Senator Kent Caperton (Chairman), Senator Oscar Mauzy (Vice Chairman), and Senator Bob Glasgow. Chief Justice Joe Greenhill designated Justice Jim Wallace as the Supreme Court's member. Judicial Council President Ben Z. Grant appointed three members of the Texas Judicial Council, and past State Bar President Franklin Jones, Jr., appointed twenty members of the State Bar. The Committee consisted of the named senators, judges, professors and practicing lawyers.

The Committee was enlarged by State Bar President Wayne Fisher to include fifteen practitioners at the criminal bar.

It was soon determined that there were some necessary variances between the Code provisions for civil evidence and criminal evidence and that legislative authority had not been granted the Court of Criminal Appeals to promulgate rules of evidence.

On November 23, 1982, the Texas Supreme Court promulgated the Model Code of Evidence for civil trials. The Code has been transmitted to each of you. We regard the Code as an excellent product that will simplify the trial of cases.

It is recommended that a suitable Code applicable to criminal practice should also be promulgated. Much of the work has been done. The interim committee recommended that the Legislature empower the Court of Criminal Appeals to promulgate rules of evidence applicable to criminal cases. Presiding Judge Onion expresses the view that rule-making power concerning evidence would avoid many reversals and retrials.

Texas Rules of Civil Procedure

Pursuant to authorization by the Texas Legislature, the Texas Supreme Court, with the advice and assistance of the Committee on Administration of Justice, has revised, clarified, and simplified all of the discovery practices. The Court has met with the Supreme Court Advisory Committee and this product is now under final study by the Court. All of the other rules have also been combed, corrected, and simplified. The Supreme Court has those rules under final study. When this is completed, most of the rules originally promulgated in 1941 will have been revised and simplified.

Jurisdiction of Trial Courts

As we prepare for the end of the century, we need to re-examine the monetary jurisdictional requirements for all of our courts. We need to gather up the disparate statutes and to state uniform limits for all of the courts.

The Texas Municipal Courts Association suggests that the $200 limit on jurisdiction of municipal courts was a substantial sum in 1899 when the courts were created. Now the maximum fines of $200 no longer deter violations of significant city ordinances. Municipal courts hear theft and criminal mischief cases in which the property loss does not exceed five dollars. This is no longer realistic. We should examine the need for making municipal courts into small claims court as are justice of the peace courts.

Justice of the peace courts have jurisdiction up to $500 in some places while the same courts have jurisdiction up to $1,000 in others.

Small claims courts in 1953 were given concurrent jurisdiction in cases involving sums up to $150 in some cases but up to $200 in others. Thirty years of inflation have robbed the courts of jurisdiction they once had.

County courts and county courts at law confront strange anomalies in the patchwork of statutes. Jurisdictions vary from $200 to $5,000 with upper limits varying from $5,000 to $50,000. Within the same counties, the same kinds of courts have varying jurisdictional powers both in subject matter and amount.

District courts have jurisdiction that overlaps that of county courts and county courts at law. This defeats the intended relief of the district court dockets. The $500 starting point for district court jurisdiction was fixed by the Constitutional provision in 1876, the year that President Grant was in office.

This whole subject of jurisdiction for trial courts needs some serious study. Piecemeal legislation and even piecemeal correction leaves too much confusion.

Judicial Redistricting

To my knowledge there has been no state-wide judicial redistricting since the adoption of our present judiciary article in 1891. No doubt, the growth of our State will continue to require the addition of some new district courts periodically for some areas of the State. The mobility of the population in our State has left a few trial judges in geographic areas which do not generate many cases. If the Legislature chooses not to enter these waters, it may wish to consider a proposal made by the Texas Judicial Council almost 20 years ago and which I understand is now proposed by one committee of the State Bar. This proposal would establish a Judicial Districts Board which would act like the Legislative Redistrict Board now does if the Legislature fails to redistrict.

The Judicial Districts Board envisioned in this proposal would have an advantage over the Legislature in reapportioning judicial districts in that the Board would have a continuing power to act, and could act at any time in the intervals between regular sessions of the Legislature. The Board could take into account matters that arise from time to time, such as the anticipated retirement of particular district judges or the decisions of particular district judges not to seek re-election, and could reapportion such judicial districts with a minimum of harm to existing judges. The Board could designate different effective dates for different reapportionments on a piecemeal basis over a number of years, because it would not be necessary for all of the reapportionment to take effect at once. Through a continuing study of and attention to the problem, the board could reapportion the State on a step-by-step basis--a much needed improvement to our judicial system.

Alternatives to Judicial Decision Making

Chief Justice Warren Burger in his recent State of the Judiciary Address expressed concern that our courts could become inundated and rendered useless unless we now make plans for the future. We need to glue the system together rather than gum it up. I propose some alternatives to formal court trials that need study as we get ready for the end of this century.

We should de-law matters that should never have been thrust upon the courts. We are moving, however, in the opposite direction. Courts have become the repository for all kinds of non-legal problems--traffic, juvenile, family, neighborhood disputes. Every session of the Legislature creates and casts more new crimes and causes upon the courts for resolution. This also impacts the need for more judges, courts, support staff, law libraries, and clerks.

Neighborhood dispute centers are said to be the nation's newest "growth industry." 69 AMERICAN BAR JOURNAL 19 (Jan. 1983). The theory of the movement is to match the process with the dispute. We often provide a more elaborate process than the nature of the dispute demands. Complexity of process is often used as a substitute for thinking. An example is the waste of time and money in discovery proceedings. Houston is in its third year of development of this idea. I am informed by Chief Justice Frank Evans that the dispute center in Houston resolved 5,000 problems last year at no cost to the State.

We need to remove the incentive for delay. Some states have enacted laws that take the profit motive from delay of a case. The practice was that a knowingly liable party would estimate the amount of liability, place the amount in a reserve fund, and invest it to earn from 12 to 17 percent compounded interest up to the date of judgment. Since the law denied pre-judgment interest, it was an advantage to the liable party to delay the cause and receive as many interest payments as possible, all at the cost of the party who earns no interest until final judgment. The practice subsidized and invited extensive discovery or other delaying tactics.

A clogged docket invites delay and discourages settlements. Sanctions and penalties should cope with such use of the court system.

FUNDS NEEDED BY JUDICIARY

The Texas Judicial Council was created by article 2328a, for the purpose of making a continuous study of the courts, their procedures and methods. It is the Legislature's source of ongoing study. It has been very active since the adjournment of the 67th Legislature. Senator Farabee, Senator Mauzy, and Representative Bush are members of the Council. Honorable Ben Grant became a member as a Representative and as Chairman of the Judiciary Committee. It has submitted many proposals including: (1) merit selection of judges, or (2) alternatively, a nonpartisan election, or (3) alternatively, separate ballot columns for judicial races, (4) limitations on time to raise campaign funds, (5) amendments of article 1812 to permit assignment of justices to Court of Appeals, (6) increase of filing fees in courts of appeals, (7) increase the interest rate on judgments, (8) simplify the venue statutes, (9) grant power to Court of Criminal Appeals to adopt Model Code of Evidence in criminal cases, (10) amend article 35.17 concerning voir dire examination of jurors in criminal cases, (11) provide for support personnel for district judges, (12) the preservation and disposition of records of courts of appeals, (13) revise the proceedings of the Commission on Judicial Conduct concerning disclosure, (14) adopt a percentage relationship between judicial salaries, (15) statewide reapportionment of judicial districts, (16) revise the monetary limits of trial courts, and (17) add additional members to the Judicial Council.

Some of the recommendations were also developed in detail by the Interim House Select Committee on Judicial Selection, which disagreed with the Council on several matters, including the first three listed above.

Administrative Support

The state Office of Court Administration was established in 1977 to provide administrative support to the courts of this State and especially to the Supreme Court in discharging its many administrative duties. It serves as the secretariat to the Texas Judicial Council and to the Texas Court Reporters Committee and in so doing provides considerable savings over that which would be required if these two state agencies had their own separate administrative staffs.

During the past two years this office has concentrated on providing aid to the 14 Courts of Appeals in their transitional period from being specialized civil appellate courts to general intermediate appellate courts handling both civil and criminal cases. During this period it has aided these courts in obtaining automated word and data processing equipment, and trained the personnel of these courts in the use of this equipment. It has developed separate automated case management, budget and accounting, and payroll systems for these courts. It has developed the software programs for these courts and thus saved the taxpayers an estimated several hundred thousands of dollars which would have been spent if each court would have had to purchase this type of software program independently.

I urge you to provide this Office with appropriations sufficient to allow it to continue the invaluable support to our appellate courts and also to allow it to begin to provide this same type of assistance to the trial courts of our State.

Judicial Education

Elections, retirements and promotional appointments produce annual changes in the judiciary. New judges are usually willing and very industrious, but the management of all kinds of cases from the bench requires an entirely new set of skills. A Canadian justice recently said, "A judge who is ignorant and industrious . . . is an unqualified disaster."

The Texas Center for the Judiciary provides continuous educational training in a variety of areas for more than 1,200 Texas judges and court personnel. An in-depth curriculum at regional seminars is presented by lecturers and jurists who provide supporting papers for daily use as bench books. The Center has conferences scheduled in February and running almost monthly thereafter, for the training of judges, court administrators, briefing attorneys, and appellate clerks. The Center's week-long Texas College for New Judges trains new judges. It has provided instruction for more than 275 new judges. The Center provides a variety of scholarly court manuals on procedure and substantive law.

The Texas Center was founded in 1974 with Law Enforcement Assistance Administration funds granted to the State of Texas through the Governor's Criminal Justice Division. When those funds were discontinued the Texas Center became a non-profit, tax-deductible corporation and is now operated by a grant from the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office. The funds for this grant were made possible by passage of S.B. 127 at the last Session of the Legislature. The requested budget for judicial education is $647,000 and it is hoped the Legislature will ensure that the courts get a fair share of the grant monies available. While the Center is considered a state agency by the Criminal Justice Division, it is actually serving the local needs of the judiciary. Every trainee judge goes back to his or her district to serve the local community.

The Justice of the Peace Training Center conducts mandatory training courses for non-lawyer justices of the peace.

Municipal court judges, by authority of article 1200f, enacted in 1977, also have a training program on paper. No funding has ever been provided for the program. The municipal courts generate 58 percent of the funds for the Criminal Justice Planning Fund. While their grant applications have been approved, no funds have ever been made available for their training. Over 700 cities and towns have municipal courts.[3] Less than 49 percent of our municipal judges are attorneys, and it is to those courts that more than six million people were summoned in 1981. The Municipal Courts Association will seek legislation from this Legislature to fund training for Municipal Court personnel. I urge its passage.

Access to the Courts

The proposed Effective Assistance of Counsel Act is urgently needed if we in Texas are going to comply with the constitutional mandate of the right to counsel.

For several years now, the bench and the bar have generally recognized that there are serious deficiencies in provisions for representation of the indigent accused. This is, of course, a matter of constitutional dimension. At the last session, the Legislature adopted remedial measures contained in House Bill 1143, only to see it vetoed. During the past year, a special committee of the State Bar of Texas went back to work on the problems. It produced and the State Bar has approved a comprehensive set of proposals to improve assistance of counsel to the poor in criminal cases.

Noteworthy provisions call for a public defender system in every county that locally opts to have one--to supplement the court-appointed counsel program--a more definitive formulation for compensation of appointed counsel, and creation of an indigent defense fund from slightly increased court costs in criminal cases.

Unemployment has increased the number of people who exist on a subsistence income. The denial of their legal rights is frightening when it relates to employment, health care, housing, and family abuse. In the transition to increased state responsibility for human needs through block grants, the Legislature should ensure that decision-making is open and fair and that all persons involved in the process receive due process.

The new idea this nation contributed to government is that the law is enthroned and should rule all of us equally. This does not happen when the law is not even available to large segments of our communities. Low income Texans must have equal access to the courts, but we are not yet providing that access.

The Legal Services budget was reduced in Texas from $25 million to $17 million in 1982. Programs throughout Texas had to close offices. Destitute Texans are truly destitute when they have rights that they cannot assert. The judiciary, the bar, and the Legal Services programs have joined forces to develop several innovative programs, one of which is Texas Lawyers' Care. It encourages pro bono or volunteer lawyer programs. Successful programs exist in Austin, Houston, Laredo, San Antonio, Dallas, Corpus Christi, Fort Worth, and El Paso. A volunteer program cannot, however, compensate for the loss of federal funding.

The crisis can be met by adoption of the Texas Equal Access to Justice Act. This innovative civil legal assistance program for the poor would require no additional tax, would cost the State nothing, and would not necessitate calling on Washington for help. It would be funded by interest earned on lawyer trust accounts. The program is now operating in about ten states. This legislation should be enacted.

Needs of District Judges

The State pays the salaries of district judges, but the county pays the salaries of the bailiffs, court reporters, clerks, and secretaries. A district judge in Texas has nobody who can type a letter for him. Judges must rely upon the court reporter or must perform these secretarial and clerical duties themselves. When the court reporter becomes the uncompensated secretary for the judge, we are delaying the preparation of records for appeal. This system also diverts the judge from his tasks of trying cases and making decisions. Judges should be free to do what they are elected to do--to try cases, resolve disputes, and make justice available to everyone--and to do so quickly. We save no money when we keep judges absorbed in administrative and clerical duties writing letters by hand and doing non-judicial functions.

[3] For more recent figures on numbers of judges, see the Profile of Appellate and Trial Judges located elsewhere in this Annual Report.

A support personnel allowance for each district judge to use as needed would expedite the disposition of cases.

Needs of the Courts of Appeals

The Texas Legislature on the last day of the 1981 Session adopted the extensive legislation that merged criminal and civil jurisdiction in the 14 Courts of Appeals. Twenty-eight new judgeships were added to the Courts of Appeals. Appropriations were made to cover the salaries of the added justices and some of the more urgent needs.

The lateness in the Session prevented an estimate of the other needs of those courts, so the House adopted H.R. No. 29, which requested the Office of Court Administration of the Texas Judicial System, in cooperation with the House Judicial Affairs Committee, to study the personnel and equipment needs of the Courts of Appeals.

The Courts of Appeals during the past two years have been able to identify the specific needs occasioned by the change of jurisdiction and the flood of new cases on their dockets. They know, as all of us know, that staff and modern equipment are the most economical way to defeat the accretion of new backlogs of appellate cases. This is not a budget presentation, but a summary of those things that the last Session knew it had not but must supply.

The study now made shows that the prevention of a new glut in the appellate dockets requires (1) two briefing attorneys for each judge, (2) a central staff attorney for each three judges of each court, (3) automated word and data processing equipment, and (4) additional secretarial help in each court.

Correlation of Judicial Salaries

The 1981 Legislature began the practice of correlating the salaries of different levels of judges instead of setting salaries independently. This is sound. Section 76 of S.B. 265 of the last Regular Session made statutory the policy that salaries of Courts of Appeals justices would be set at ten percent less than that of Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals judges.

Proposed legislation would extend this policy to district court judges. The proposal is that Courts of Appeals justices would receive five percent and district judges would receive ten percent less than that of Supreme Court justices and Court of Criminal Appeals judges.

This concludes, for now, my remarks about our needs. Judicial matters that require funds cannot be handled without funds. The judiciary does not need a large slice of the budget dollar. If the total State budget were reduced to a symbolic $100, the total cost of the entire third branch of government would account for only 28 cents. Chief Justice Burger has said that Americans spend more money for peanut butter than the total cost of the judicial system. I do not know where the figures came from, however, my predecessor expressed it by saying that Texans spend more money painting white lines down the center of highways than they do for their judiciary. I now add my own comparison: if every budget request sought by the judiciary were granted, it would be less than the utility and maintenance bill of the University of Texas at Austin.

CONCLUDING REMARKS

Law and the administration of justice touch every facet of our complex society and lives. What happens in our courtrooms constitutes the thin line in all of our communities between peace and anarchy. Judges need no armies or navies to enforce their judgments, because our judgments have been self-enforced by the consent of the governed. So long as the governed and those whose causes are adjudicated can see courts that fairly, equally, conscientiously, and diligently administer the common law, the laws you legislate, and the Constitutions, that thin line will be safe.

I paraphrase today on behalf of this third branch of government, what Oliver Wendell Holmes said 60 years ago:

> Law is the business to which our lives are devoted, and we should show less than devotion if we did not do what in us lies to improve it, and, when we perceive what seems to us the ideal of its future, if we hesitate to point it out and to press toward it with all our heart.

COURT STRUCTURE OF TEXAS

Descriptive Outline

January 1, 1983

The appellate courts of Texas include a Supreme Court, a Court of Criminal Appeals, and 14 intermediate Courts of Appeals.

The state trial courts of general jurisdiction are the district courts. Additionally, the Texas Constitution provides for a county court in each county, presided over by a county judge. To relieve the docket congestion of this single "constitutional" county court, the Legislature has established county courts at law and probate courts in populous counties.

The Constitution also provides for a minimum of four justice of the peace courts in each county. These justice courts also serve as small claims courts. The Legislature has established municipal courts in each incorporated city of the State.

DISTRICT COURTS

1. NUMBER OF COURTS: 347.

2. JURISDICTION: There are 347 separate district courts, identified by separate numbers, each having its own judge and geographical jurisdiction. In a number of areas, the geographical jurisdiction of two or more district courts is overlapping.

   District courts are trial courts of general subject-matter jurisdiction. They have original jurisdiction of all felony criminal prosecutions, suits for divorce, suits over title to land, election contests, all civil suits with an amount in controversy of at least $500, and all other cases where jurisdiction of the subject-matter of the case is not vested in some other court. County courts at law and "constitutional" county courts also exercise limited subject-matter jurisdiction over civil suits and thus to a limited extent, share jurisdiction with the district courts. Several statutes stipulate various maximum amounts in controversy over which the various county-level courts may exercise jurisdiction. To the extent that such "dollar amount" jurisdiction coincides with the district court, the two courts have concurrent jurisdiction. Such concurrent jurisdiction of the district and county courts begins with suits involving $500 and extends to the maximum amount stipulated by the applicable statute pertaining to the individual county-level court. Above such maximum jurisdictional amount of the county-level court, the district court exercises exclusive jurisdiction.

   The district courts hear contested matters involved in probate cases and have general supervisory control over commissioners courts. In addition, these courts have general original jurisdiction over all causes of action for which a remedy or jurisdiction is not provided by law or by the Constitution, and have the power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, certiorari, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, and all writs necessary to enforce their jurisdiction.

   Most district courts exercise both criminal and civil jurisdiction, but in the metropolitan areas there is a tendency for the courts to specialize in either civil, criminal or family law cases. In some cases, the courts that hear criminal cases exclusively are designated criminal district courts.

   A limited number of district courts also have the subject-matter jurisdiction normally exercised by county courts.

   Appeals from judgments of the district courts are to the Courts of Appeals, except those cases in which the death penalty has been assessed, which are appealed directly to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

3. SEATS: At the county seat of each county included in each respective geographical district.

4. MEMBERSHIP:
   a. Number: One judge per court.
   b. Selection: Partisan, district-wide elections. Vacancies between elections are filled by gubernatorial appointment with the advice and consent of the Senate.
   c. Qualifications: Citizen of the United States and of Texas; resident of the district for two years; licensed to practice law in Texas and a practicing lawyer or judge for four years.
   d. Salaries paid by the State:
      eff. 9-1-82 $50,900
      Supplements authorized by statute may be paid by counties, ranging to $18,500 per year. Total salary must be $1,000 less than received by associate justices of the Courts of Appeals of the supreme judicial district.
   e. Term: Four years.

"CONSTITUTIONAL" COUNTY COURTS

1. NUMBER OF COURTS: 254.

2. JURISDICTION:
   a. Legal jurisdiction: The Texas Constitution establishes one county court in each of the 254 counties of the State, but not all such courts exercise judicial functions. The county court has civil, criminal, original and appellate jurisdiction. It has concurrent legal authority with justice of the peace courts in civil cases when the contested amount is $200-$500, and it has concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district court in cases when the amount exceeds $500 but is less than $1,000. The county court also usually has general control over probate cases. In criminal cases, the county court has exclusive original jurisdiction over all misdemeanors when the fine to be imposed exceeds $200 or when a jail sentence may be imposed.

Unless expressly provided by law, the county court does not have criminal jurisdiction in any county where a criminal district court exists. Decisions from the municipal and justice of the peace courts may be appealed to the county court, and the appeal takes the form of a completely new trial (trial de novo). Appeals from municipal courts of record are an exception, where the county court reviews only the written record from the trial.

Original and appellate judgments of the county court may be appealed to the Court of Appeals.

b. Geographical jurisdiction: County-wide.

3. SEATS: County seat of county of jurisdiction.

4. MEMBERSHIP:
   a. Number: One judge per court.
   b. Selection: County-wide, partisan election with vacancies between elections filled by county commissioners.
   c. Qualifications: "Shall be well-informed in the law of the State." (Law license unnecessary.)
   d. Salaries: Paid entirely by the county. Highly variable.
   e. Term: Four years.

Note: The commissioners court is not a judicial entity; rather it is the governing body of the county. It is presided over by the constitutional county judge and includes four elected commissioners. Although it performs no judicial duties, the commissioners court can issue certain writs and contempt citations.

COUNTY COURTS AT LAW

1. NUMBER OF COURTS: 122.

2. JURISDICTION:

a. Legal jurisdiction: Under the constitutional provision which authorizes the Legislature to establish such other courts as it may deem necessary and to prescribe the jurisdiction of such courts, the Legislature has established 121 statutory county courts at law in 49 counties, primarily in metrpolitan areas, to relieve the constitutional county judge of all or part of his judicial duties. One additional court will become effective on January 1, 1984, or earlier if approved by the commissioners court. The legal jurisdiction of the special county courts varies considerably according to the statute under which they are created.

Some of these courts are intended to exercise subject-matter jurisdiction in only limited fields, such as civil, criminal, probate or appellate (from justice courts or municipal courts). The concurrent civil jurisdiction of these statutory courts with the district court is higher than constitutional county courts.

b. Geographical jurisdiction: County-wide.

3. SEATS: County seat of county of jurisdiction.

4. MEMBERSHIP:
   a. Number: One judge per court.
   b. Selection: County-wide, partisan election with vacancies between elections filed by county commissioners.
   c. Qualifications: Vary according to court-creation statute. Some include two to five years' experience as practicing attorney and requirement of residence in county.
   d. Salaries: Paid entirely by the county. Highly variable.
   e. Term: Four years.

1. NUMBER OF ACTIVE COURTS: 958.

2. JURISDICTION: The Texas Constitution provides that each county is to be divided into at least four, and not more than eight justice precincts, in each of which shall be elected one justice of the peace, provided that if the precinct includes a city of 8,000 or more inhabitants, one additional justice of the peace shall be elected from such precinct.

Justice of the peace courts have original jurisdiction in criminal cases when punishment is by fine only not to exceed $200. They have jurisdiction of civil matters when the amount in controversy does not exceed $500. A justice of the peace may issue warrants of search and arrest, conduct preliminary hearings, serve as ex officio notary public, perform marriages, and serve as coroner in counties where there is no provision for a medical examiner. The justice court also functions as a small claims court in disputes over unpaid wages and salaries when the contested amount does not exceed $200 and in controversies over uncollected bills when the amount does not exceed $150.

3. SEATS: Determined by county commissioners.

4. MEMBERSHIP:
   a. Number: One judge per court.
   b. Selection: Partisan elections by voters of respective precincts.
   c. Qualifications: No statutory provision.
   d. Salaries: Paid entirely by the county. Highly variable.
   e. Term: Four years.

MUNICIPAL COURTS

1. NUMBER OF ACTIVE COURTS: 1,005.

2. JURISDICTION: By a general statute, the Legislature has created a municipal court in each of the incorporated cities of the State. Presently, municipal courts are operating in approximately 800 cities and towns. Metropolitan cities usually have more than one municipal court. These courts have neither civil nor appellate jurisdiction, but they have original and exclusive jurisdiction over violation of city ordinances. The municipal courts also have concurrent jurisdiction with justice of the peace courts in misdemeanor cases resulting from violations of state laws within the city limits(predominately traffic offenses) when punishment is limited to fines only of $200 or less. Municipal judges also serve as magistrates of the State.

   Trial in all but seven municipal courts are not of record, with appeals therefrom going to the county court, the county court at law, or the district court, upon trial de novo. The municipal courts of El Paso, Houston, Longview, Lubbock, Midland, Sweetwater, and Wichita Falls are courts of record with appeals on the record perfected in the municipal court.

3. SEATS: Determined by the city or town.

4. MEMBERSHIP:
   a. Number: Generally, one court per municipality and one judge per court. Statutes allow some city governing bodies to establish more than one court and/or more than one judge per court.
   b. Selection: Elected or appointed by the governing body of the city as provided by city charter or ordinance.
   c. Qualifications: Determined by the governing body of the city.
   d. Salaries: Paid entirely by the city. Highly variable.
   e. Term: Varies from one year to an indefinite term, often at the will of the governing body of the city.

TEXAS JUDICIAL SYSTEM

Subject-Matter Jurisdiction

January 1, 1983

INTRODUCTION

The basic structure of the present court system of Texas was established by an 1891 constitutional amendment. The amendment established the Supreme Court, which is the highest state appellate court for civil matters, and the Court of Criminal Appeals, which makes the final determination in criminal matters. There are now 14 intermediate Courts of Appeals which, since September 1, 1981, exercise intermediate appellate jurisdiction in both civil and criminal cases. Prior to that date, these courts had jurisdiction in intermediate civil appellate cases only.

The state trial courts of general jurisdiction are the district courts, of which there are 347. (Ten of these courts are designated "Criminal District Courts," but, as will be noted later, only three are strictly limited to criminal cases on the district level.)

The geographical jurisdiction of each district court is established by the specific statute creating that court and that jurisdiction does not necessarily correspond to the jurisdiction of any previously-established court. Each court has one judge. The State pays the base salary of each judge and some limited expenses of the judge.

In addition to these state courts, the Texas Constitution provides for a county court in each county, presided over by the county judge, who also serves as head of the county commissioners court, the governing body of the county. To relieve the docket of the single "constitutional" county court, the Legislature has established statutory county courts at law in 49 counties. As of January 1, 1983, there are nine probate courts and 110 county courts at law. Three additional courts have been authorized by the Legislature but were not in operation during 1982.

The Texas Constitution also provides for not less than four nor more than eight justice of the peace courts in each county. Today there are approximately 968 justice of the peace courts statewide. Since 1953, these courts have also served as small claims courts.

By statute, the Legislature has created municipal courts in each incorporated city in the State. These courts have original jurisdiction over violations of municipal ordinances and concurrent criminal jurisdiction with the justice of the peace courts over state law violations, limited to the geographical confines of the municipality. Municipal courts do not have civil jurisdiction.

Trials in the justice of the peace and municipal courts (with seven exceptions) are not of record, and appeals therefrom are by trial de novo to the county court, except in certain counties as noted later where the appeal is to a county court at law or to a district court.

Jurisdiction of the various levels of courts is established both by constitutional provision and by statute. Statutory jurisdiction of the courts is established by general statutes providing jurisdiction for all courts on a particular level, as well as by the statute establishing the individual court. Thus, to determine the jurisdiction of any one particular court, recourse must be had first to the Constitution, second to the general statutes establishing jurisdiction for that level of court, third to the specific statute authorizing the establishment of the particular court in question, and fourth to statutes dealing with specific subject matters, such as the Family Code, which requires judges who are lawyers to hear appeals from actions by non-lawyer judges in juvenile cases.

The State provides full funding for the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, and the Court of Appeals located in Austin. It provides a base salary for the appellate and district judges of Texas. Certain counties supplement this base salary for district and Court of Appeals judges. Counties pay the costs of "constitutional" county courts, county courts at law, justice of the peace courts, and the operating costs of district courts except for the base salary of the judge. The cities finance the operation of municipal courts.

H.B. 656 of the 67th Legislature, the general appropriations bill, appropriated $48,376,713 for the operations of the judiciary--including the Judicial Retirement System--in fiscal year 1983. This represents 0.36 of one percent of the $13,500,991,862 total state budget for fiscal year 1983.

APPELLATE COURTS

The appellate courts of the Texas Judicial System are: 1) the Supreme Court, which is the highest state appellate court for civil and juvenile cases; 2) the Court of Criminal Appeals, which is the highest state appellate court for criminal cases; and 3) the 14 Courts of Appeals, which are the intermediate appellate courts for both civil and criminal appeals from the trial-level courts.

Appellate courts do not try cases, have jurors, or hear witnesses. Rather, they review actions and decisions of the lower courts on questions of law or allegations of procedural error. In carrying out this review, the appellate courts are usually restricted to the evidence and exhibits presented at the trial court level.

The Supreme Court

The Supreme Court of Texas was first established by the Constitution of the Republic of Texas, which vested the judicial power of the Republic in "...one Supreme Court and such inferior courts as the Congress may establish." This Court was re-established by each successive constitution adopted throughout the course of Texas history. The various constitutions and amendments thereto, however, provided for different numbers of judges to sit on the Court and different methods for the selection of the judges. The Constitution of 1845 provided that the Supreme Court consist of a Chief Justice and two associate justices. The Constitution of 1866 provided for five justices, and the Constitution of 1869 reverted to a three-judge court; the Constitution of 1873 increased the number to five, and the Constitution of 1876 again reduced the membership to three. To aid the three justices in disposing of the ever increasing workload, the Legislature created two "Commissions of Appeals," each to consist of three judges appointed by the Supreme Court. This system, begun in 1920, continued until the adoption of the constitutional amendment of 1945 which abolished the two Commissions of Appeals and increased the number of justices on the Supreme Court to nine, the present number.

A constitutional amendment adopted in 1980 provides:

> The Supreme Court shall exercise the judicial power of the state except as otherwise provided in this Constitution. Its jurisdiction shall be co-extensive with the limits of the State and its determinations shall be final except in criminal law matters. Its appellate jurisdiction shall be final and shall extend to all cases except in criminal law matters and as otherwise provided in this Constitution or by law.

Thus, the Supreme Court of Texas has statewide final appellate jurisdiction in most civil and juvenile cases. In cases of slander, divorce, and certain other civil matters, the opinion of the Courts of Appeals is usually final. The Supreme Court is empowered to make and enforce all necessary rules of civil practice and procedure for the judicial system and to promulgate rules of administration to provide for the efficient administration of justice in the State. The Court has original jurisdiction to issue writs and to conduct proceedings for the involuntary retirement or removal of all judges in the State.

In addition to its major responsibilities of hearing oral arguments, deciding cases appealed to it, and writing opinions, the Supreme Court has many administrative duties placed upon it by the Legislature to ensure the efficient administration of justice by the Texas Judicial System. These duties include: 1) promulgating the Rules of Civil Procedure for the Texas Judicial System (article 1731a); 2) promulgating rules of administration for the Texas Judicial System (article 2328b); 3) equalizing the dockets between the 14 Courts of Appeals (article 1738); 4) promulgating the rules of procedure for the Commission on Judicial Conduct, and disciplining or removing judges from office (article V, section 1-a, Tex. Const.); 5) supervising the operations of the State Bar of Texas and the rules and regulations for the admission, discipline, supervision, and disbarment of lawyers, and approving the law schools of the State (articles 304, 306, 320a-1); 6) promulgating disciplinary rules for the Texas Prosecutors Council (article 332d); and 7) promulgating the rules for the operation of the Texas Court Reporters Committee and the disciplinary rules enforced by this Committee (article 2324b).

The Chief Justice has the responsibility to: 1) confer with the presiding judges of the administrative judicial districts to promote the prompt dispatch of judicial business (article 200a); 2) assign judges between administrative judicial districts (article 200a); 3) assign retired appellate justices to the various Courts of Appeals on a temporary basis; and, 4) deliver a "State of the Judiciary" message at the commencement of each regular session of the Legislature (article 5429h).

The Supreme Court is composed of one Chief Justice and eight justices, who are elected in partisan elections on a state-wide basis for six-year terms of office. Vacancies between elections are filled by gubernatorial appointment with the advice and consent of the State Senate, until the next general election. To be eligible to serve as a justice of this Court, a person must be licensed to practice law in this State, be a citizen of the United States and of the State of Texas, be at least 35 years of age, and have been a practicing lawyer, or a lawyer and judge of a court of record together, for at least ten years.

The Court of Criminal Appeals

To relieve the Supreme Court of some of its caseload, the Constitution of 1876 created the Court of Appeals, composed of three elected judges, with appellate jurisdiction in all criminal cases and in those civil cases tried by the county courts. The judiciary article that was created by the constitutional amendment of 1891 changed the name of this court to the Court of Criminal Appeals and limited its jurisdiction to appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases only.

The constitutional amendment adopted in 1980 provides: "The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have final appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of the State, and its determination shall be final, in all criminal cases of whatever grade, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be provided in this Constitution or as prescribed by law." The jurisdiction of this Court extends to criminal cases heard by the intermediate Courts of Appeals and directly from the trial courts in all cases in which the death penalty has been imposed. In addition, the Legislature has authorized this Court to promulgate "rules of post trial and appellate procedure" in criminal cases.

The Court of Criminal Appeals, as originally established, was composed of three judges. As its workload increased, the Legislature granted it the authority to appoint commissioners to aid in the disposition of pending cases. The number of judges on the Court was increased to five by a constitutional amendment adopted in 1966, and was again increased to nine by another constitutional amendment adopted in 1977.

Today, the Court of Criminal Appeals consists of a Presiding Judge and eight additional judges, who must have the same qualifications, and are elected in the same manner, as the justices of the Supreme Court.

The Courts of Appeals

The first intermediate appellate court in Texas was created by the Constitution of 1876, which created a Court of Appeals with appellate jurisdiction in all criminal cases and in all civil cases originating in the county courts. However, by 1891, the docket of the Supreme Court had become so crowded that it became apparent that other changes were necessary to expedite the disposition of appellate cases. Thus, the amendment of 1891 converted the Court of Appeals into the Court of Criminal Appeals and authorized the Legislature to establish intermediate Courts of Civil Appeals located at various places throughout the State. The purpose of this amendment was to preclude the large quantity of civil litigation from further congesting the docket of the Supreme Court, while at the same time providing for a more convenient and less expensive system of intermediate appellate courts for civil cases. Under this authority, the Legislature has divided the state into 14 "Supreme Judicial Districts" and has established a Court of Appeals in each district. (See map and list of counties in each district located on the following page.) These courts are located in the following cities: Houston (two courts), Dallas, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Beaumont, Texarkana, Amarillo, Tyler, Eastland, Waco, Austin, and Fort Worth.

Each court has jurisdiction of appeals from the trial courts located in the same Supreme Judicial District. The appeals heard in these courts are based upon the "record" (a written transcription of the testimony given, exhibits introduced, and the documents filed in the trial court) and the written and oral arguments of the appellate lawyers. The Courts of Appeals do not receive testimony or hear witnesses in considering the cases on appeal. In cases of slander, divorce, and certain other civil matters, the opinion of these courts is usually final.

Each of the Courts of Appeals has at least three judges--a chief justice and two associate justices. However, the Legislature is empowered to increase this number whenever the workload of an individual court requires additional judges. Presently, the Dallas Court of Appeals has 13 judges, the two courts located in Houston (the First and the Fourteenth) each have nine judges, the court located in San Antonio has seven, the courts located in Austin, Corpus Christi, and Fort Worth each have six, the courts located in El Paso and Amarillo each have four, and the remaining courts each retain the constitutional minimum number of three. Presently there is a total of 79 judges assigned to the 14 intermediate Courts of Appeals.

Judges of these courts are elected in partisan elections for six-year terms of office by the voters in their own districts. They must have the same qualifications for office as the justices of the Supreme Court of Texas.

TRIAL COURTS

The trial courts are those courts in which witnesses are heard, testimony is received, exhibits are offered into evidence, and a verdict is rendered. In a civil case, the verdict determines which party to the lawsuit prevails; in a criminal case, the verdict determines whether the defendant is guilty or not guilty of the crime alleged. In all cases, the parties have the right to a trial by a jury of either six or twelve citizens of the locale. Except in capital murder cases, the parties have the right to waive a trial by jury and have the judge presiding over the case make the final determination. Determinations made in the trial courts can be appealed to the appellate courts for review.

The trial court structure in Texas has several different levels, each level handling different types of cases. The state trial court of general jurisdiction is known as the district court. The county level courts consist of the "constitutional" county courts, the "statutory" county courts at law, and the probate courts. In addition, there are the municipal courts, located in each incorporated city of the State, and the justice of the peace courts, located in precincts of each county of the State.

District-Level Courts

The district courts are the primary trial courts in Texas, the successor to the common law nisi prius courts. The Constitution of the Republic provided for not less than three nor more than eight district courts, each having a judge elected by a joint ballot of both houses of Congress for a term of four years. Most constitutions of the State continued the district courts but provided that the judges were to be elected by the qualified voters. The exceptions were the Constitutions of 1845 and 1861 which provided for the appointment of judges by the Governor with confirmation by the Senate. All of the constitutions have provided that the judges of these courts must be chosen from defined districts (as opposed to state-wide election) and that court proceedings be conducted at the county seat of each county.

The district courts are the general trial courts for the State, having original jurisdiction in all criminal cases of the grade of felony, cases of divorce, title to land, contested elections, and all civil matters wherein the amount in controversy is $500 or more. This jurisdiction is concurrent with the "constitutional" county court in cases involving less than $1,000. In those counties having statutory county courts at law, the district courts usually have exclusive jurisdiction in civil cases wherein the amount in controversy is $5,000 or more and concurrent jurisdiction with the statutory county courts at law in cases where the amount in controversy exceeds $500 but is less than $5,000.

The district courts have original and appellate jurisdiction in probate matters and general supervisory control over commissioners courts. In addition, district courts have general original jurisdiction over all causes of action for which a remedy or jurisdiction is not provided by statute or by the Constitution, and have the power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, certiorari, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, and all writs necessary to enforce their jurisdiction.

Appeals from judgments of the district courts are to the Court of Appeals having jurisdiction over the locale of the district court.

As of January 1, 1983, the Legislature will have established 347 separate district-level courts, identified by separate numbers, each having its own judge and geographical jurisdiction. In a number of locations, the geographical jurisdiction of two or more district courts is overlapping. The judges of these courts are elected by the voters of the judicial district. The qualifications for office include being a citizen of the United States and of Texas, a resident of the judicial district for at least two years, and a practicing lawyer or judge for at least four years.

Most district courts exercise both criminal and civil jurisdiction, but in the metropolitan areas there is a tendency for the courts to specialize in either civil, criminal, or family law matters. In some localities, the courts that exercise criminal jurisdiction exclusively are designated criminal district courts. A limited number of district courts also exercise the subject matter jurisdiction normally exercised by county courts.

Specialized Jurisdiction

The Supreme Court has repeatedly held that the Legislature cannot reduce the constitutional jurisdiction of a district court. Lord v. Clayton, 163 Tex. 62, 352 S.W.2d 718 (1961); Zamora v. State, 508 S.W.2d 819 (Tex. Crim. App. 1974); Ex Parte Richards, 137 Tex. 520, 155 S.W.2d 597 (1941); Reasonover v. Reasonover, 122 Tex. 512, 58 S.W.2d 817 (1933); St. Louis S. W. Ry. v. Hall, 98 Tex. 480, 85 S.W. 786 (1905). See also, Castro v. State, 124 Tex. Crim. 13, 60 S.W.2d 211 (1933), and dissenting opinion in Ex Parte Bazemore, 430 S.W.2d 205 (Tex. Crim. App. 1968). In Lord v. Clayton, the Supreme Court held that although the statute creating the 136th District Court of Jefferson County expressly limited its jurisdiction to civil cases, and other legislation purported to give exclusive jurisdiction in criminal cases to the Criminal District Court of Jefferson County, the 136th Court was nevertheless a constitutional district court with full power to impanel a grand jury, receive an indictment, and try the accused.

Presently, the state statutes purport to limit the jurisdiction of 17 district courts to civil matters only:

17th (Tarrant) - arts. 199(17), 199(153)
44th (Dallas) - art. 1926-11
48th (Tarrant) - arts. 199(17), 199 (153)
58th (Jefferson) - arts. 199(58), 199(136)
60th (Jefferson) - arts. 199(58), 199(136)
67th (Tarrant) - arts. 199(17), 199(153)
68th (Dallas) - art. 1926-11
95th (Dallas) - art. 1926-11
96th (Tarrant) - arts. 199(17), 199(153)
101st (Dallas) - art. 1926-11
116th (Dallas) - art. 1926-11
134th (Dallas) - art. 1926-11
136th (Jefferson) - arts. 199(58), 199(136)
153rd (Tarrant) - arts. 199(17), 199(153)
156th (Aransas, Bee, Live Oak, McMullen, San Patricio) - art. 199(156)

The constitutional power to establish "other courts" (Tex. Const. art. V, sec. 1) apparently does authorize the Legislature to establish special district courts with criminal jurisdiction only. Ex Parte Richards, 137 Tex. 520, 155 S.W. 2d 597 (1941). A statute limiting the jurisdiction of a district court to criminal matters was recognized by a court of civil appeals. Cook v. Nelius, 498 S.W.3d 455 (Tex. Civ. App. - Houston [1st District] 1973, no writ). In a similar situation, the Court of Criminal Appeals did not comment on the question. Pittman v. State, 434 S.W.2d 352 (Tex. Crim. App. 1968).

Several district courts have been created with their jurisdiction so limited, but at this time only three courts are limited to exclusively criminal district-level jurisdiction:

Criminal District Court No. 1 of Tarrant
County (arts. 1926-41, 1926-42a)
Criminal District Court No. 2 of Tarrant
County (art. 1926-43)
Criminal District Court No. 3 of Tarrant

One is limited to criminal, divorce, dependent and neglected children, adoption, and civil habeas corpus proceedings:

Criminal District Court of Jefferson County

As will be noted later, other "Criminal District Courts" cannot be categorized as having only district-level criminal jurisdiction because they also have concurrent jurisdiction with county-level courts in certain matters.

While the courts have ruled that the Legislature may not limit the jurisdiction of regular district courts, the statutes in various ways express the intention of the Legislature that certain district courts give primary attention to only a portion of those matters over which they have jurisdiction.

Three courts are instructed to "give preference" to criminal cases and the statutes further provide that only criminal cases are to be filed in those courts:

144th (Bexar) - art. 199(37)
175th (Bexar) - art. 199(37)
187th (Bexar) - art. 199a, sec. 3.014

In the same manner, seven district courts are directed by statute to give preference to civil cases and only civil cases are to be filed in those courts:

37th (Bexar) - art. 199(37)
45th (Bexar) - art. 199(37)
57th (Bexar) - art. 199(37)
73rd (Bexar) - art. 199(37)
131st (Bexar) - art. 199(37)
150th (Bexar) - arts. 199(37), 199(150)

Perhaps less stringent is the simple statutory instruction that certain courts are to "give preference" to certain matters, with no further restrictions. Thirty-seven courts are thus instructed to give preference to criminal cases:

105th (Nueces) - art. 199(105)
107th (Cameron, Willacy) - art. 199(107)
138th (Cameron, Willacy) - art. 199(138)
147th (Travis) - art. 199(147)
182nd (Harris) - art. 199a, sec. 3.010
183rd (Harris) - art. 199a, sec. 3.011
184th (Harris) - art. 199a, sec. 3.012
185th (Harris) - art. 199a, sec. 3.013
194th (Dallas) - art. 199a, sec. 3.021
195th (Dallas) - art. 199a, sec. 3.022
197th (Cameron, Willacy) - art. 199a, sec. 3.024

205th (Culberson, El Paso, Hudspeth) - art. 199a, sec. 3.032
207th (Caldwell, Comal, Hays) - art. 199a, sec. 3.035(b)
208th (Harris) - art. 199a, sec. 3.036
209th (Harris) - art. 199a, sec. 3.037

227th (Bexar) - art. 199a, sec. 3.054

The 65th Legislature (1977) converted all functioning domestic relations and special juvenile courts to district courts of general jurisdiction. However, these 31 courts are to have primary responsibility for cases involving family law matters:

The other statutory provision observed above--that of limiting the types of cases which can be filed in a particular court--is used alone in several instances. Such a restriction is probably not mandatory on the clerk of the court. Lord v. Clayton, 163 Tex. 62, 352 S.W.2d 718 (1961).

The statutes provide that in 14 courts, civil cases only are to be filed:

11th (Harris) - art. 199(11)
55th (Harris) - art. 199(11)
61st (Harris) - art. 199(11)
80th (Harris) - art. 199(11)

164th (Harris) - art. 199(11)

In six courts, only criminal cases are to be filed:

Finally, for one court, the Legislature has specified that criminal and tax cases only shall be filed:

49th (Webb) - art. 199(111) 13

As noted above, some 113 statutory county courts at law and nine probate courts have been created, largely in metropolitan areas. While the jurisdiction of these courts is generally carved out of that given to the "constitutional" county courts, the statutes specify in a few instances that certain jurisdiction normally in the district court is to be exercised concurrently by the county court at law and the district court.

Four county courts at law are given concurrent civil jurisdiction with the district courts in specified family law matters:

County Court at Law No. 1 of Lubbock County
(art. 1970-340)
County Court at Law No. 2 of Lubbock County
(art. 1970-340.1) 14
County Court at Law of Orange County
(art. 1970-349A)
County Court at Law of Webb County
(art. 1970-360)

Five county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in specified family law matters and civil cases when the matter in controversy does not exceed $10,000:

County Court at Law of Randall County
(art. 1970-371)
County Court at Law of Reeves County
(art. 1970-373)

(art. 1970-373)
County Court at Law of Wichita County
(art. 1970-166d)

Nine county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in specified family law matters and civil cases when the matter in controversy does not exceed $20,000:

County Court at Law No. 4 of Travis

Two county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in specified non-jury family law matters and civil cases when the matter in controversy does not exceed $20,000:

County Court at Law No. 1 of Tarrant County
(art. 1970-33) 17
County Court at Law No. 2 of Tarrant County
(art. 1970-62.2)

Two county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in specified family law matters and civil cases when the matter in controversy does not exceed $50,000:

Probate and County Court of Galveston County (art. 1970-342) 19
County Court at Law of Tom Green County (art. 1970-369)

Thirteen county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in civil cases when the matter in controversy does not exceed $20,000:

County Court at Law of Hunt County (art. 1970-354)
County Court at Law No. 2 of Victoria County (art. 1970-356a) eff. 1-1-84 or earlier as determined by the county commissioners

Finally, the statute creating one criminal district court provides that it shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the county courts at law in the county in matters of county court criminal jurisdiction:

Criminal District Court of Jefferson County (art. 1926-61) 21

A wide variety of statutory changes has been made blurring the line between district court level jurisdiction and county court level jurisdiction.

In ten counties, all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, except probate, has been transferred to the district court:

Bowie (5th, 102nd, 202nd District Courts) - art. 1970-306
Cass (5th District Court) - Acts 1879, ch. 25, p. 21; Acts 1971, ch. 273, p. 1198 22
Jones (259th District Court) - art. 199a, sec. 3.085(b)
Mason (33rd District Court) - Acts 1887, ch. 73, p. 54
Robertson (20th District Court) - Acts 1917, ch. 96, p. 256
Shackelford (259th District Court) - art. 199a, sec. 3.085(b) 22
Stephens (90th District Court) - art. 1970-321
Webb (49th, 111th District Courts) - Acts 1893, ch. 9, p. 5

All civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, except for probate matters, and the jurisdiction to receive guilty pleas in misdemeanor cases has been transferred to the district court in five counties:

Baylor (50th District Court) - Acts 1981, ch. 794. p. 3039
Cottle (50th District Court) - Acts 1981, ch. 794, p. 3039
Eastland (91st District Court) - art. 1970-141a 23
Knox (50th District Court) - Acts 1981, ch. 794, p. 3039
King (50th District Court) - Acts 1981, ch. 794, p. 3039

In another county, all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, except in probate matters, has been transferred to the district court, and the two levels of courts have been granted concurrent jurisdiction to receive guilty pleas in misdemeanor cases:

Marion (115th, 276th District Courts) - Act 1887, ch. 36, p. 38; arts. 1970-322a; art. 199a, sec. 3.102 24

In another county, all civil cases, except those involving probate matters, and all criminal cases appealed from the justice and municipal courts have been transferred to the district court, and the county and district courts have concurrent jurisdiction in cases in which the county court would have had original criminal jurisdiction:

Red River (102nd District Court) - art. 1970-314a 25

All civil jurisdiction of the county court, except in probate matters, has been transferred to the district court in six counties:

Glasscock (118th District Court) - art. 1970-320 and Acts 1957, ch. 196, p. 399
Mills (35th District Court) - Acts 1887, ch. 97, p. 109; Acts 1907, ch. 101, p. 199
Navarro (13th District Court) - art. 1970-326 26
Sabine (1st, 273rd District Courts) - Acts 1959, 2nd C.S. ch. 7, p. 90
San Augustine (1st, 273rd District Courts) - Acts 1959, 2nd C.S., ch. 7, p. 90
Wichita (89th District Court) - art. 1970-166b

Rather than transfer jurisdiction absolutely from the county court to the district court, the Legislature in several instances has given both the district and county courts concurrent jurisdiction in certain matters.

Seven district courts have concurrent criminal jurisdiction with the county court in matters normally in the county court:

207th (Caldwell) - art. 199a, sec. 3.035(b)
Criminal District Court of Dallas County - art. 1926-21
Criminal District Court No. 2 of Dallas County - art. 1926-21
Criminal District Court No. 1 of Tarrant County - art. 1926-41
Criminal District Court No. 2 of Tarrant County - art. 1926-43
Criminal District Court No. 3 of Tarrant County - art. 1926-44
Criminal District Court No. 4 of Tarrant County - art. 1926-45

27

In four counties, the district and county courts have concurrent jurisdiction in all matters normally vested solely in the county court:

Hill (66th District Court) - arts. 1970-333; 1970-33a
Johnson (18th District Court) - art. 1970-335
VanZandt (294th District Court) - art. 199a, sec. 3.120
Wood (294th District Court) - art. 199a, sec. 3.120

County-Level Courts

The county courts were established by the Constitution of 1836. They were presided over by a chief justice, who was appointed by the Congress of the Republic of Texas for a term of four years. This continued from 1836 to 1841, when the office was made elective. The term was shortened to two years in the Constitutions of 1845 and 1861. Under the Constitution of 1866, the name of the presiding officer of the court was changed from chief justice to county judge, and the term of office was again established at four years.

The county court was abolished by the Constitution of 1869, but was re-established by the Constitution of 1876 with an elected presiding officer, the county judge, with a two-year term. The term of office was increased to four years by a constitutional amendment adopted in 1954.

Today, the Texas Constitution provides for a county court in each county. Generally speaking, "constitutional" county courts have concurrent jurisdiction with justice of the peace courts in civil cases wherein the amount in controversy is $200 or more, and less than $500, general jurisdiction over probate cases, and exclusive original jurisdiction over all misdemeanors whose punishment for the offense upon conviction is by fine exceeding $200 or where a jail sentence not to exceed two years may be imposed. However, the county courts do not have criminal jurisdiction where a criminal district court exists unless expressly authorized by statute (Tex. Const. art. V, sec. 16). County courts generally have appellate jurisdiction over cases tried originally in the justice of the peace and municipal courts upon trial de novo.

Original and appellate judgments of the county courts may be appealed to the Courts of Appeals. The Constitution provides that the county judge "shall be well informed in the law of the State ..." This has been interpreted to mean that neither formal study of the law nor a license to practice law is a necessary qualification to hold office as county judge. Presently, of the 254 county judges in the state, approximately one-fourth are licensed to practice law. Under its constitutional authorization to "...establish such other courts as it may deem necessary...[and to]...conform the jurisdiction of the district and other inferior courts thereto," the Legislature has created "statutory" county courts, primarily in metropolitan counties, to provide assistance to the single "constitutional" county court which is authorized for each county. Effective January 1, 1984, the Legislature will have created a total of 122 of these statutory courts in 49 counties to relieve the county judges of some or all of the judicial duties of office.

Under the constitutional grant of authority the Legislature has established the following county courts at law:

The judges of these statutory courts are elected in county-wide, partisan elections for a four-year term of office, with any vacancies occurring between elections being filled by appointment of the county commissioners. The statutes creating these courts have uniformly required that the persons serving as judges of these courts must be licensed to practice law in this State. Presently, all judges at this level are licensed attorneys.

The legal jurisdiction of the special county courts varies considerably and is determined by the specific statute that establishes the particular court. As the varied names suggest, some of these courts have subject-matter jurisdiction in only limited fields, such as civil, criminal, probate, or appellate (from justice courts or municipal courts); however, even the specialized name does not always disclose the complete function of the court. The concurrent civil jurisdiction of the county courts at law with the district courts extends to a higher dollar amount in controversy than for "constitutional" county courts, but to determine the exact jurisdiction of any one of the courts, it is necessary to review the specific statute that established it.

*Authorized but not active as of 1-1-83.

Authorized for future effective date.

In general, county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with district courts in civil matters where the amount in controversy is at least $500 and not more than $5,000. Other jurisdiction of a county court at law is, broadly speaking, either carved out of the "constitutional" county court's regular jurisdiction or shared with it (concurrent).

The jurisdiction of county courts at law and their relation to the "constitutional" county courts take many forms. In the creation of three county courts at law, all civil, criminal and probate jurisdiction of the county court was transferred to the county court at law:

County Court at Law of Houston County
(art. 1970-365)
County Court at Law of Nacogdoches County 29
(art. 1970-361)
County Court at Law of Reeves County
(art. 1970-373)

In the creation of 25 county courts at law, all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court was transferred to the county court at law and it was provided that the courts would have concurrent jurisdiction in probate matters:

County Court at Law of Anderson County
(art. 1970-377)
County Court at Law No. 4 of Bexar County
(art. 1970-301e.1)
County Court at Law No. 6 of Bexar County
(art. 1970-301f)

(art. 1970-359)

One county court at law was created to exercise concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in all civil and criminal matters that had earlier been transferred from the county court to the district court. The county court at law and county court have concurrent probate jurisdiction:

County Court at Law of Comal County 31
(art. 1970-368)

The Legislature provided, in the creation of four county courts at law, that all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, except probate, was transferred to the county court at law, and that the judge of the county court at law could "act for" the constitutional county judge in probate matters:

County Court at Law No. 2 of Bexar
County (art. 1970-301)
County Court at Law No. 3 of Bexar
County (art. 1970-310d)
County Court of Jefferson County at Law 32
(arts. 1970-112, 1970-113)
County Court of Jefferson County at Law
No. 2 (art. 1970-126a)

For four county courts at law, all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, except probate, was transferred to the county court at law:

County Court at Law No. 1 of Bexar County
(arts. 1970-64, 1970-301)
County Court at Law No. 5 of Bexar County
(art. 1970-301e.1) 33
County Court at Law of Grayson County
(art. 1970-332)
County Court at Law of Taylor County
(art. 1970-343)

In one instance, all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court was transferred to the county court at law, the courts have concurrent jurisdiction in probate and the county court at law is instructed to give preference to original jurisdiction criminal cases:

County Court at Law No. 1 of Nueces County 34
(arts. 1970-339, 1970-339A, 1970-339C)

Similarly, another county court at law in the same county was transferred all civil and criminal jurisdiction of the county court, the courts have concurrent jurisdiction in probate and the county court at law is instructed to give preference to civil cases and criminal cases appealed from courts of inferior jurisdiction:

County Court at Law No. 2 of Nueces County (arts. 1970-339A, 1970-339C) 35

For six county courts at law, all civil jurisdiction of the county court, except probate, was transferred to them:

County Civil Court at Law No. 1 of Harris County (art. 1970-110d)
County Civil Court at Law No. 2 of Harris County (art. 1970-110d)
County Civil Court at Law No. 3 of Harris County (art. 1970-110e) 36

In two counties, concurrent jurisdiction may be exercised by the "constitutional" county court and the county court at law in all matters except probate, of which the county court retains exclusive jurisdiction:

County Court at Law of Nolan County (art. 1970-347) 38
County Court at Law of Potter County (art. 1970-311a)

Two county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with the "constitutional" county court in criminal, probate and juvenile cases, but not in civil cases up to $500, of which the county court retains exclusive jurisdiction:

County Court at Law No. 1 of Montgomery County (art. 1970-363) 39
County Court at Law No. 2 of Montgomery County (art. 1970-363a)

In one county, concurrent jurisdiction may be exercised by the "constitutional" county court and the county court at law in all matters except civil cases up to $500, of which the county court retains exclusive jurisdiction. The county court at law may exercise probate and mental health jurisdiction only when the county judge is absent or unable to handle proceedings in those matters:

County Court at Law of Wichita County (art. 1970-166d) 40

Six of the county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with the "constitutional" county court in all matters except probate:

County Court of Dallas County at Law No. 1 (art. 1970-3)
County Court of Dallas County at Law No. 2 (art. 1970-16)
County Court of Dallas County at Law No. 3 (art. 1970-31.1)

County Court of Dallas County at Law No. 5 (art. 1970-31.2)
County Court at Law of Henderson County (art. 1970-366)(inactive)

Two county courts at law were created with the proviso that they and the county court were to have concurrent jurisdiction in all matters, but that no probate cases were to be filed in the county court at law:

County Court No. 1 of Galveston County (art. 1970-342a)
County Court No. 2 of Galveston County (art. 1970-342b)

In three counties, the probate jurisdiction of the county court has been vested in specialized probate courts. The statutes creating seven of these probate courts provide that they are to have concurrent probate jurisdiction only with the "constitutional" county court:

Probate Court of Dallas County (art. 1970-31a)
Probate Court No. 2 of Dallas County (arts. 1970-31a, 1970-31b)
Probate Court No. 3 of Dallas County (art. 1970-31c)

Probate Court of Tarrant County (art. 1970-345)
Probate Court No. 2 of Tarrant County (art. 1970-345a)

One probate court has concurrent jurisdiction only with the "constitutional" county court and is to have "primary" responsibility at all times for all mental illness proceedings:

Probate Court No. 3 of Harris County (art. 1970-110a.3)

Another specialized probate court, however, has concurrent jurisdiction with the "constitutional" county court in all matters, but only probate cases are to be filed in the probate court:

Probate and County Court of Galveston (art. 1970-342)

Some county courts at law have been created primarily to handle criminal cases. Most of these (22) are limited to criminal cases, concurrent with the "constitutional" county court:

County Criminal Court of Dallas County (art. 1970-31.10)
County Criminal Court No. 2 of Dallas County (art. 1970-31.11)

County Criminal Court No. 1 of Tarrant County (art. 1970-62a)
County Criminal Court No. 2 of Tarrant County (art. 1970-62b)

Four county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with the "constitutional" county court in criminal matters, and further, have sole jurisdiction of appeals from justice of the peace and municipal courts:

County Criminal Court of Appeals of Dallas County (art. 1970-31.20)
County Criminal Court of Appeals No. 2 of Dallas County (art. 19870-31.12)

Justice of the Peace Courts

The position of justice of the peace was established by the Constitution of the Republic which provided for a "convenient number of Justices of the Peace" to be elected by the qualified voters of each county, for terms of two years. This office has been retained in all subsequent constitutions, although the jurisdiction of these courts has been severely restricted in later constitutions.

The justice of the peace is important in the capacity as a committing magistrate, with the authority to issue warrants for the apprehension and arrest of persons charged with the commission of public offenses, both felonies and misdemeanors. As a magistrate, the justice of the peace may hold preliminary hearings, reduce testimony to writing, discharge the accused, or remand the accused to jail and fix bail. In addition, the justice of the peace serves as the coroner in those counties where there is no provision for a medical examiner, serves as an ex officio notary public, and may perform marriage ceremonies.

The Texas Constitution provides that each county is to be divided into at least four, and not more than eight, justice precincts, in each of which is to be elected a justice of the peace. If the precinct includes a city of 8,000 or more inhabitants, an additional justice of the peace is authorized. Approximately 968 justice of the peace courts are in operation today.

Justices of the peace are elected by the voters of the respective precincts of the county in partisan elections for four-year terms of office. There are no constitutional or statutory qualifications to hold this office and less than ten percent of the approximately 968 justices of the peace in the State are lawyers.

Justice of the peace courts have original jurisdiction in criminal cases where punishment upon conviction may be by fine only, not to exceed $200. These courts generally have exclusive jurisdiction of civil matters when the amount in controversy does not exceed $200, and concurrent jurisdiction with the county courts when the amount in controversy is from $200 to $500. The justice of the peace courts also function as small claims courts in disputes over unpaid wages and salaries where the contested amount does not exceed $200 and in controversies over money or for money damages where the amount does not exceed $150.

Trials in justice of the peace courts are not of record. Appeals from these courts are upon trial de novo in the county court, the county court at law, or the district court.

A constitutional amendment adopted in 1978 provides that the Legislature may grant these courts concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts and county courts at law in matters wherein the amount in controversy does not exceed $1,000. This provision has been implemented only for those justice of the peace courts located in counties with a population of two million or more (Harris County):

County Court at Law No. 3 of Nueces County (art. 1970-339C)

52

Municipal Courts

Under its constitutional authority to create "...such other courts as may be provided by law," the Texas Legislature has created municipal courts in each incorporated city of the State.

Presently, municipal courts are operating in approximately 799 cities. Metropolitan cities usually have more than one municipal court. These courts have neither civil nor appellate jurisdiction, but do have original and exclusive jurisdiction over violations of city ordinances. The municipal courts also have concurrent jurisdiction with justice courts in misdemeanor cases resulting from violations of state laws occurring within the city limits, when punishment upon conviction may be by fine only, not to exceed $200.

Municipal judges also serve as magistrates of the State. In this capacity, the municipal judge has authority to issue warrants for the apprehension and arrest of persons charged with the commission of public offenses, both felonies and misdemeanors. As a magistrate, the municipal judge may issue search and arrest warrants, hold preliminary hearings, reduce testimony to writing, discharge an accused, or remand the accused to jail and fix bail.

Trials in the municipal courts, except seven, are not of record, and appeals go to the county court, the county court at law or the district court upon trial de novo.

By special statutes, the following municipal courts were made "courts of record":

El Paso
Houston
Longview
Lubbock
Midland
Sweetwater
Wichita Falls

In these municipal courts, a formal record and transcript is made of the proceedings in the trial and appeals of these cases are made on the record perfected in the municipal courts. The statutes creating these municipal courts of record uniformly require the judge to be licensed to practice law in this State. No such provision is required of the other municipal judges, and of the approximately 1,005 municipal judges in this state, less than one-half presently are licensed as attorneys.

Selection and terms of office of municipal court judges vary from city to city. While in a few of the smaller cities of the State, municipal judges are elected at city elections, the vast number are appointed by the governing body of the city. Terms of office range from two years to an indefinite term--at the will of the governing body.

JUDICIAL AGENCIES

Office of Court Administration

The Office of Court Administration of the Texas Judicial System was established by article 2328b, V.T.C.S., in 1977. The Office operates under the direction and supervision of the Supreme Court of Texas and is charged by this statute with implementing the provisions of article 2328b and any rules of administration or other rules promulgated by the Supreme Court to provide for the efficient administration of justice in this State. The statute specifically provides for the following duties to be performed by this office: assist the justices and judges of the various courts and the administrative judges in discharging their administrative duties; to study and make recommendations for the improvement of the administrative and business methods employed by the courts; to consult with the judges, clerks, and court coordinators to improve the administration of justice; and prepare and submit budget estimates of state appropriations necessary for the maintenance and operation of the judicial branch of government. This office is headed by an Administrative Director, appointed by the Supreme Court, who, as an additional statutory duty of office, serves as the Executive Director of the Texas Judicial Council and provides the necessary staff for the efficient operation of the Council.

Texas Judicial Council

The Texas Judicial Council was established in 1929 by article 2328a, V.T.C.S. Its membership is composed of: 1) the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, or their designees from among the membership of their respective courts; 2) two justices of the Courts of Appeals; 3) two presiding judges of the administrative judicial districts; 4) the chairmen and immediate past chairmen of the House Judiciary Committee and Senate Jurisprudence Committee; 5) seven members of the bar appointed by the Governor; and 6) two nonlawyer citizens, one of whom must be a journalist, each appointed by the Governor.

The Council makes a continuous study of the organization and operation of the courts of the State, their rules and methods of procedure, and the administration of justice; receives and considers suggestions from the judiciary, the bar, and the public; formulates methods of simplifying judicial procedure; gathers civil and criminal judicial statistics; conducts investigations on the administration of justice; and makes a detailed report of its proceedings, recommendations, and suggestions to the Legislature, to the Governor, and to the Supreme Court. The Council receives monthly reports from all courts of the State and publishes an annual report on the state of the judiciary, including statistical data on the state of the dockets.

Article 200a, V.T.C.S., establishes nine administrative judicial districts in the State for administrative purposes. An active or retired district judge or an active or retired appellate judge with judicial experience in a district court serves as the Presiding Judge, in each such district upon appointment by the Governor.

The Presiding Judge convenes an annual conference of the judges in the administrative district to consult on the state of business in the courts. This conference is empowered to adopt rules for the administration of cases in the district. The Presiding Judge may assign active or retired district judges residing within the administrative district to any of the district courts within the administrative district. The Presiding Judge of one administrative district may request the Presiding Judge of another administrative district to assign a judge from that district to sit in a district court located in the administrative district of the Presiding Judge making the request.

The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas convenes an annual conference of the nine Presiding Judges to determine the need for assignment of judges and to promote the uniform administration of the assignment of judges. The Chief Justice is empowered to assign judges of one administrative district for service in another whenever such assignments are necessary for the prompt and efficient administration of justice.

[1] Replacing Paul Peurifoy, who resigned, effective 5-7-82.
[2] Replacing Ross E. Doughty, whose term expired, effective 9-2-82.

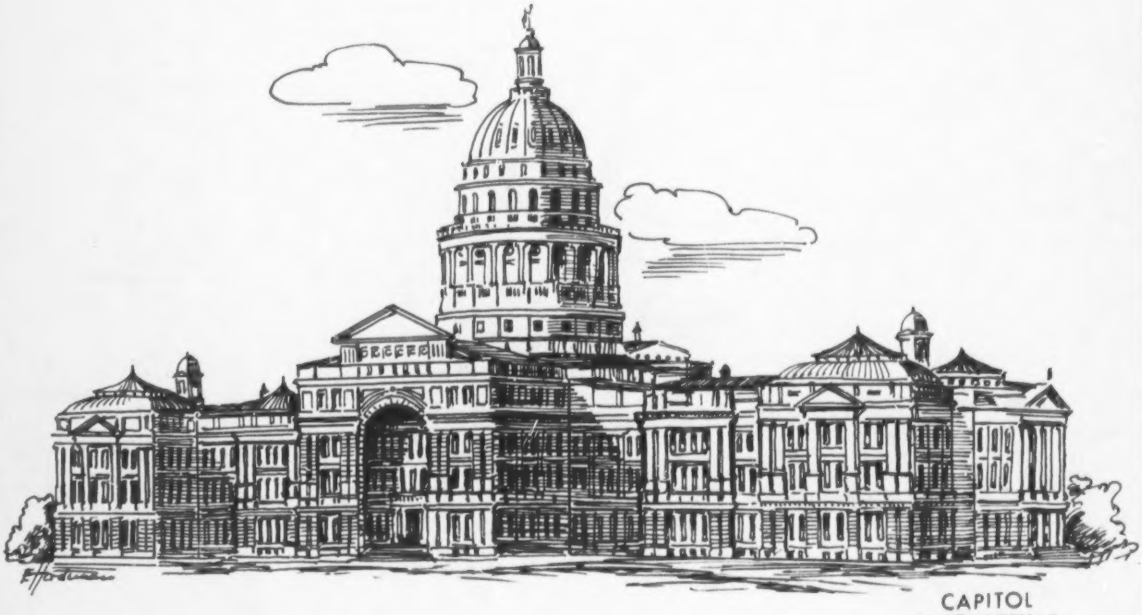
JUDICIAL BRANCH: REPORTS AND DEVELOPMENTS



CAPITOL

TEXAS JUDICIAL COUNCIL

Article 2328a, V.T.C.S.

Creation; purposes

Section 1. There is hereby created the Texas Judicial Council for the continuous study of and report upon the organization, rules, procedure and practice of the judicial system of the State of Texas, the work accomplished and the results produced by that system and its various parts, and methods for its improvement.

Classes of members

Sec. 2. The Council shall be composed of two classes of members, one designated as ex-officio, and the other as appointive.

Ex officio members

Sec. 3. The ex officio members of the Council shall consist of the following: (1) the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, who shall remain a member as long as he holds the position of Chief Justice; (2) the Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, who shall remain a member as long as he holds the position of Presiding Judge; (3) two Justices of the Courts of Appeals, to be designated by the Governor for overlapping four-year terms, one to be designated in January, 1971, for a four-year term and one to be designated in January, 1973, for a four-year term with the replacement in each case to be designated by the Governor in January of odd-numbered years; (4) two presiding judges of the administrative judicial districts, to be designated by the Governor for four-year terms, one to be designated in January, 1971, for a four-year term and one to be designated in January, 1973, for a four-year term, with the replacement in each case to be designated by the Governor in January of odd-numbered years; (5) the Chairman and the immediate past Chairman of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee; and (6) the Chairman and the immediate past Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court may from time to time designate some other Justice of that Court to act in his stead, and at his pleasure, as member of the Council. The Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals may from time to time designate some other Judge of that Court to act in his stead, and at his pleasure, as member of the Council. The foregoing references to justices and judges, other than the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, include respectively such retired justices and judges of the same grade as are legally eligible for assignment to part-time judicial duties. In the event the Chairman of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee or the Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee is reappointed to such position, his immediate predecessor shall continue to serve on the Council as immediate past Chairman, it being the intent of the Legislature that two members of the Senate and two members of the House be at all times members of the Council; provided, however, that in the case of legislative members, cessation of membership in the Legislature shall not terminate their membership on the Council, but they shall continue to serve for their full term notwithstanding their cessation of membership in the Legislature. In the event of a vacancy in a legislative membership, such vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired term only by the presiding officer of the appropriate house of the Legislature, and vacancies in other official memberships shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment and for the unexpired term only. Ex officio members of the Council shall be entitled to all the privileges of full membership thereon and shall be regarded and treated in every respect as full members thereon.

Appointive members; tenure; quorum

Sec. 4. The appointive members of the Council shall consist of nine resident citizens of the State of Texas, seven of whom shall be members of the State Bar of Texas and two of whom shall be persons not licensed to practice law, including at least one who is by profession a journalist. The Governor of Texas shall select the appointive members of the Council for six-year overlapping terms, three to be appointed to serve until July 1, 1975, three to serve until July 1, 1977, and three to serve until July 1, 1979, and thereafter their successors shall be appointed for terms of six years; provided that appointive members of the Council holding office on the effective date of this Act shall continue in office for the balance of the term to which they were appointed, and their successors shall be selected in the manner and for the term herein provided. Vacancies in the appointive membership of the Council shall be filled by appointment of the Governor for the unexpired term only.

All members of the Council shall continue to serve until their successors have been appointed and qualified.

Five members of the Council shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business of the Council.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the Council:

1. To make a continuous study of the organization of the courts; the rules and methods of procedure and the practice of the judicial system of the State; of the work accomplished, the results attained and the uniformity of the discretionary powers of the courts, to the end that procedure may be simplified, business expedited, and justice better administered.

2. To receive and consider suggestions from judges, public officers, members of the bar, and citizens, touching remedies for faults in the administration of justice.

3. To formulate methods for simplifying judicial procedure, expediting the transaction of judicial business, and correcting faults in the administration of justice.

4. To gather judicial statistics and other pertinent data from the several judges and other court officials of the State.

5. To make a complete detailed report, on or before December 1st of each year, to the Governor and to the Supreme Court of all its proceedings, suggestions and recommendations, and such supplemental reports from time to time as the Council may deem advisable. All such reports shall be considered public reports and may be given to the press as soon as filed.

6. To make investigations and reports upon such matters, touching the administration of justice as may be referred to the Council by the Supreme Court or the Legislature.

7. To hold one meeting in each calendar year, and such other meetings as may be ordered by the Council or under its authority, and at such time and place as may be designated by it or under its authority.

Powers of council

Sec. 6. The Council shall have power:

1. To hold public meetings or hearings, by and through committees of three or more of its members, require the production of books and documents, require reports from the several courts of this State, including courts not of record, as may be deemed necessary, to administer oaths and take testimony.

For the purposes of any hearing, any Council officer, in advance of such hearing, or any Council member or officer sitting at such hearing, may issue under his official signature and cause to be served by registered or certified mail or by any adult person upon any prospective witness, a subpoena or like appropriate order. Upon the failure of a witness to testify, or upon his failure to appear or to produce books and documents as so ordered, any district judge of the county of residence of such witness shall, on written motion by, or on behalf of, the Council or Committee conducting said hearing, compel said witness to testify or, as the case may be, to appear and testify, by the same means, including attachment and penalties, whereby said judge may compel the testimony and appearance of witnesses in the trial of a cause pending in his own court.

2. To elect from its membership a president and such other officers as it may deem advisable; provided the secretary need not be a member of the Council; and provided further that the president of the Council may appoint, for and during his term as president, such committees as he may deem necessary for the proper organization of the Council.

3. To make such rules and regulations as it may deem expedient for its government and that of its officers and committees; and to prescribe the duties of its officers and committees.

4. To appoint committees from its membership, and charge such committees with such of its duties and delegate to such committees such of its powers as it may deem proper.

5. To require the supplying of statistical data and other information pertaining to the amount and character of the civil and criminal business transacted by the courts of this State and other information pertaining to their conduct and operation; and to prescribe procedures and forms for the supplying of such statistical data and other information.

It shall be an official duty of every justice, judge, clerk or other officer of every court of this State to comply with the reasonable requirements of the Council for the supplying of statistical data appertaining to the amount and character of the business transacted by his court and of such other information concerning said court or the office of the clerk thereof as may be within the scope of the functions of the Council. Failure to supply such data or information within a reasonable time after request therefor shall be presumptively deemed a willful refusal to supply the same.

Due performance of the duty to supply data and information as aforesaid shall be enforceable by writ of mandamus, the corresponding actions for which shall be brought, and the corresponding courts shall have jurisdiction of the same, as follows: if against a district clerk or a clerk, judge or other officer of a trial court other than a district court, in a district court of the county of residence of the respondent; if against a district judge or clerk of a court of civil appeals, in the Court of Civil Appeals for the Supreme Judicial District in which the respondent resides; in all other cases, in the Supreme Court of Texas. The Attorney General of Texas shall file and prosecute the foregoing actions on behalf of the Council upon its written request, which shall be presumptively taken as the action of the Council if signed by its president or by as many as five of its members; but no such action shall be filed if the attorney general shall in writing certify his opinion that the same is without merit.

Compensation limited to traveling and necessary expenses

Sec. 7. No member of the Council shall receive any compensation for his services as such member, but shall be paid for actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties as such member, to be paid upon verified, itemized account approved by the President of the Council or by a Vice President thereof when so authorized in writing by the President. The necessary clerical expenses of the Council and its officers and committees shall be paid in like manner.

Partial invalidity

Sec. 8. If any section or portion of any section of this Act shall for any reason be declared invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any other section or portion of section of this Act.

REPORTS OF JUDICIAL AGENCIES

Texas Judicial Council

The Texas Judicial Council was established in 1929 by article 2328a, V.T.C.S., to make a ". . . continuous study of and report upon the organization, rules, procedure and practice of the judicial system of the State of Texas, the work accomplished and the results produced by that system and its various parts and methods of its improvement." In addition, the Council maintains statistics on docket activity of the courts of the State; conducts studies on methods to improve the administration of justice; formulates methods of simplifying judicial procedures; and makes a detailed report upon the proceedings of the Council to the Governor, the Legislature, and the Supreme Court.

Three meetings of the Texas Judicial Council were held during 1982--on February 19, June 11, and October 15.

Membership of the Council

Council membership is composed of: 1) the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, or their designees from among the membership of their respective Courts; 2) two justices of the Courts of Appeals; 3) two presiding judges of the administrative judicial districts; 4) the chairman and immediate past chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee; 5) seven members of the bar appointed by the Governor, and 6) two non-lawyer citizens, one of whom must be a journalist.

The Hon. Ben Z. Grant, Judge of the 71st District Court in Marshall, presently serves as President of the Judicial Council. He has served in that position since July 1980. Before being elected to the bench in November 1980, Judge Grant had served for ten years as a member of the Texas House of Representatives. During that tenure, he served for three terms as chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, and is serving as a member of the Council as a result of that service.

Also serving as officers of the Council are the Hon. Charles W. Barrow, Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, Vice President, and the Hon. Tom G. Davis, Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, Secretary.

Legislative members of the Council are: State Sen. Oscar Mauzy, Chairman of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee; State Sen. Ray Farabee, immediate past Chairman of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee; and State Rep. Robert Bush, Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

Members from the Courts of Appeals are: the Hon. Sam Bass, Associate Justice, First Court of Appeals; and the Hon. Paul C. Murphy, Associate Justice, Fourteenth Court of Appeals.

Members who are presiding judges of administrative judicial districts are: the Hon. Ray L. McKim, Seventh Administrative Judicial District; and the Hon. Charles J. Murray, Eighth Administrative Judicial District.

Attorney members are: the Hon. Joe Spurlock, II, Associate Justice, Second Court of Appeals; the Hon. John L. McCraw, Jr., District Judge, 219th Judicial District; Mr. L.E. Frazier, Houston; Mr. Mark Martin, Dallas; Hon. Abner McCall, President, Baylor University; Mr. Alan McNeill, Beaumont; and Hon. Robert O. Smith, Austin.

Lay members are: Mr. Harold Hudson, Perryton newspaper editor; and Mr. A. M. Vogel, Houston businessman.

Professional Education for Municipal Judges

Article 1200f, V.T.C.S., directs the Council to encourage the development of courses for the continuing legal education of municipal judges; to promulgate rules and guidelines for the courses and the accreditation of such courses; and to submit an annual report on this program to the Governor, the Attorney General, and the city attorneys of the cities of those judges who have not attended an accredited course. The Council is empowered to grant waivers from the provisions of the law to individual judges. An accreditation committee composed of Judge Tom G. Davis, Chairman, Chief Justice William J. Cornelius, and Justice Joe Spurlock, II, was appointed to make recommendations to the Council on the accreditation of courses and the granting of waivers.

During the year, the Council accredited 21 courses and more than 450 municipal judges attended these courses. (See table on following page for details.) In addition, the Council granted 24 waivers from the education program.

County Bail Bond Board Reports

The 67th Legislature enacted a new law, Senate Bill 727, relating to the regulation of bail bondsmen, which became effective August 31, 1981. Section 5(f)(8) of that new law (article 2372p-3, V.T.C.S.) provides that it will be the duty of the county bail bond boards:

> To file reports and furnish information on the operation of the bonding business in the county at the request of the Texas Judicial Council which shall report annually to the governor and the legislature on or before December 1 of each year on the operation of the bonding business in the state.

Section 3 of the bill automatically creates a county bail bond board in counties having a population of more than 110,000. The statute authorizes other counties, at their option, to create a county bail bond board.

Under the directives of this statute, the Texas Judicial Council surveyed the 254 counties of the State in October, 1981, to ascertain which counties had created bail bond boards pursuant to S.B. 727.

Two follow-up mailings were made to the counties which had not responded to the original mailing. Of the 23 counties with populations of more than 110,000--which were mandated by S.B. 727 to create a board--all but three (Travis, Denton, and Ector Counties) responded to the survey. Three counties with populations of 110,000 or less also reported that boards had been created in those counties (Walker, Hays, and Young Counties), for a total of 26 counties indicating that county bail bond boards had been established and were operating. Of the 231 counties with 110,000 or less population, 25 did not respond and therefore are presumed not to have created boards.

Following this survey, a preliminary draft of a statistical reporting form was prepared and mailed to each of the counties which had reported the existence of a bail bond board. This draft was accompanied with a letter asking the members of these boards to review the information requested and to make suggestions as to the type of information which should be included on the reporting forms. After the receipt of these comments, the first draft of the forms were revised to ensure that the forms requested only information which was readily available to the bail bond boards.

In August, 1982, this revised statistical reporting form was sent to each of the 26 counties which had reported the existence of a bail bond board. The requested information covered the period of September 1, 1981, through August 31, 1982, and was due October 1, 1982. Fifteen (58 percent) of the 26 counties reported at least part of the information requested. The replies were summarized in tabular form. This information and the replies for each individual bondsman in the 15 reporting counties were also reported and are on file at the office of the Texas Judicial Council for public inspection.

Because of the low response of the counties to the request for the information as mandated by the provisions of article 2372p-3, a valid summarization of the bonding business statewide cannot be made.

Recommendations to the 68th Legislature

At its February meeting, the Council reviewed some 23 different areas suggested by the staff for possible legislative action. Five committees were appointed, which reported at the June meeting. In October, additional proposals were considered and the work of other committees reviewed. This process resulted in the Council making recommendations to the Legislature in the following 15 areas:

I. Judicial Selection.

A. The Council recommends a constitutional amendment for merit selection, with electoral review, containing the following provisions:

1. A nominating committee composed of 11 members appointed by a selection committee composed of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and Speaker of the House of Representatives. A majority of the nominating committee would be persons not licensed to practice law and no more than two members could be residents of the same county.

2. Upon a vacancy in a judicial office, the committee would submit a list of three nominees to the Governor, who would fill the vacancy from among those three nominees, subject to confirmation by the Senate.

3. All persons so appointed would be subject to review by the voters at the next general election (at which time the appointees would have to receive a majority of the votes to be retained in office) and at the end of six-year terms thereafter.

4. The Legislature could extend this method of selection to the trial judges. However, any such extension would be subject to approval or disapproval by the voters of the affected judicial districts on a local option basis.

B. Alternative: Nonpartisan election of judges, as proposed in Senate Bill 706 of the 67th Legislature.

C. Alternative: Separate ballot columns for judicial races. Amendments to the Election Code to change the form of the general election ballot to:

1. Remove the name of candidates for appellate and district courts from the regular party columns and place them in separate party columns to be to the right of and below the regular party columns of candidates;

2. Prohibit straight party ticket voting for appellate and district courts; and

3. Make similar provisions for balloting on voting machines and electronic voting systems.

D. Limitation on time to raise campaign funds. The Council concurred in a recommendation of the House Select Committee on Judicial Selection that applicable sections of the Election Code be amended to provide that candidates for the office of judge of any district court, appellate court, statutory county court, or county court performing judicial functions, may raise campaign funds only during the period beginning October 1 of the year preceding the filing deadline for office and ending January 31 of the year following the general election.

II. Assignment of Justices to Courts of Appeals. Article 1812, V.T.C.S., currently authorizes the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to assign active or retired justices of Courts of Appeals to sit temporarily on any Court of Appeals when the need arises on those courts. The Council recommended that article 1812, V.T.C.S., be amended to provide for the payment of travel and lodging expenses and per diem compensation to appellate judges assigned under the act on the same basis as is presently paid to district judges assigned under the provisions of article 200a.

III. Fees in Civil Cases. Filing fees in the Supreme Court were increased by the last Legislature and fees in the trial courts have been increased several times during the past decade while fees for the Courts of Appeals have not been increased since 1941. The Council recommends that the Legislature approximately double the fees in civil cases before the Courts of Appeals pursuant to article 3924, V.T.C.S.

IV. Interest Rate on Judgments. The Council recommends that the nine percent interest rate on judgments provided in article 5069-1.05, V.T.C.S., be raised to 12 percent, unless otherwise provided in a contract which forms the basis for the suit.

V. Venue in Civil Actions. It is the general consensus of the Council that the matter of simplification of venue (article 1995, V.T.C.S.) be recommended to the Legislature, but no endorsement of a specific bill is intended.

VI. Rules of Evidence. Assuming the adoption of a general code of rules of evidence for civil matters by the Supreme Court, the Council recommends the Legislature adopt a similar codification for criminal cases.

VII. Voir Dire Examination of Jurors. The Council recommends a bill to amend article 35.17, Code of Criminal Procedure, relating to the voir dire examination of jurors, to:

A. Extend the present language of article 35.17, which allows the trial judge to propound to the entire panel questions concerning reasonable doubt, burden of proof, return of indictment by the grand jury, presumption of innocence, and opinion, now applicable only to capital cases, to lesser felony and misdemeanor cases;

B. Expressly set forth in statute the holdings of several court decisions which allow the trial judge to set "reasonable and equitable time limitations" for voir dire examinations, based upon the circumstances of the case, in both capital and non-capital cases; and

C. Express in statute the authority of the trial court to prohibit questions which: (a) have previously been unequivocally addressed; (b) are improper; or (c) are vexatious.

VIII. Support Personnel for District Judges. The Council recommends a bill to allow appropriation of a support personnel allowance for each district judge in the State. This support personnel allowance could be used by the district judge to employ whatever support personnel he or she determines to be necessary to aid in discharging the administrative duties of the office of the judge, with three limitations:

A. The amount of funds appropriated by the Legislature;

B. Any single salary set by the district judge to be paid out of the allowance could not exceed that paid to the highest paid deputy of any district clerk in the judicial district; and

C. The support personnel allowance could not be utilized to pay the salary of the official court reporter.

IX. Statutory Duties of Clerks of Courts of Appeals. The Council endorsed the proposal of an earlier meeting of the clerks of the Courts of Appeals to:

A. Eliminate the requirement of entering orders on motions in the court minutes; and

B. Eliminate the requirement of article 1835 that costs be accounted for in the court minutes.

The purpose of the bill draft was to make the work of the clerk less complicated by removing the requirement of recording documents in the court minutes which are preserved in other records, such as the financial records of the court.

X. Preservation and Disposition of Records of Courts of Appeals. The Council recommends that a bill similar to House Bill 908 by Representative Bush from the last regular session be passed during the forthcoming session of the Legislature to provide more definite guidelines for the destruction of old and unneeded records of the Courts of Appeals and more usable procedures for the microfilming of records of the courts.

XI. Proceedings of Commission on Judicial Conduct. In response to a recommendation of the House Select Committee on Judicial Selection, the Council proposed that records of formal proceedings before the Commission on Judicial Conduct be made public, that discovery procedures be made available to judges once a formal complaint is filed, and that the authority of the Commission to issue a private reprimand be repealed.

XII. Percentage Relationship of Judicial Salaries. The Council endorsed a proposal of the Judicial Section and two State Bar committees to amend article 6813b, V.T.C.S., to provide that justices of Courts of Appeals be paid a state salary that is five percent less than that appropriated for the salary of a justice of the Supreme Court and that district court judges be paid 10 percent less than a Supreme Court justice.

XIII. Judicial Districts Board. The Council endorsed the proposal of the State Bar Committee on Legislation in the Public Interest for an amendment to article V of the Constitution adding a new section creating the Judicial Districts Board and a proposed bill creating the Judicial Districts Board and defining the powers of the Board to reapportion any or all of the several judicial districts. The Council added to the proposal a direction to the Board to make a general, statewide reapportionment of judicial districts every ten years.

XIV. Monetary Limits of Trial Court Civil Jurisdiction. The Council recommends to the Legislature that the constitution be amended to raise the minimum civil jurisdiction of district courts to $10,000 and make tax cases subject to that minimum. The recommendation also includes endorsement of a proposal of the Judicial Section of the State Bar of Texas to make the maximum civil jurisdiction of county courts at law uniform across the State and up to $50,000.

XV. Membership of the Council. The Council recommends the Legislature consider adding several legislative committee chairmen and a matching number of lay members to the Council's membership, because of changes in the committee structure of the House and Senate over the past few years.

Office of Court Administration

The Office of Court Administration of the Texas Judicial System was established by article 2328b, V.T.C.S., in 1977. The Office operates under the direction and supervision of the Supreme Court of Texas and is charged by this statute with the implementation of the provisions of the act and any rules of administration promulgated by the Supreme Court for the efficient administration of justice in this State. The statute specifically provides for the following duties to be performed by the Office:

(1) assist the justices and judges of the various courts in discharging their administrative duties;

(2) consult with and assist the administrative judges in discharging their duties under provisions of law and rules promulgated by the Supreme Court;

(3) make such recommendations to the Supreme Court as may be appropriate for the implementation of this act;

(4) examine the administrative and business methods and systems employed in the offices of the clerks of court and other offices related to and serving the courts and make recommendations for necessary improvement, and recommend forms and other documents used to record the business of the courts;

(5) examine the state of the dockets and practices and procedures of the courts and make recommendations for the promotion of the orderly and efficient administration of justice;

(6) prepare and submit budget estimates of state appropriations necessary for the maintenance and operation of the judicial system, and study and make recommendations on the expenditures of state funds appropriated for the maintenance and operation of the judicial system;

(7) consult with and assist the clerks of court and other officers and employees of the courts and of offices related to and serving the courts to provide for the efficient administration of justice;

(8) consult with and make recommendations to the court administrators and court coordinators of the courts of the State to provide for uniform administration and promote the efficient administration of justice in all courts of the State;

(9) perform such additional duties as may be assigned by the Supreme Court and by the Chief Justice; and

(10) prepare an annual report of the activities of the Office to be published in the Annual Report of the Texas Judicial Council.

Article 2328b further provides that the Office of Court Administration shall provide the necessary staff functions for the efficient operation of the Texas Judicial Council. In addition, under an order of the Supreme Court, the Office also provides staff support for the Texas Court Reporters Committee.

Reporting Systems

Under the authority of article 2328a, section 5, V.T.C.S., which provides for the reporting of statistical data and other information pertaining to the amount and character of the business transacted by the courts, the Office receives approximately 2,500 reports each month from the courts of the State. These reports are checked upon receipt for internal accuracy, any necessary corrections are made and then the information is entered into a computerized data system. This provides ready access to the current status of the dockets of the courts throughout the State on a county-by-county basis. Numerous requests for this type of information are received each year. The monthly reports are submitted on official forms developed in consultation with advisory committees of local court officials. These include a six-page report for the activities of the Courts of Appeals, an eight-page report for the district courts, a five-page report for county level courts, and two-page reports for the justice of the peace and municipal courts. Annual reports on court activities are received from the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Administrative Judicial District Reports

From the statistics reported to the Office, a monthly summary of district court activity is compiled for each of the nine administrative judicial districts of the State. These reports are provided to the presiding judges of the administrative judicial districts to provide the judges with current district court statistical caseload data on all counties within their administrative judicial districts and to ensure the effective and efficient administration of justice within their individual districts.

Equalization of Courts of Appeals Dockets

This Office also maintains a monthly reporting system on the activity of the Courts of Appeals to aid the Supreme Court in its responsibility of equalizing the dockets of the Courts of Appeals pursuant to article 1738, V.T.C.S. A report on the status of the dockets of each Court of Appeals is prepared by the Office each month to enable the Supreme Court to make decisions on the equalization of dockets between the Courts of Appeals. As a result of this activity during 1982, 120 cases were ordered transferred by the Supreme Court among the courts as follows:

January, 1982

1 civil case from 5th (Dallas) to 11th (Eastland)

February, 1982

1 civil case from 13th (Corpus Christi) to 14th (Houston)

Annual Report on the Texas Judicial System

As provided by law, the Fifty-third Annual Report of the Texas Judicial Council and the Fifth Annual Report of the Office of Court Administration were published as a single report in May, 1982. This 651-page report included statistical data on and analysis of court activity at all levels of courts in the State of Texas for calendar year 1981. Approximately 23,000 monthly statistical reports were compiled and validated during 1981 to produce the statistical data in the Annual Report. The Annual Report also contained analyses of recent Attorney General's opinions affecting court operations and information on the variances in subject-matter jurisdiction of Texas trial courts. The report included a thorough, descriptive analysis of the judicial system and a comprehensive directory of judges, clerks, and other persons employed by the Texas Judicial System. Also included were statistical analyses of assignments by presiding judges of the nine administrative judicial districts. The Annual Report was sent to all judges and clerks, members of the Legislature, state and federal agencies, criminal justice planning units, local officials, and libraries. Approximately 4,000 copies were distributed.

Legislative Services

During 1982, the legal staff of this Office worked closely with the staffs of the legislative committees on interim studies and on reports to be presented to the 68th Legislature, judges, and judicial organizations. The staff provided assistance to the interim legislative study committees concerning the judiciary, including the House Judiciary, Criminal Jurisprudence and Judicial Affairs Committees, the Senate Jurisprudence Committee and special committees on Judicial Selection and the Judicial Retirement System.

State Budget Estimates for the Judiciary

The act establishing the Office of Court Administration provides that the Office is to prepare and submit to the Legislature budget estimates for the maintenance and operation of the judicial branch of government. In fulfilling this responsibility for the 68th Legislature, the Office of Court Administration worked with the staffs of the Legislative Budget Board and the Governor's Office of Budget and Planning to coordinate the preparation of budget requests by the various courts and judicial agencies. Staff members personally conferred with personnel and justices of each of the Courts of Appeals, the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, and the state-wide judicial agencies located in Austin to provide technical assistance in the preparation of their budgets.

Implementation of S.J.R. 36 and S.B. 265

At the direction of the Chief Justice, the staff of the Office devoted a large portion of time following the Regular Session of the 67th Legislature in the implementation of Senate Joint Resolution 36, the 1980 constitutional amendment conferring intermediate appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases on the Courts of Appeals, and Senate Bill 265, the implementing legislation for the constitutional amendment. The Office obtained the services of the National Center for State Courts in conducting a follow-up study to its 1980 study on this subject. Under sponsorship of the Office, several meetings of the chief justices, the clerks and the staff attorneys of the Courts of Appeals were held to identify the best methods of implementing this constitutional amendment.

Support to Other Agencies

The staff presented a number of lectures at seminars and schools sponsored by the Texas Justice of the Peace and Constables Association to aid in providing the schooling mandated by article 5972, V.T.C.S., and at seminars for municipal court judges conducted under the provisions of article 1200f, V.T.C.S. Presentations are also made at County and District Clerks Association conferences and the Texas Court Clerks Association seminars and meetings to provide technical assistance and to improve the reporting rates on the monthly court activity reports previously discussed. A periodic report on the activity of the judicial system is published and widely distributed to judges and other court officials.

The Office also provides information on the Judicial branch of government and court activities to many other state agencies and professional organizations whose work requires a knowledge of the workings of the Judiciary and to many individual citizens. It maintains contact with the state court administrative offices of other states and with the National Center for State Courts to keep abreast of new developments in the administration of justice in other states and to provide them with information on the Texas Judicial System.

Meetings, Conferences, and Seminars Sponsored

During the year the Office of Court Administration provided the necessary administrative support, scheduling, and notices; prepared the necessary legal research for topics considered; and provided travel and other expense funds for over 20 meetings of judges, committees, councils, and court personnel.

Special Legislative Studies

At the request of the Texas Legislature, the Office conducted and prepared reports in two special studies during 1982. One study, in cooperation with the House Judicial Affairs Committee, concerned the personnel and equipment needs of the Courts of Appeals. The other study examined the feasibility of creating a court interpreters certification program for Texas. Full reports of both studies are included elsewhere in this Annual Report. Following are summaries of the two studies.

Study on Needs of the Courts of Appeals

Senate Bill 265, adopted by the 67th Legislature in 1981, contained extensive legislation implementing the constitutional amendment that conferred criminal jurisdiction on the 14 Courts of Appeals. As part of that legislation, 28 new judgeships were added to the Courts of Appeals. While limited increases were also made in the appropriations for staff and equipment, the new judicial positions absorbed most of the appropriations increase. House Resolution 29, also adopted by the 67th Legislature, authorized the Office of Court Administration, in cooperation with the House Judicial Affairs Committee, to determine the personnel and equipment needs of each of the 14 Courts of Appeals to enable these courts to adequately dispose of all intermediate appeals in an orderly and speedy manner.

A report on this study was transmitted to the Legislature, and was published as part of the Interim Reports of the House Judicial Affairs Committee. The report indicated that if the recommended personnel and equipment are funded by the Legislature, the present number of justices on the Courts of Appeals should be sufficient to provide for the orderly and speedy disposition of all intermediate appellate cases. The recommendations for adequate support staff and equipment are based on the following factors: (1) the present judges will be able to work most efficiently when they have adequate support staff; (2) the larger courts are already approaching the maximum number of justices for optimum collegial efficiency of an appellate court; (3) the addition of more appellate court judges increases the liability of the Judicial Retirement System; and (4) the automated equipment requested would reduce the need to continuously seek additional secretarial and clerical help.

Court Interpreters Certification Study

The 67th Legislature also adopted Senate Resolution 744, directing the Office of Court Administration to study the feasibility of a certification program for bilingual court interpreters in the State. To comply with this directive, the Office studied similar programs operated by the federal government and by the State of California. The Office also prepared a five-page survey on the subject which was mailed to 849 trial courts across the State, including all district and county-level courts.

From the responses to this survey, a formal report was prepared and submitted to the Legislature in December 1982. The Office concluded that a court interpreter program could be instituted in Texas, but would cost approximately $100,000 per year; that only a few counties have a continuing need for language interpreters; that the present informal methods of acquiring interpreters seems to be working well; that the Office of Court Administration could continue to maintain and make available to judges a list of persons in Texas certified under the federal court interpreters program; and, finally, that college-level courses could be promoted which would teach students already fluent in a foreign language the rudiments of court interpreting.

Texas Court Reporters Committee

The Texas Court Reporters Committee was established by article 2324b, V.T.C.S., to regulate and certify persons engaging in the practice of shorthand reporting for use in litigation in the courts of this State. The Committee is composed of an active district judge, who serves as chairman; two persons licensed to practice law in this State; and six certified court reporters, all of whom are appointed by the Supreme Court for six-year, overlapping terms of office.

The Committee is charged with the responsibility of effectuating the purposes of article 2324b: to receive and pass upon applications for certification; to administer tests; to determine the qualifications of persons applying for certification; to receive verified complaints on the professional conduct of certified reporters; to conduct hearings, receive testimony, and pass upon the merits of such verified complaints; and to make rulings thereon, including the revocation of certificates previously granted by the Committee.

Certification of Applicants

Article 2324b requires that all persons who engage in the practice of shorthand reporting for use in litigation in the courts of this State be certified by the Supreme Court upon the recommendation of the Committee.

Court reporters who were actively engaged in the practice of shorthand reporting for use in litigation in the courts of this State prior to the effective date of the act, August 29, 1977, may apply for certification without the necessity of taking an examination, under the provisions of section 16(a) of the act. Since beginning operations, the Committee has officially recommended 1,026 persons now certified under the provisions of section 16(a).

The Committee administers tests to determine the qualifications of other persons applying for certification as provided for in section 12 of the act. During 1982, it administered four examinations to 398 applicants. Of these, 189 successfully completed both portions of the test and were certified as shorthand reporters. During this same period the Committee conducted one formal complaint hearing.

As of the end of 1982, there were 1,492 certified shorthand reporters who were eligible to engage in the practice of shorthand reporting for use in litigation in the courts of this State.

The 68th Legislature adopted a number of amendments to art. 2324b, V.T.C.S., effective September 1, 1983.

Among the changes mandated by these amendments, the name of this state agency will be changed from the Texas Court Reporters Committee to the Court Reporters Certification Board to more properly reflect its main area of responsibility.

In addition, the membership of the Board is expanded to twelve members from the present nine. The additional three members will be appointed by the Supreme Court from persons who are not judges, lawyers, court reporters, officers or employees of court reporting schools, or related to anyone in those groups within the second degree of affinity or consanguinity.

Under its present disciplinary powers, provided by art. 2324b, the Board is restricted to revocation of certification of a court reporter. The new amendments will expand the disciplinary powers to include suspension of certification or reprimand of a certified reporter.

In addition, the amendments provide for certification by one of three approved methods for shorthand reporting (machine shorthand, oral stenography, or written shorthand). Applicants will be required to successfully complete the certification examination by use of the method in which the applicant desires to be certified.

All certifications under the new amendments will expire on January 1 following the date of issuance of the certification and every two years thereafter. Certifications are renewable upon application and the payment of the required renewal fee.

State Commission on Judicial Conduct

The Commission on Judicial Conduct was created by Constitutional Amendment adopted by the electorate November 2, 1965, (originally the Judicial Qualifications Commission) and covered justices and judges of the district, criminal district, and appellate courts. An amendment to the Constitution adopted in 1970 increased the jurisdiction of the Commission to include all justices and judges of the State, and added the sanctions of censure, after a formal hearing, or private reprimand.

Membership of the Commission consists of two appellate justices, two district judges, one justice of the peace, two attorneys, and four lay members. The judicial members are appointed by the Supreme Court of Texas, the attorneys by the board of directors of the State Bar of Texas, and the lay members by the Governor of Texas, all with the advice and consent of the Senate. No two members may serve from the same Supreme Judicial District with the exception of the justice of the peace who is selected from a list of five names submitted by the executive committee of the Justice of the Peace and Constables Association of Texas to the Supreme Court and serves at large. The Commission operates under Rules for the Removal or Retirement of Judges, adopted and promulgated by the Supreme Court of Texas.

Under the laws of this State and the rules laid down by the Supreme Court, this Commission is limited in its jurisdiction to a consideration of alleged acts of judicial misconduct. Acts of judicial misconduct may include conduct both on and off the bench. If, after review, it is determined that the matters in the complaint are not within the jurisdiction of this Commission, the complaint is dismissed and the complainant so advised.

If, after review, it is determined that the Commission has the authority to act, the complaint is docketed and assigned for investigation. Upon completion of the investigation, a full report is made to the members of the Commission for such action as the Commission deems appropriate. The Commission meets aproximately six times a year in Austin. All of the complaints that have been docketed and investigated are placed on the agenda for consideration by the Commission and the Commission may do any of the following:

(1) dismiss the complaint;

(2) issue a private reprimand;

(3) issue a public reprimand;

(4) initiate formal proceedings and conduct a formal hearing;

(5) after a formal hearing, issue a public censure;

(6) or, after a formal nearing, recommend to the Supreme Court involuntary retirement or removal from office; or

(7) suspend the judge from office, with or without pay, immediately upon being indicted by a state or federal grand jury for a felony offense.

If a formal hearing is ordered, the Supreme Court is requested to appoint a master to hear the case. The hearing is conducted just like any other civil trial. The eventual disposition of the case is determined by the evidence which is developed during the course of such hearing.

The Commission has no authority to act as an appellate court. It cannot set aside or otherwise change the judgment of any court. The Commission cannot consider allegations against a judge for making findings of fact, reaching a legal conclusion, or applying the law as he understands it. The Commission investigates complaints, initiates formal hearings, and makes recommendations to the Supreme Court, but only the Supreme Court can remove a judge.

On January 1, 1982, there were 29 complaints pending on the docket of the Commission that had not been formally resolved. There were 37 additional complaints received during this year that were formally considered by the Commission. They were disposed of in the following manner: six private reprimands, three public reprimands, one judge was both censured and publicly reprimanded, one suspended without pay, three resignations, three judges were placed on the suspense docket for lengthy monitoring and 11 remain pending.

There were 283 complaints that were investigated and resolved by the staff and were never placed on the docket for formal consideration by the Commission.

State Bar of Texas

The State Bar of Texas was created in 1939 pursuant to article 320a-1, V.T.C.S., as an administrative agency of the Supreme Court of Texas. The Bar operates under the rules promulgated by the Supreme Court.

The State Bar serves 39,502 members, 35,591 of whom reside in Texas. Of that membership, 18,870 attorneys less than 37 years old (or licensed less than three years) are also members of the Texas Young Lawyers Association. The State Bar is composed of 60 committees, 27 sections, and various departments.

The departments of the Bar provide a variety of services, including an extensive continuing legal education program. This program, in addition to offering educational programs for all lawyers, aids less-experienced practitioners through Skills Courses to understand the more fundamental aspects of the practice of law. Seminars and institutes are held throughout the State to help lawyers in specific areas of the law and to keep them abreast of new developments. In this regard, the Bar in 1982 offered eight advanced courses, attended by 2,293 persons; conducted seven practice skills courses, attended by 759 persons; and sponsored 61 institutes, attended by 8,594 persons. The use of video equipment and facilities of the Texas Law Center to make videotapes of seminars and institutes makes these educational programs available to lawyers and the public throughout the State.

The Bar also prepares and distributes manuals, books, and audio tape cassettes dealing with various fields of legal practice. There were 4,972 sets of audio tapes sold, and 10,540 people viewed videotapes during the year.

Other services of the State Bar include publications of current legal information. The Texas Lawyers Weekly Civil Digest and Texas Lawyers Weekly Criminal Digest give attorneys and judges a summary of significant decisions of the various state and federal courts, Attorney General opinions, and administrative decisions of the Comptroller. The Texas Bar Journal is published and distributed monthly to attorneys and to students attending the eight law schools in Texas. Articles dealing with specific areas of law, results of disciplinary actions, proceedings of the Board of Directors, and other topics of interest are included in the Journal.

The General Counsel of the State Bar is responsible for enforcing disciplinary rules and protecting citizens from the unauthorized practice of law. Disciplinary actions taken by the 42 District Grievance Committees from January through October of 1982 resulted in: 14 disbarments; 7 resignations; 34 suspensions; 30 public reprimands; 31 private reprimands; and 4 reinstatements of attorneys.

One of the key programs of the State Bar is the Lawyer Referral Service which receives about 2,700 calls per month. These calls come from people in need of legal services who do not have an attorney. The referral service provides information on the availability of legal assistance and aids the public in obtaining this assistance. The Bar also sponsors a Prepaid Legal Services program which makes legal assistance available to policy holders at an affordable price.

Texas Lawyers Care is a program sponsored jointly by the State Bar of Texas and the 11 federally-funded legal services programs in the State. The program is designed to help local bar associations, local legal services programs, the judiciary, and community-based human service agencies in developing and implementing volunteer lawyer programs which provide civil legal assistance to low-income clients.

The State Bar's Insurance Trust also sponsors an insurance program for lawyers. Types of coverage offered include group life, individual life and disability, major medical, accidental death and dismemberment, hospitalization and indemnity, major medical, professional liability, and Keogh retirement plans.

Many programs of the Bar are sponsored by the Texas Bar Foundation. Established in 1965, the Foundation finances programs in continuing legal education and research on legal matters of significance to the Bar and the public. Grants awarded by the Foundation funded such projects as revision of the Penal Code, State Bar Practice Skills Courses, and the State Bar's continuing legal education videotape projects.

A pilot program of Legal Specialization was formed in 1975. This program provides a means for certifying attorneys with special competence in selected fields of law. Initially, certifications were offered in only criminal law, family law, and labor law. Since that time, six additional fields have been added: estate planning and probate; civil trial law; personal injury law; immigration and nationality law; real estate law; and tax law.

The Communications department conducts such education-oriented programs as the "Ask a Lawyer" radio series; "You and the Law" newspaper column, the Speakers Bureau, "The Living Law" multimedia slide show, the Careers videotape on the legal profession, and the film loan program featuring the films "Our Uncommon Law" and "Liberty and Justice for All."

Judicial Section, State Bar of Texas

The principal objective of the Judicial Section of the State Bar of Texas is to educate and inform members of the Judiciary of the State of Texas.

In order to more properly fulfill this commitment, the Continuing Judicial Education Program of the Section has been consolidated under the Texas Judicial College. The College is operated and funded by the Texas Center for the Judiciary, Inc., a non-profit corporation organized by the Judicial Section for the purpose of receiving and disbursing funds dedicated to judicial education in Texas.

To reach every judge in Texas, the Judicial College scheduled conferences in five different locations across the State during the months of February, March, and April, 1983. The College also held its school for new judges in Huntsville in November, 1982, which was attended by more than 80 judges.

The curriculum for the week-long new judges' school, as well as the two-day regional conferences, has been planned and taught under the supervision of retired Associate Justice Quentin Keith of the Ninth Court of Appeals in Beaumont, who serves as Dean of the Texas Judicial College. Justice Keith is assisted in this work by Associate Deans, Judge Peter S. Solito of Houston, Justice Walter Jordan of Fort Worth, Chief Justice (retired) Claude Williams of Dallas, and Judge Robert C. Wright of Lubbock.

In addition to these activities for which the Judicial College assumes primary responsibility, numerous other educational activities are being supported during the year. These include a conference on Juvenile Justice, the Criminal Justice Conference, held in Huntsville in May, and the Annual Statewide Judicial Conference, which was held in El Paso the last week in September and was attended by judges from across the State. The 1983 Annual Conference will be held in Galveston.

The work of the Judicial Section is under the direction of its Executive Committee, composed of four officers and nine members. The various committees working in the Section are either authorized by the by-laws or by the Executive Committee, and the members of those committees are appointed by the chairman. Each committee is responsible for a program adopted either at the Annual Conference or by the Executive Committee.

The Legislative Committee, under the chairmanship of Judge Raul L. Longoria of Edinburg, is responsible for the Section's legislative program in the 1983 Session of the Legislature. That 14-point program was adopted by the Judicial Section at its Annual Conference in El Paso. The legislative program covers a wide range of items designed to improve the operation of the Judicial System as well as to change the method by which we select our judges. This Committee met frequently since the last legislative session to develop the new program and make plans for its passage. Three members of this Committee are appointed each year for a three-year term to provide continuity in its work.

The Committee on Judicial Ethics is responsible for interpreting the Code of Judicial Conduct promulgated by the Supreme Court of Texas. This Committee receives questions concerning judicial ethics and answers those questions by written memorandum opinions which are then published. This Committee meets when necessary, but accomplishes much of its work through correspondence and telephone conferencing. The advisory opinions of this Committee for 1982 are published elsewhere in this Annual Report.

The Juvenile Justice Committee is very active in the field of juvenile law and is largely responsible for encouraging legislation establishing a state-wide juvenile probation system in Texas. This Committee also conducts an annual conference program where recent developments in the field of juvenile law are reviewed and discussed.

The Site Selection Committee is responsible for selecting the Section's annual conference site for the year 1984. This Committee also makes preliminary arrangements for the physical facilities for the conference. The Committee's recommendation will be made to the 1983 conference in Galveston.

The Audit Committee is responsible for auditing the bookkeeping and money-handling activities of the Section. That Committee will hold as many meetings as necessary in order to complete that audit, after which the chairman will report to the Executive Committee.

The Committee on Education Standards is a new committee responsible for developing minimum standards for continuing judicial education. When this Committee has completed its work, it is expected that continuing judicial education standards will be adopted by the Executive Committee and approved by the Section at its next meeting. It is anticipated that a program will then be launched to encourage all judges to meet the minimum recommended standards voluntarily. Thereafter some mandatory continuing judicial education standards probably will be imposed either by the Supreme Court or by the Legislature. The judges believe that they can design and implement a better educational program than any that could be imposed by legislation.

The Committee on the Relation of the Judicial Section and the Texas Center for the Judiciary, Inc., is charged with the responsibility implied in the name of the Committee. The Texas Center for the Judiciary, Inc., is a non-profit corporation created by the Judicial Section for the purpose of receiving state, federal, and private funding for the purpose of financing educational programs for judges. Since the corporation is a creature of the Section, and the corporation must meet certain IRS requirements in order to receive tax-deductible contributions and maintain its tax-free status, it is imperative that clear and distinct lines be maintained between the activities of these two organizations. It is the responsibility of this Committee to establish and maintain these lines.

The Committee on the Role of the Judiciary is a new committee with a broad charter calling for the estabishment of communication and liaison with all other organizations, agencies, and entities advocating basic changes in the role of the judiciary, and to provide the judges' perspective wherever those changes are being considered. This Committee is also authorized to explore, consider, evaluate, and initiate any and all changes proposed or needed to enable the judiciary to better serve modern society.

The Committee on Judicial Pension and Retirement is charged with the responsibility of communicating with the appropriate committees in the Legislature in the area of judicial retirement. There is considerable concern in some quarters because the Judicial Retirement System in Texas is not a funded system. The Legislature is presently studying this situation and substantial changes in the design of that system are possible. This Committee will represent the judges' interest in the system and will strive to assist the proper legislative committees in their efforts to overcome the present objections to the system and at the same time ensure the continunity of an attractive Judicial Retirement System that will encourage good lawyers to seek judicial careers.

Board of Law Examiners

The Board of Law Examiners, pursuant to articles 304, 304a, 305, 305a, 305c, 306a, 307A, 307A-1, 307A-2, 307B, 308, 309, 310 and 3923, V.T.C.S., acting under the supervision of the Supreme Court of Texas and in accordance with the Rules Governing Admission to the Bar of Texas, as as promulgated by the Supreme Court of Texas, has five primary functions:

(1) to approve all applicants for license as to good moral character and fitness;
(2) to approve the law study of all applicants for license;
(3) to prepare and administer bar examinations designed to establish a minimum degree of competency for all persons recommended to the Supreme Court of Texas as being eligible to be licensed to practice law in the State of Texas, and, in certain circumstances, to provide applicants who fail the examination a written or oral analysis of their performance;
(4) to hear appeals by declarants from the refusal of any of the 17 District Committees on Admissions to grant the declarant a certificate of good moral character and fitness, said hearings being conducted with due process, with a transcript of the testimony being made by a court reporter; and
(5) to review and approve immigrant attorneys from sister states, the District of Columbia, and territories of the United States.

The staff of the Board of Law Examiners consists of an executive director and 11 staff members. The staff is organized into the Character and Fitness Division and the Eligibility and Examination Division. These divisions are the filing depositories for all Declarations of Intention to Study Law, Applications to Take the Bar Examination, and Applications for Admission to the Bar filed by immigrant attorneys.

The Character and Fitness Division administratively processes the Declarations of Intention to Study Law and performs an initial background investigation of each declarant. This division also assists the District Committees on Admissions in performing their investigations and in making their recommendations to the Board. In 1982, this division processed 2,469 Declarations of Intention to Study Law. This division also performs investigations on bar examination applicants and attorney applicants from other jurisdictions. In 1982, there were 3,694 such investigations made.

The Eligibility and Examination Division answers all inquiries from potential applicants for admission to the Bar, administratively processes applications to take the bar examination and applications to be admitted as an immigrant attorney. Finally, this Office records the grades on the bar examinations and releases such grades to the applicants. In 1982, this division processed 3,359 applications to take the bar examination and 335 applications for admission as an immigrant attorney.

At all swearing-in ceremonies of successful candidates by the Supreme Court of Texas, a member of the Board is present for the purpose of certifying the class to the Supreme Court.

The Board holds six regularly scheduled meetings and special called meetings annually. Two meetings are held in connection with each of the biannual bar examination dates (winter and summer). Approximately six weeks prior to the examination date the Board meets to review proposed questions for the coming examination. Each Board member presents several questions in his or her area of expertise and the entire Board considers the content of the question, its timeliness, and the authorities supporting the answer. Immediately prior to each examination, the Board meets and conducts hearings on moral character and fitness and passes on other matters of eligibility, questions relating to Texas residency, citizenship, pre-law study, and law study.

Additionally, the Board meets in April to confer with the deans of the eight Texas law schools and the justices of the Supreme Court, as well as in November to meet with the justices of the Supreme Court.

Furthermore, the Board may conduct additional meetings to consider special matters relating to the conduct of the Board's business. The bar examination is given on the last Wednesday and Thursday of the months of February and July in six Texas cities: Austin, Dallas, Houston, Lubbock, San Antonio and Waco.

Beginning in July 1983, the bar examination will consist of two parts and a passing score of 75 will have to be made on each part. There are 14 subjects covered in the two parts. Part I of the examination covers 12 subjects spread out over two days of examination. The first day of testing is a six-hour multistate examination covering six subjects and consisting of 200 mulitiple choice questions. This examination is prepared by national committees and coordinated by the National Conference of Bar Examiners with the assistance of the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey. The second day of testing is a six-hour essay type examination covering six subjects. These questions are developed by individual Board members and reviewed by the entire Board. The scores made on the first two days of examination are combined for a Part I score. Part II of the examination covers civil and criminal procedure and evidence and is given on the third day of testing. It will be a three-hour long examination requiring short answers of the multiple choice, fill-in-the-blank and short answer variety. An examinee must take the entire examination until Part I or Part II is passed. Thereafter, only the part not yet passed must be taken.

As of January 1, 1984, all applicants for admission to the Bar of Texas will be required to take the Multistate Professional Responsibility Examination and achieve a score of 75 to qualify for admission.

State Prosecuting Attorney

Since 1875, various statutes have provided for an attorney to represent the State on appeal in criminal cases. In 1923, that attorney was named the "State Prosecuting Attorney" by art. 1811, V.T.C.S. Until September 1, 1981, it was the duty of the State Prosecuting Attorney "to represent the State in all proceedings before...[the] Court [of Criminal Appeals]." On September 1, 1981, art. 1811 was amended, resulting in the following broad statutory objectives for the State's Attorney:

(1) represent the State in all proceedings before the Court of Criminal Appeals;
(2) represent the State in any stage of a criminal case before the Courts of Appeals when the interests of the State so require; and
(3) provide assistance to district and county attorneys in representing the State before the Courts of Appeals when requested to do so by the district or county attorney.

In order to adequately represent the State in all proceedings before the Court of Criminal Appeals, the the State's Attorney or his assistant is present during oral arguments. Copies of opinions are furnished to the Office by the Clerk of the Court and the decisions are reviewed to determine if error might exist which could adversely affect the State in future cases. If such error is found, then the State's Attorney may, on his own or in cooperation with the respective district or county attorney, file a motion for rehearing. Approximately 40% of the motions filed by the State Prosecuting Attorney are granted by the Court. Of that number, about 60% have then been ultimately resolved in the State's favor.

Before a decision is rendered, the State's Attorney may also file a brief, acting either for the Office or in cooperation with the district or county attorney.

Due to staff and budgetary restrictions, the State's Attorney does not appear before the Courts of Appeals and does not file motions for rehearing in those courts. Arguments, briefs, and rehearings must be handled by the district or county attorneys or their staffs.

Opinions from all 14 Courts of Appeals are mailed to the State Prosecuting Attorney for review. Those which have reversed a trial court decision are set aside for additional review after the opinion becomes the "final" decision of a Court of Appeals. In these cases, the State's Attorney may file a petition for discretionary review by the Court of Criminal Appeals. About 42% of all State's petitions are filed by this Office. Of these, 62% have been granted. Of those disposed of by the Court of Criminal Appeals, over 80% were ultimately decided favorably for the State.

Because the Court of Criminal Appeals still has a backlog of cases appealed directly from the trial courts, this Office, along with district and county attorneys, must deal with two distinct sets of time calculation rules. Every time deadline is a critical one since failure to file a motion for rehearing in the Court of Criminal Appeals or a petition for discretionary review of a Court of Appeals decision will allow the decision to become case law which could adversely affect future cases. For this reason, the State's Attorney attempts to work as closely as possible with the district and county attorneys so that all can assist in covering as many cases as possible to try to ensure that the law will be expressed in the State's best interest.

Texas Adult Probation Commission

The Texas Adult Probation Commission continued to expand the Intensive Supervision Program during 1982. A total of 22 adult probation departments are participating in diverting approximately 3,000 persons from the Texas Department of Corrections. Fifty percent of these diversions are sentenced to the Intensive Supervision Program directly from the court. Thirty-five percent come into Intensive Supervision from a motion to revoke probation. Fifteen percent of the Intensive Supervision probationers are there due to shock probation. The majority of the offenders are on Intensive Supervision for offenses such as burglary, controlled substances, theft, DWI, forgery, robbery, vehicle theft, and assault.

The Commission has implemented a Case Classification System in approximately one-third of the adult probation departments. This system enables the adult probation officer to determine both the risks and needs of the probationer and thereby develop a more appropriate supervision plan. The Case Classification System also serves as a management information system enabling the Texas Adult Probation Commission (TAPC) and the adult probation departments to know exactly the problems that adult probationers have and the degree to which these problems caused dysfunctioning.

Approximately 30 adult probation departments have been awarded special grants to implement programs over and above basic probation services. These programs include funding for psychological evaluations, out-patient drug abuse counseling, DWI offender caseloads, residential services, community resource officers, employment specialists, and specialized therapy groups. These programs are awarded funds for a one-year period. The programs are evaluated and if demonstrated to be successful the departments are eligible to apply for refunding.

The Commission has awarded nine adult probation departments funding for residential services. Two of these departments, in El Paso and McLennan counties, operate their own residential services program. The Tarrant County Adult Probation Department contracts with the Volunteers of America for the management of a residential program. Six other departments contract with private vendors for the purchase of residential services. Residential services serve as alternatives to incarceration in the majority of cases. Those probationers placed in residential services who are not diversions from the Texas Department of Corrections demonstrate a high level of need and risk and therefore are provided a more appropriate level of treatment and surveillance.

The Commission audits the majority of all adult probation departments each year. The auditing is intended to determine if the departments are in compliance with fiscal requirements established by the Commission.

Approximately one-third of the adult probation departments are monitored each year. Each monitoring visit is followed by a technical assistance site visit as needed. This monitoring is intended to determine the level at which the departments are complying with Commission standards. If a department is not in compliance with a standard, an agreement is reached between the Commission and the department as to when the department will be coming into compliance and what type of assistance will be needed by the department to reach compliance.

The primary function of the Commission is the distribution of state aid to adult probation departments in compliance with TAPC standards. The departments are provided 50 cents a day for each probationer on direct supervision. Approximately $5 million each quarter is distributed to the departments on this per capita distribution basis.

The Commission provides training throughout the State for adult probation officers. This training involves the following areas: case classification, client management classification, pre-sentence investigation report development, working with the alcoholic offender, and other training as needed or requested by adult probation department personnel.

In 1982, the Texas Adult Probation Commission commenced a Repeat DWI Offender Project. A probation officer experienced in working with alcoholic offenders carries a caseload of no more than 50 repeat DWI offenders.

The TAPC has updated the Texas Adult Probation Law Manual: A Text for Probation Officers and the directory of Texas adult probation departments. A research study on the Intensive Supervision Program, entitled "Assessing Diversionary Impact" was completed. The Commission publishes the bi-monthly "TAPC Newsletter." It has also published the following brochures: "Status Report: Texas Adult Probation 1982," "Adult Probation in Texas: The History, Law, and Benefits," and "Adult Probation in Texas: The Facts."

The Commission, through grant funds from the Moody Foundation and the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office, established a Volunteer Program. The program provides technical assistance and training on volunteer issues throughout the State.

Texas Juvenile Probation Commission

The Texas Juvenile Probation Commission was created by the 67th Legislature for the purposes of:

1) making probation services available throughout the State for juveniles;
2) improving the effectiveness of probation services;
3) providing alternatives to the commitment of juveniles by providing financial aid to juvenile boards for the establishment and improvement of probation services;
4) establishing uniform probation administration standards; and
5) improving communications between state and local entities within the Juvenile Justice System.

In the first area, the number of Texas counties without any juvenile services has been reduced from 18 on January 1, 1982, to four as of April 1, 1983. This was accomplished by diverting central administration funds into direct aid. Four new departments serving seven counties were created in this way, and seven others now have services provided by neighboring departments. Negotiations are continuing, and it is expected that services will be provided in the remaining counties by September, 1983.

In the area of improvement of services, the Commission has established a number of programs, including monitoring and technical assistance, training, provision of operating manuals and other publications, and a professional certification program. A wide array of technical assistance has been provided to local departments, including aid in preparing juvenile board legislation, help with budget control, community relations, legal advice, and operations. A training calendar has been established, and new programs, including regional workshops, are being developed. The Commission has provided a probation officer's resource manual to each line officer in the State as well as Juvenile Court Judges' manuals and form books, directories, and statistical reports. The certification program, tracking statutory requirements, has resulted in more than 800 persons applying for and receiving professional certificates.

In the area of state aid, the Commission has had to make do without a state-wide appropriation for the first two years of its existence. H.B. 1704 merely transferred the funds of the Texas Youth Council's Community Assistance Program to the Commission. This program provided funding to slightly more than half of Texas counties. The Commission's budget request for fiscal years 1984-85 is designed to provide financial aid to all departments in the State that choose to request it.

Minimum Standards Being Developed

The establishment of uniform minimum standards has been an on-going priority of the Commission. A process that has involved much public testimony, advisory committee meetings, and other forms of input will culminate by July, 1983, in the publishing of the State's first set of juvenile probation standards of operation.

To meet the goal of improving communications, the Commission has established an advisory council made up of juvenile probation officers, juvenile judges, citizen members, and the executive director of the Texas Youth Council. This committee meets regularly with the executive director of the Commission.

The Prosecutor Council

The 65th Legislature created The Prosecutor Council in 1977, which is directed to provide: a centralized agency of the judiciary; technical assistance; educational services; professional training to prosecutors; develop minimum standards for the operation of prosecutors' offices; accept and investigate complaints about prosecutors; and improve the administration of criminal justice through the professionalization of the prosecutor's office.

The Council is composed of nine members: four citizens of the State of Texas, who are not licensed to practice law, appointed by the Governor of Texas with the advice and consent of the Senate; and five incumbent, elected prosecutors elected by the prosecutors of the State, one of whom shall be a county attorney, one a district attorney and one a criminal district attorney. The Council met five times during 1982.

Each member of the Council serves for a six-year term without compensation, but is entitled to actual expenses in the performance of his duties. The Council appoints an Executive Director who must be an attorney, licensed to practice law in the State of Texas. The Executive Director performs the functions and duties assigned him by the Council and represents the Council in any court case in which the Council is a party.

Discipline and Minimum Standards

The Council received 250 inquiries during fiscal 1982 about the operation of prosecutors' offices. Most of these inquiries are received from the public, the remainder coming from other State agencies. These inquiries have been dealt with directly by the members of the staff. Some have resulted in the filing of formal complaints against the prosecutor. During 1982 the Council received 48 such formal complaints, an increase from 36 for the year before, as opposed to 50 complaints in 1980. Below is a table which shows the disposition of complaints filed during 1982.

Technical Assistance

One of the most successful programs of the Council has been its response to local prosecutors in need of prosecutorial assistance. In 1982 the Council responded 212 times. More assistance of a substantive nature was provided in 1982 than in 1981. Major requests for technical assistance were answered 22 times.

Prosecutorial assistance is provided most of the time when local resources are inadequate. Such assistance is basically divided into on-site and in-house.

The Council has been able to handle the needs of prosecutors in this area with only the assistance of the Criminal Justice Division which provided approximately $50,000 in financial aid. When the Council has provided prosecutorial assistance, it has required that the local entities bear as much of the cost as they are able. The Council also attempts to utilize the expertise already available in other prosecutors' offices before seeking outside help.

Other forms of technical assistance provided in 1982 were:

(1) telephone assistance to any of the 1,400 prosecutors throughout the State;
(2) indictment alerts, which the Council developed in 1982, to alert prosecutors concerning major changes in indictments;
(3) suggested forms, which the Council has been providing prosecutors' offices;
(4) a "1983" pleadings bank, because the Council has found that there is an ever-increasing number of "1983" civil rights suits brought against prosecutors. The bank affords prosecutors a library of civil pleadings in the event a civil suit is initiated against them.

Professional Development

The year 1982 was the first year that the Council was funded to begin meeting its statutory duties in the area of professional development. The Council has concentrated its efforts in three areas: publications, training courses, and funds for travel.

The Council, with the assistance of prosecutors, has developed the following manuals, which are updated according to need: Investigator's Desk Manual; Elements Manual; A Guide to Report Writing; Reciprocal Child Support Manual; and Hot Check Manual. Under development are an indictment manual and a civil manual.

During the past year, the Council approved three contract courses: an investigators school, designed to act as an annual update for experienced investigators; a civil course, addressing the needs of prosecutors in the field of civil law; and a basic prosecutor course geared to the prosecutor with 6 months to 1 year experience.

"Council courses" are ones that are developed and put on under the direct supervision of the Council. These include: law enforcement workshops, designed to improve the skills of the police officer in report writing (since December 1980, over 2,000 persons have been trained by the Council at 20 workshops); and regional meetings of prosecutors (six were held by the Council in 1982). The Council has queried prosecutors to find out where they need the most assistance, with workshops on search/seizure and arrest being suggested more often.

In addition, the Council approves courses put on by other groups when it finds they meet its standards.

The 1981 Legislature funded travel and subsistence expenses for prosecutors to attend professional development courses on a limited basis.

RECENT COURT DECISIONS

Selected Decisions Affecting Court Operations Rendered During 1982

CIVIL LAW OPINIONS

Appellate Practice and Procedure

Fundamental error in civil cases is a discredited doctrine and will constitute reversible error, absent timely and proper objection, only where record on its face shows absence of jurisdiction or where public interest is directly and adversely affected, as articulated by statutes and constitution. Cox v. Johnson, 638 S.W.2d 866 (Tex. 1982).

Failure of a judge to recuse himself under article 200a, section 6, V.T.C.S. is not fundamental error. Orders made by a disqualified judge are a nullity. Buckholts I.S.D. v. Glaser, 632 S.W.2d 146 (Tex. 1982).

Appellant must file motion to extend time to file transcript and statement of facts within 15 days after record is due or appeal is dismissed. The Court of Appeals has no jurisdiction to consider late-filed transcripts and statements of facts in the absence of a motion under T.R.C.P. 21c. B.D. Click Company v. Safari Drilling Corporation, 638 S.W.2d 860 (Tex. 1982).

Court of Appeals has jurisdiction to hear appeal from interlocutory order that increases the bond on a temporary injunction. Toby Martin Oilfield Trucking, Inc. v. Martin, 640 S.W.2d 352 (Tex. App.--Houston [1st Dist.] 1982, no writ).

Reasonableness of explanation to support motion to extend time to file statement of facts may be set by showing that court reporter was requested to begin preparation of statement of facts at time cost bond was filed. An earlier request is unnecessary. Moore v. Davis, 644 S.W.2d 40 (Tex. App.--Dallas 1982, no writ).

When a Court of Appeals concludes that it does not have jurisdiction over an appeal, the only judgment it can enter is a dismissal of the appeal. The court cannot remand for further development. University Interscholastic League v. Payne, 635 S.W.2d 754 (Tex. App.--Amarillo 1982, no writ).

Although trial court order denying supersedeas is interlocutory and not appealable, a Court of Appeals has jurisdiction to issue a writ of mandamus to protect its jurisdiction by preventing the case from becoming moot. Texas Employment Commission v. Norris, 634 S.W.2d 85 (Tex. App.--Beaumont 1982, no writ).

A governing body's decision that emergency or urgent public necessity justifies waiving 72 hour notice requirement of Open Meeting Act is subject to judicial review. Garcia v. City of Kingsville, 641 S.W. 2d 339 (Tex. App.--Corpus Christi 1982, no writ).

Trial Court Practice and Procedure

Judge's oral pronouncement and docket entry granting motion for new trial is ineffective without written order. Clark & Co. v. Giles, 639 S.W.2d 449 (Tex. 1982).

Plaintiff has absolute right to take a nonsuit, so long as defendant has made no claim for affirmative relief. McQuillen v. Hughes, 626 S.W.2d 495 (Tex. 1981).

Juror's statement during deliberation that it did not matter how a special issue was answered was material error and harmful as a matter of law. Flores v. Dosher, 622 S.W.2d 537 (Tex. 1981).

A district court cannot issue an injunction to prevent enforcement of writ of execution issued by a different district court. Evans v. Pringle, 643 S.W.2d 116 (Tex. 1982).

Party's lack of justiciable interest must be pointed out to trial court and ruling obtained or matter is waived. Texas Industrial Traffic League v. R.R. Comm., 633 S.W.2d 821 (Tex. 1982).

A trial court may hold a defendant in contempt for violating a permanent injunction while the judgment is on appeal, providing no supersedeas bond is filed. Elizondo v. Williams, 643 S.W.2d 745 (Tex. App.--San Antonio 1982, no writ).

Court reporter has continuing duty to prepare statements of facts, including those in indigent appellant cases, after the court reporter has resigned or left the employment of the court. Boykin v. Sala, 636 S.W.2d 590 (Tex. App.--San Antonio 1982, no writ).

Absent order of trial court directing that notice of trial setting be sent by postcard or other method, pursuant to T.R.C.P. 21a, use of postcard to notice trial setting is denial of due process. P. Bosco & Sons Contracting Corporation v. Conley, Lott, Nichols Machinery Company, 629 S.W.2d 142 (Tex. App.--Dallas 1982, writ ref'd n.r.e.).

Retired judge may be assigned to hear case in particular district even though regular judge is present and trying other cases. Permian Corp. v. Pickett, 620 S.W.2d 878 (Tex. App.--El Paso 1981, writ ref'd n.r.e.).

Imposition of sanctions for failure to supplement answers is within sound discretion of trial court. Tenngasco Gas Gathering Co. v. Fisher, 624 S.W.2d 301 (Tex. App.--Corpus Christi 1981, writ ref'd n.r.e.).

District court has equitable power to review and abrogate, if abuse of discretion is shown, orders of commissioners court that allocate space for various district courts and Courts of Appeals. County Commissioners Court of Dallas County, Texas v. Williams, 638 S.W.2d 218 (Tex. App.--Eastland 1982, no writ).

Marital Property

Separate personal property of one spouse may not be divested to effect a just division of a marital estate upon divorce. Also, title to property acquired during marriage, but acquired in a "common law" state, will be characterized as separate or community according to the community property laws of Texas as though the property was acquired in Texas. Cameron v. Cameron, 641 S.W.2d 210 (Tex. 1982).

U.S. Supreme Court decision in McCarty v. McCarty, 435 U.S. 210 (1982), which characterizes military retirement benefits as separate property of veteran-spouse, is not retroactive, and will not affect final judgments in divorce that characterize military retirement benefits as community property. Ex parte Hovermale, 636 S.W.2d 828 (Tex. App.--San Antonio 1982, no writ).

Worker's Compensation

Award of worker's compensation for lost earning capacity is not an award of "actual damages" that may be trebled pursuant to Tex. Ins. Code, art. 21.21, subsection 16. St. Paul Insurance Company v. McPeak, 641 S.W.2d 84 (Tex. App.--Houston [14th Dist.] 1982, no writ).

CRIMINAL LAW OPINIONS

Appellate Practice and Procedure

Pursuant to art. I, subsection 11a, Tex. Const., appeals from denial of bail in most habitual offender prosecutions are to the Court of Criminal Appeals, rather than the Courts of Appeals. Clapp v. State, 639 S.W.2d 948 (Tex. Crim. App. 1982).

Neither the U.S. Constitution nor the Texas Constitution requires that indigent defendants in criminal cases be given the assistance of free legal counsel in order to prepare and file a petition for discretionary review with the Court of Criminal Appeals. Ayala v. State, 633 S.W.2d 526 (Tex. Crim. App. 1982).

Trial Court Practice and Procedure

Officer of court may not be summarily held in contempt. Rather, he is entitled to have his guilt determined by a different judge after notice and with a hearing. Ex parte Martin, No. 69,045 (Tex. Crim. App. Nov. 17, 1982).

Shock probation constitutes suspension of execution, rather than suspension of imposition of sentence. O'Hara v. State, 626 S.W.2d 32 (Tex. Crim. App. 1981).

Double Jeopardy

The double jeopardy-related principle of "carving," which prevented conviction for more than one offense arising in the same transaction, is abandoned. Ex parte McWilliams, 634 S.W.2d 815 (Tex. Crim. App. 1982).

The State is barred by principles of double jeopardy from alleging, on retrial, previous convictions for purposes of enhancement of punishment if insufficient evidence of the same prior convictions is offered at the first trial. Cooper v. State, 631 S.W.2d 508 (Tex. Crim. App. 1982).

Flat confinement as punishment only for an act constituting contempt will constitute a criminal conviction for purposes of double jeopardy prohibition. Ex Parte Englutt, 619 S.W. 2d 279 (Tex. 1981).

OPINIONS OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Selected Opinions Affecting Court Operations
Rendered During 1982

The authorization for the rendition of advisory opinions by the Attorney General is found in section 22 of article IV of the Texas Constitution and has been more specifically defined in article 4399, V.T.C.S. This is a quasi-judicial function, Glimpse v. Bexar County, 160 S.W.2d 996 (Tex. Civ. App.--San Antonio 1942, writ ref'd), and while the opinions do not have the force of law, they are entitled to be given considerable weight in determining proper construction of statutes. City of Houston v. Southern Pacific Transp. Co., 504 S.W.2d 554 (Tex. Civ. App.--Houston [14th Dist] 1973, writ ref'd n.r.e.).

Traffic Offense Proceedings

MW-428: January 20, 1982. Pertaining to article 6701d, section 143A, relating to "defensive driving course" as alternative to court proceedings:

1. A judge must permit a defendant to take the defensive driving course in every case where a motion to take the course is properly made and where the defendant is eligible for the course.

2. The defendant may exercise his right to elect to take the defensive driving course at any time prior to commencement of his trial on the charges brought. If he has not done so, once the trial begins, the right to take the driving course as an alternative to court proceedings is no longer available to him.

3. A judge may not require a defendant to enter any plea as a precondition to permitting the defendant to elect to take the defensive driving course under section 143A(a)(2).

4. A judge may not require that a defendant who elects to take the defensive driving course prove to the court beforehand that the course he intends to take has been approved by the Department of Public Safety.

5. A judge has no specific authority under section 143A to require submission of a notarized, sworn statement by the defendant that he has not completed another defensive driving course within the prior two-year period.

6. Where defendant fails to complete the defensive driving course and fails to comply with the provisions of section 143A after being granted permission of court, the court may proceed with prosecution of the charges as if the defendant had never elected to or been permitted to take the course.

7. A judge may advise a defendant of the specific actions necessary to fulfill the requirements of section 143A(a)(2).

8. Section 143A does not permit a judge to require that a defendant personally appear in court to present "written evidence" of completion of the defensive driving course.

MW-441: February 8, 1982. A justice of the peace is not authorized to dismiss traffic citations prior to filing, but may afterward do so. A justice of the peace is required to enter on his criminal docket all proceedings pursuant to article 6701d, section 143A, V.T.C.S.

MW-577: December 31, 1982. Article 6701h, section 1B, V.T.C.S., does not require that evidence of financial responsibility be in the possession of an owner or operator of a vehicle while it is being operated upon public roads and highways. Proof that the defendant maintained financial responsibility at the time of the alleged offense rebuts any presumption the statute might create. The failure to carry, produce, or furnish information concerning evidence of financial responsibility is not a crime or offense under the new provisions of the Safety Responsibility Law.

Fines, Costs and Fees--Criminal

MW-442: February 9, 1982. The word "fees" as used in section 1G of article 6701h, V.T.C.S., relating to compulsory liability insurance, does not include "fines" such that any fines collected pursuant to enforcement of the act are to be accorded the same treatment as in other cases.

MW-478: June 10, 1982. Under article 45.11 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, a fine imposed by a county court in a case heard on appeal from a municipal court must be returned to the municipal treasury.

MW-492: July 9, 1982. The disposition of fine monies collected pursuant to section 26, subchapter F of the Texas Water Code (water pollution) is controlled by section 12.107 of the Parks and Wildlife Code, except fines collected from corporate defendants, which are to be disposed of in accordance with Water Code section 26.126 as though they were civil penalties recovered under section 26, subchapter D thereof. Whether the arresting officer is a game warden makes no difference.

MW-561: December 31, 1982. Article 53.01(1) of the Code of Criminal Procedure ($3 fee for making arrests) is applicable to misdemeanor cases when an arrest is made without a warrant and a traffic ticket is issued. The fee of $3 should be taxed against the defendant on conviction. When a Department of Public Safety patrolman issues a traffic ticket that results in a conviction the fee would not go to the local sheriff or constable. The Attorney General did not determine whether a detention for purposes of issuing a traffic citation is an "arrest" for any other purpose.

MW-584: December 31, 1982. A county attorney is required to report the collection and disbursement of all funds collected pursuant to article 53.08 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (fees for collection of checks), in accordance with the directives of articles 335, 337, 1620 and 3896, V.T.C.S., and article 1001 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Fees and Costs--Civil

MW-431: January 29, 1982. In an action of forcible entry and detainer, a justice of the peace may not collect the costs connected with a writ of restitution when the complaint is filed. He may, however, require the complainant to furnish security for costs.

MW-447: February 22, 1982. Article 3912e, V.T.C.S., does not exempt the State of Texas from having to pay filing fees in civil cases filed with district clerks.

MW-447A: May 21, 1982. The State is not required to pay filing fees upon the filing of a case, pay fees upon service of citation, or give any other security for costs, including any appellate costs, although the State will ultimately be liable for all costs, including filing fees, should it be the losing party.

Terms of Office

MW-521: December 20, 1982. The present appointee to the office of district judge of the 267th Judicial District is entitled to hold office until his successor "has been duly elected and qualified," article 199a, sections 6.001, 2.005, V.T.C.S., which will be "on the first day of January following (his) election, or as soon thereafter as possible." V.T.C.S., art. 17.

MW-536: December 22, 1982. The term of office for justices of the Courts of Appeals is fixed at six years. The election-staggering scheme set forth in S.B. 265, section 32(a), Acts 1981, 67th Leg., chap. 291, at 778 is at variance with the construction and is therefore null and void. The terms of office for the justices in place at the time of the amendment remain the same as when they were members of the Courts of Civil Appeals. The term of office of each new justice of the Courts of Appeals is set at six years after the first general election. Tex. Const. art. V, sec. 6. The unconstitutional provision of S.B. 265 may be severed from the remainder of the bill.

Assignment of Judges; Exchange of Benches

MW-483: July 5, 1982. Under the facts stated, a county judge of one county could not enter into a contract with another county to be compensated personally for holding a hearing which he is statutorily required to hold in his capacity as county judge.

MW-560: December 31, 1982. The district judge of a county other than the county in which a suit under section 17.03 of the Texas Family Code is filed (hearing on emergency taking of possession of a child without court order) may hold a hearing in the county where filed and enter an appropriate order, provided the judges of the respective counties have agreed to exchange benches.

MW-586: December 31, 1982. To be eligible for assignment under article 200a, V.T.C.S., a former district judge must certify his willingness to accept the prohibitions relating to the practice of law that are imposed upon retired judges by section 44.005 of title 110B, Public Retirement Systems, V.T.C.S. The prohibition is applicable as long as a judge's article 200a certification is extant. A former district judge may withdraw an article 200a certification and later recertify.

Court Personnel; Use of Funds

MW-487: July 7, 1982. It is the responsibility of Frio County to pay a court reporter when one is demanded in a county court criminal trial, and neither the costs of the reporter's salary, nor the per diem and expenses of a substitute, can be adjudged against a convicted defendant.

MW-587: December 31, 1982. The commissioners court must budget and pay the salary of the juvenile probation officer as set by the juvenile board or juvenile court, absent a clear abuse of discretion.

Miscellaneous

MW-507: August 31, 1982. Only corporations and individuals may be licensed to act as bail bondsmen, according to article 2372p-3, V.T.C.S. A licensed corporate surety may have authorized agents to sign bonds in its behalf, but an individual surety may not do so, according to article 17.08 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. A licensed corporate surety is not prohibited from designating a separate business entity as its agent for executing bail bonds; however, the corporate surety must obtain a separate license on behalf of each individual who ultimately acts as the surety's agent by executing the bail bonds.

MW-554: December 31, 1982. Article 5972, V.T.C.S., defines incompetency with respect to a justice of the peace who is not a licensed attorney as the failure to successfully complete a 20-hour course each year after his first year in office. There is no exemption from this provision for persons who had served two or more terms as a justice of the peace prior to its enactment.

MW-574: December 31, 1982. County clerks are not required to reproduce a set of paper records from microfilms of original records in order to inspect and check the accuracy and clarity of the microfilm image, but may do so. If such paper prints are made, there is no requirement that they be kept. Original court records filed with the clerk cannot be disposed of except on certification, inter alia, that microfilm prints of the original records have been satisfactorily used by the public for at least five years.

MW-581: December 31, 1982. County courts at law in El Paso County have no jurisdiction to consider applications for writs of habeas corpus when the underlying offense is a felony, nor do judges of such courts, when sitting as magistrates, have jurisdiction to review or modify either the amount of bail set or a finding of probable cause made by a justice of the peace acting as magistrate in a case over which the justice has acquired jurisdiction as a magistrate.

MW-589: December 31, 1982. A person who served as a justice of the peace for more than 15 years and then became a county commissioner is authorized to perform marriage ceremonies under section 1.83 of the Texas Family Code.

ADVISORY OPINIONS ON JUDICIAL ETHICS

Rendered During 1982

At the request of the members of the Judicial Section of the State Bar of Texas, the Supreme Court promulgated a Code of Judicial Conduct, effective September 1, 1974. On November 9, 1976, responding to a resolution of the Judicial Section, certain amendments to the Code were adopted.

The Judicial Section of the State Bar of Texas has appointed a Committee on Judicial Ethics to render advisory opinions on this Code of Judicial Conduct. The opinions of this Committee that were handed down during 1982 are reproduced below.

OPINION NO. 58

Question: Does a judge subject to the Code of Judicial Conduct of the State of Texas violate the letter or spirit of the code when, as an authorized representative of the Texas Center for the Judiciary, Inc., he or she solicits contributions for the benefit of the Center from charitable and educational foundations and other donors who would not ordinarily come before the court?

Answer: The Committee is of the opinion that such conduct would not violate the letter or spirit of the Code of Judicial Conduct.

Participation in worthwhile organizations that depend upon fund-raising for support is a continuing dilemma for judges. While a judge may serve in a leadership capacity in such an organization, Canon 5B(2) of the Code of Judicial Conduct prohibits any type of participation, or lending the prestige of judicial office, in soliciting funds, no matter how worthy the purpose.

An exception to such activity is wisely provided in Canon 4, when the purpose of an organization is "devoted to the improvement of the law, the legal system, or the administration of justice." The Texas Center for the Judiciary, Inc., clearly qualifies under such exception. Canon 4C provides that the Judge "may make recommendations to public and private fund-granting* agencies on projects and programs concerning the law, the legal system, and the administration of justice."

Canon 4C also provides that a judge "may assist such an organization in raising funds and may participate in their management and investment, but should not personally participate in public fund raising activities."

It is the interpretation of the Committee that "public fund-raising activities" are those activities aimed at the general public or a large segment thereof. A more narrow interpretation would render the language "assist such an organization in raising funds" meaningless.

The Committee is of the opinion that Canon 4 permits a judge to present the purposes and financial requirements of the Texas Center for the Judiciary, Inc., to one or more of the prospective donors referred to in the question. Such a presentation must be in harmony with the spirit of the Code of Judicial Conduct, particularly Canons 1 and 2. The Committee recommends that the judge making such a presentation clearly state that such presentation is made as an authorized representative of the organization and not for the judge personally.

Question: May a judge act as a co-chairman of a fund raising event for another person seeking public office?

Answer: No. Canon 5B(a) states in pertinent part as follows: "A judge should not solicit funds for any...political...organization, or use or permit the use of the prestige of his office for that purpose..." The Committee is of the opinion that Canon 5B(2) prohibits a judge from acting as a co-chairman of a political fund raising event for another person.

OPINION NO. 60

Question: May a judge sit at the head table and make supportive comments in behalf of another person seeking public office, at a fund raising event for the other person?

Answer: The Committee is of the opinion that sitting at the head table and saying supportive comments about a third person at a fund raising event for that person would be using the prestige of the judge and his office to benefit the third person. Such conduct would be in contravention of Canon 5B(2) and is prohibited.

OPINION NO. 61

Question: May a judge serve as a director of a bank where the board of the bank consists of 10 directors, where one of the directors is the representative of a holding company which owns all of the stock of the bank?

Answer: The Committee is of the opinion that for a judge to serve as a bank director under such circumstances would be contrary to the purposes of Canons 5C(1) and 5C(2), as well as Canon 2. A judge should regulate his extrajudicial activities to minimize the risk of conflict with his judicial duties and he should avoid impropriety and the appearance of impropriety in all his activities. The fact that a holding company is the sole owner of the bank should not permit a judge to do indirectly that which he could not do directly.

* The Code published on February 19, 1980, erroneously shows this as fund-raising instead of fund-granting.

OPINION NO. 62

Question: May a district judge serve as a consultant for a private, non-profit corporation engaged in the construction and development of a housing project for the elderly?

Facts: The Judicial Ethics Committee is informed on the following facts pertinent to the question. The project is financed by a loan from the Department of Housing and Urban Development under section 202 of the Housing Act of 1959. The judge served in a similar consulting capacity on numerous projects before assuming the bench. He would be compensated on a fee basis by the private, non-profit corporation that employs him. The fee is based upon a formula established by HUD and based upon the loan authority for the project. As a consultant he would give advice on the determination and selection of the project site and on various other matters related to the project, confer with representatives of the various entities involved in the project and assist in the establishment of sound business practices for the project. He would not perform any legal work. The legal work would be performed by an attorney outside his district who does not appear regularly before him. The corporation he would be assisting also does not appear regularly in his court. The work would require an average of 10 hours per month for 15 to 18 months and could be done before or after normal working hours. The judge would not be engaged in arbitration or mediation, nor would he participate in hearings or testimony before governmental bodies.

Answer: The Committee is of the opinion that service as a consultant under the facts stated does not violate the Code of Judicial Conduct.

The resolution of the question is controlled by Canon 5 of the Code. Canon 5C(2) permits a judge to "engage in other remunerative activity including the operation of a business." That permission is conditioned upon compliance with Canon 5C(1), which states:

> A Judge should refrain from financial and business dealings that tend to reflect adversely on his impartiality, interfere with the proper performance of his judicial duties, exploit his judicial position, or involve him in frequent transactions with lawyers or persons likely to come before the court on which he serves.

Canons 5E and 5F, which bar a judge from acting as an arbitrator or mediator or from practicing law, are also restrictions on the activity in question.

Under the facts stated, none of the conditions or limitations in Canon 5 are violated, however, a judge should at all times keep in mind that it is his duty to uphold the integrity and independence of the judiciary and avoid impropriety and the appearance of impropriety in all his activities. Thus, the judge should carefully monitor his activities and immediately terminate his service as a consultant if he perceives a violation of the Code.

OPINION NO. 63

Question: May a judge write a weekly column concerning legal matters for publication in a newspaper?

Answer: Canon 4A of the Code of Judicial Conduct states as follows: "[The Judge] may speak, write, lecture, teach, and participate in other activities concerning the law, the legal system and the administration of justice."

The Committee is of the opinion that the Code of Judicial Conduct encourages judges to write articles concerning the improvement of the law, the legal system and the administration of justice, provided that in doing so he does not cast doubt on his capacity to act impartially on any matter that may come before him.

The Committee is of further opinion that a judge should not answer inquiries from the public on any matter in the field of law, other than in those areas specifically enumerated above.

OPINION NO. 64

Question: May a judge actively support a bond election to raise funds to develop a city water project?

Answer: No, for several reasons. First, a judge should regulate his outside activities to minimize the risk of conflict with his judicial duties. Elections often are contested, and to actively engage in a bond election could interfere with the judicial responsibility of the judge. Secondly, a judge should refrain from using the prestige of his office to help a political organization to raise funds. Canon 5, Code of Judicial Conduct.

Thirdly, a judge should uphold the integrity and independence of the judiciary. Involvement in an election, other than his own, by a judge tends to raise questions of why he is involved and casts doubts on his capacity to decide impartially an issue that may come before him.

A majority of the Committee is of the opinion that to actively participate in such an election would violate the Code of Judicial Conduct.

PERSONNEL AND EQUIPMENT STUDY

Courts of Appeals

During the 67th Regular Session in 1981, the Legislature adopted extensive legislation implementing the constitutional amendment that conferred criminal jurisdiction on the 14 courts of appeals. As part of that legislation, 28 new judgeships were added to the Courts of Appeals. While limited increases were also made in the appropriations for staff and equipment, the new judicial positions absorbed most of the appropriations increase.

House Resolution 29 of the First Special Session of the 67th Legislature requested the state Office of Court Administration, in cooperation with the House Judicial Affairs Committee, to study the personnel and equipment needs of each of the Courts of Appeals.

The method used in preparing this study included four factors: (1) compilation and analysis of caseload statistics on the cases filed and work of the courts since receiving jurisdiction of criminal cases on September 1, 1981; (2) comparison of these workload measures to those which had been projected prior to the Regular Session and upon which personnel and equipment need recommendations were made in a special study conducted by the National Center for State Courts; (3) analysis of the degree to which personnel and equipment provided the courts by the 67th Legislature has enabled the courts to handle the increased caseload resulting from acquiring jurisdiction of criminal cases; and (4) review of the resulting recommendations for increased personnel and equipment by the Council of Justices of the Courts of Appeals.

At the conclusion of its study, the Office of Court Administration prepared a written report which was submitted to the Legislature in September 1982. The following is a summary of that report.

Staffing the Courts of Appeals

The support personnel of the Courts of Appeals can be categorized into three groups: (1) judicial support, (2) central legal staff, and (3) clerical support.

Judicial Support Personnel

Judicial support staff consists of briefing attorneys (also referred to as "law clerks") and judicial secretaries. Briefing attorneys typically are recent law school graduates who work for the court for one year. Each is assigned to serve a particular justice, doing research, writing memoranda, etc., on cases assigned to the justice. (Judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals have, in addition, a research attorney who is more experienced than the briefing attorney, is paid better, and remains in this position for a number of years.) Judicial secretaries work for the individual justices, handling their correspondence, typing their opinions, etc. During the 1982-83 biennium, the Legislature provided each justice of the Courts of Appeals with one briefing attorney, and an average of approximately one secretary for each two justices. Presently, most of the justices share secretaries, resulting in undue delays and inefficiencies in the preparation of opinions.

One of the greatest present needs of the courts is for additional legal research and briefing assistance for the justices. The addition of staff at this level should markedly improve the efficiency of the courts and noticeably increase the rate of dispositions. Based upon several years of experience by the Court of Criminal Appeals in the use of research assistants in addition to briefing attorneys, each justice on the Courts of Appeals should be provided with one briefing attorney and one research attorney. A research attorney position will provide the justices with more experienced legal assistance and a more permanent staff position which will afford some continuity and avoid the disruption which occurs when new briefing attorneys must be trained. In addition each justice should be provided with one judicial secretary to provide secretarial support to the justice, the briefing attorney, and the research attorney.

The need for this additional assistance increased when the Courts of Appeals assumed criminal jurisdiction. During fiscal year 1981, when only civil cases were heard, the justices of the 14 Courts of Appeals each disposed of an average of 41 cases by written opinion. During fiscal year 1982 the justices disposed of, by opinion, 47 criminal cases and 26 civil cases for a total of 73 deciding opinions per justice. When opinions which do not dispose of cases--such as dissents and concurrences--are added to this, it amounts to a significant rise in the legal support and secretarial needs of an individual justice. If the backlog of cases is to be actually reduced during the 1984-85 biennium, the output of opinions per justice must increase even more, and the need for legal support and secretarial help will be even greater.

Central Legal Staff

Attorneys on a central legal staff, as contrasted with briefing attorneys, are accountable to the court as a whole rather than to an individual justice. A survey conducted by the Institute for Judicial Administration and published in the Spring, 1982, issue of "IJA Report" shows that as of September 1, 1981, 23 of 32 responding states utilized central legal staffs on some or all of their intermediate appellate courts.

The A.B.A. Standards Relating to Appellate Courts provide that while the functions of a central legal staff may differ from court to court, the duties of such a staff may properly include:

(1) monitoring and reviewing cases coming before the court to assure compliance with procedural rules, and making recommendations for disposition of routine procedual matters in accordance with criteria established by the court;
(2) preparing case summaries, including procedural history, facts, and principal issues and authorities, for the court's use in managing its caseflow and conducting its deliberations;
(3) reviewing all matters presented in propria persona and taking measures necessary to put them in correct and intelligible form;
(4) supplementing the research of the judges' individual law clerks; and
(5) acting for the court in supervising preparation of complex records.

A central legal staff can provide capabilities in these and other areas that may be difficult to achieve through the law clerks who serve individual judges. Because it is centrally organized, a legal staff can address the court's caseflow as a whole rather than being limited to those matters already assigned to individual judges. Insofar as the court's internal procedures are specialized--for example, the handling of appellate procedural questions or the review of applications for interlocutory appeal--a central staff can assist the judges responsible for such matters. The National Center for State Courts, in a memorandum dated May 6, 1982, lists the following as advantages of a central legal staff:

(1) simply adding more law clerks poses substantial administrative burdens for the individual judge, who must hire them and supervise their work;
(2) central staff attorneys may be supervised by one judge, or by a staff supervisor, and may be hired by one judge, or by a committee of judges;
(3) numerous law clerks can insulate a judge from his colleagues, thus reducing the collegiality and frequent interaction which contributes to the effectiveness of the court; and
(4) assignment of work can be more efficient if there is a central legal staff.

During the last Session of the Legislature, one staff attorney was requested for each three-judge panel of each of the Courts of Appeals. However, funds were appropriated for only one staff attorney position for each Court of Appeals regardless of size, except for the Dallas court--the largest--which was allotted two positions. During the interim, a grant from the Criminal Justice Division of the Office of the Governor was obtained which provided for an additional central legal staff attorney for each of the eight largest courts.

A recent informal survey of the present staff attorneys indicates that these positions have been used in a very flexible manner, depending on the specific needs of the individual courts and the non-availability of other staff in particular areas. Generally, the staff attorneys have been utilized by the Courts of Appeals most often for the screening of and preparation of memoranda for the disposition of criminal cases. The use of the staffs in this manner presumably is one reason the courts were able to dispose of an average of 49 criminal cases per justice during fiscal year 1982, while maintaining a per justice disposition rate of 32 civil cases, as compared to 50 total dispositions per justice in 1981. While these additional positions have proved extremely helpful, the individual courts are still below the recommended level of one central staff attorney for each three-judge panel.

Since the experience of the Courts of Appeals in utilizing central legal staff has been most positive and productive, it is again requested that the Legislature provide one central staff attorney for each three-judge panel of each of the Courts of Appeals, that supervising attorney positions be provided for those courts having three or more panels, and that the central legal staff be provided with appropriate secretarial and automated equipment support.

Clerical Support

The present clerical support staff of the Courts of Appeals consists of the clerk of the court (and a chief deputy clerk in the larger courts); one or more deputy clerks; and secretarial or stenographic help for the clerk's office.

The assumption of criminal jurisdiction by the Courts of Appeals has literally swamped many of the clerks' offices with work. From September 1, 1981, through August 31, 1982, a total of 9,201 cases--both civil and criminal--were filed in the Courts of Appeals. This compares to 2,796 cases filed during the year ending August 31, 1981.

The processing of all those cases requires a high level of competency and efficiency in the clerks' offices. The management and supervisory duties of the clerk of the court have become critically important, while at the same time the reporting, accounting and budgeting functions of the office require more and more of the clerk's attention. The amount of financial and budgetary reporting required of the clerks has made all the more difficult their primary task of assuring the swift, orderly, and efficient flow of cases through the Courts of Appeals. These courts are required to file an average of 61 reports each year to various state and federal agencies. For this reason, it is recommended that a new accounting position be provided in each clerk's office. This employee would assume the responsibilities of the accounting functions and would enable the clerk to devote more time to the more important aspects of ensuring the swift, orderly and efficient flow of cases through the courts. The present level of clerical and secretarial support for each clerk's office must also be increased to meet the new responsibilities.

Appropriations for Courts of Appeals Employees

The Courts of Appeals currently receive line-item appropriations for the hiring of specific classified employees. This type of appropriation for support personnel places undue limitations on the courts in responding to changing personnel needs. They are "locked in" to the positions itemized for a period of two years. By contrast, the Office of the Attorney General and many other state agencies are given great flexibility in the hiring of classified personnel. The Attorney General, within the dollar constraints of the budget for each division of his office, may hire employees for any legal, legal support, or paralegal support position in the the classification system. This approach has obvious benefits in that it allows the Attorney General's Office to hire whatever personnel it needs--within monetary limits--to get the job done, without being restricted to those positions which it estimated it would need at the time of its budget request two years before.

The Courts of Appeals--like the Office of Attorney General and other state agencies--have varying needs, not all of which can be predicted with any degree of certainty at the time of budget submission. Because of fast-changing conditions, the appellate courts of the State of Texas should have the same flexibility in employing personnel as is allowed the Attorney General, and many other Legislative and Executive branch agencies, and should be authorized--within the limitations of their individual budgets--to hire personnel for any position classified for use by the courts or judicial agencies of the State. To allow these courts the flexibility to make maximum use of the funds appropriated by the Legislature for classified salaries, the appropriations for each court should contain a rider authorizing each court to utilize these funds for any position listed in the state classification system or such other positions established and approved by the state classification office for use by the courts or judicial agencies of the State.

Travel and Professional Education

Directly related to the personnel needs of the courts is the need for funding for travel and professional education. Changing methods of court operations and appellate procedures make it essential that the judicial, clerical and legal staffs of the Courts of Appeals remain up to date at all times to ensure the efficient operation of the courts and the maximum utilization of available personnel. This is especially important in Texas due to the practice of transferring a large number of cases between these courts for docket equalization purposes under the directives of article 1738, V.T.C.S. These personnel should have access to meetings, seminars, or conferences directly relating to their duties. Since the Courts of Appeals are located in 13 different cities across the State, attendance at any such event will necessarily require that almost all participants incur travel expenses.

Automated Word and Data Processing Equipment

The most pressing equipment needs facing the Courts of Appeals are in the area of word and data processing. Modern appellate courts handling the volume of cases which now face the Courts of Appeals can no longer operate efficiently, if at all, by the methods of prior years. Court clerks can no longer afford the luxury of having each required notice, each standard order, or each form letter individually typed. Word processing equipment can reduce the typing time involved in these routine and repetitive chores to a fraction of what would be required manually. Word processing can also be of great assistance to the justices and their staffs, particularly with the preparation of opinions which might go through several drafts before a final version is produced. Without word processing equipment, each new draft requires complete retyping of an opinion or memorandum and raises the possibility of typing errors creeping in. Automated equipment, on the other hand, requires typing only the changes or corrections.

With the vastly increased caseload these courts are now handling, and the increasing number and complexity of required reports, data processing applications have become crucial to the clerks of the Courts of Appeals. Without the assistance of data processing, it becomes impossible for the clerk to track cases through the court and efficiently manage the flow of appeals, given the volume of cases now being filed and the growing backlogs. The old method of doing everything by hand simply requires too much time and too many hands to deal with the caseload of a busy appellate court. Because of this large volume of cases, some Courts of Appeals will never get their dockets under control or efficiently manage their caseloads without the aid of an automated case tracking system. While all Courts of Appeals need such a system, the larger courts, as a result of the expanded caseloads, could not function without it.

Prior to September 1, 1981, the staff of the Office of Court Administration, in conjunction with the State Auditor's Office and representatives of the Courts of Appeals, conducted an intensive review of word processing applications in order to properly identify the automated equipment needs of the courts to determine equipment specifications to meet these needs. The committee researched and viewed demonstrations of automated equipment from all vendors whose equipment met the minimum identified needs of the Courts of Appeals. Following this detailed study the committee selected the AM Jacquard J100 system as the system which could best satisfy these needs. This system was then demonstrated to and approved by the clerks of the Courts of Appeals and a special committee of justices of the courts.

The Office of Court Administration has also purchased a compatible system to enable it to develop the necessary programming packages for the individual Courts of Appeals to make the most efficient use of this equipment. The first program to be developed and furnished to the courts was the case management system. The automated case management system was designed around a manual case management system which the clerks of the Courts of Appeals and the staff of the Office of Court Administration had previously designed. An accounting and payroll system is currently being installed.

Use of compatible equipment and programming will allow these courts to have direct, automated exchange of docket information when the Supreme Court exercises its authority to transfer cases in order to equalize the dockets of the various courts. Direct exchange of information by telephone lines will be possible between the courts having compatible equipment.

Because of these factors it is highly desirable that all appellate courts obtain compatible data processing equipment. Those few courts which have purchased imcompatible equipment can continue to use that equipment for word processing functions--e.g., opinion writing--but should purchase compatible equipment for the case management and accounting functions in the clerks' offices. This would enable those courts to utilize the software programming now being developed and would result in a significant savings in both time and money to each of the courts as well as to the State.

Word and data processing equipment needs of the courts fall into four categories: (1) memory and central processing units; (2) disk drives; (3) terminals; and (4) printers.

The needs of the individual Courts of Appeals differ, since several courts presently have some of this equipment installed or on order but need additional equipment, while others need complete systems. In general, each court's system will consist of a central processing unit (CPU)--which is the heart of the word/data processing system--and either 128, 256, or 512 thousand bytes (characters) of memory (the storage capacity for information). It will have disk drives for sufficient data storage, one or more terminals (work stations), and one or more printers.

Each Court of Appeals should be provided sufficient funds for capital outlay to provide it with the recommended configuration of word and data processing equipment. This is essential to enable the courts to fulfill their responsibilities of processing and disposing of cases in a timely manner.

Audio Recording Equipment

Chief Justice Joe R. Greenhill of the Supreme Court of Texas, now retired, pointed out the advantages of tape recording equipment for an appellate court during the Council of Justices meeting in February 1982. Chief Justice Greenhill advised his colleagues on the Courts of Appeals that oral arguments of cases before the Supreme Court are taped for three reasons. First, it allows any absent justice to listen to the tape of oral argument. Second, it allows a justice who was present to refresh his memory. Third, it allows a briefing attorney, who may be assigned to research a particular case or point of law, to hear the arguments of counsel.

Any one of these reasons would justify the one-time outlay of funds for the purchase of such equipment for the Courts of Appeals. Based upon an examination of the system employed by the Supreme Court, provision for the following is recommended:

(1) two tape recorders, and
(2) one transfer unit (which operates both recorders, turning the second one on as soon as the tape runs out on the first recorder, thus avoiding any loss during tape change);
(3) four (or more) microphones, depending on the size of the court;
(4) one headset for transcription; and
(5) one foot pedal for transcription.

Automated Legal Research

For several years, major law firms and appellate courts in other states have made advantageous and cost-efficient use of automated legal research systems such as Westlaw or Lexis. The Council of Justices recommended that each court should request funds for the installation, maintenance and use of such a legal research system.

It should be noted that it is presently impossible to estimate the amount of time each court will use this legal research equipment per month. However, a representative of one of the vendors has indicated that for this initial period the following amounts of equipment and usage time would be within a reasonable estimate: for courts having 3-4 judges, one terminal and 10 hours per month usage time; for courts having 6-8 judges, one terminal and 15 hours per month usage time; for courts having 9 judges, two terminals and 20 hours per month usage time; and for courts having 12-13 judges, two terminals and 25 hours per month usage time.

Providing that all courts decide to use the same service, there is a possibility that a single vendor may agree to determine the hourly rate for billing purposes for each court based upon the total amount of hours used by all courts. Therefore, each court would have the advantage of the reduced cost per hour of use of the equipment based upon the total amount of usage by all courts.

Assignment of Justices to Courts of Appeals

In addition to recommendations on personnel and equipment, the study noted that to maximize the use of existing judicial resources, article 1812, V.T.C.S., should be amended to provide a more workable method for the temporary assignment of retired and active justices to Courts of Appeals experiencing a surge in the number of cases filed and to those courts where one or more of the justices are absent due to illness, vacation, or other reasons.

An informal survey identified at least eight retired justices who would be willing to serve on a temporary assignment basis. It is presently estimated that retired justices could provide approximately 1,000 days of temporary service each year to the Courts of Appeals and that this level of additional temporary service could be utilized by the courts in an effective manner to reduce the current backlog of cases and to prevent a continuing rise in the number of cases pending on the dockets of these courts.

Article 1812, V.T.C.S., authorizes the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to temporarily assign active or retired justices of a Court of Appeals to sit on another court. However, the law allows no reimbursement of expenses of assigned justices, nor has any appropriation therefor ever been made. The assignment of retired district judges under the provisions of article 200a, V.T.C.S., which is fully funded, has proven to be extremely successful. An amendment to article 1812 and an adequate appropriation would allow retired justices assigned to temporary service on Courts of Appeals under the provisions of article 1812 to receive the same expenses, per diem, and pay as is now provided for retired district judges who are assigned to district courts under the provisions of article 200a. The Office of Court Administration and the Employees Retirement System have submitted budget requests for the necessary funding for this program.

COURT INTERPRETER SURVEY

During the last Regular Session of the Legislature, the Texas Senate adopted Senate Resolution No. 744, directing the Office of Court Administration to study the feasibility of a certification program, which would "provide a pool of competent court interpreters and assure an adequate level of competency by examining, registering, and certifying translators and language interpreters...."

To comply with this directive from the Legislature, the Office studied the court interpreter certification programs of the federal government and of the State of California. It also conducted an extensive survey of Texas judges on the need for such a program in this State. The five-page survey questionnaire, containing 17 questions, covered the time period of calendar year 1981. This study was designed to obtain information on the number of trials held by the individual courts, the number of trials in which interpreters were needed, the way the courts located the interpreters used, the different languages for which interpreters were needed, the problems encountered by the courts in the use of interpreters, and similar types of information. In addition, the judges surveyed were requested to comment on the advisability of instituting a certification program.

On May 10, 1982, the survey was mailed to 849 trial courts in the Texas Judicial System, including all of the district courts, the county courts, and the county courts at law in the State, and approximately 10% of the justice of the peace courts and 4% of the municipal courts. Of all surveys mailed, 218 were returned, for a return rate of 26%.

From the response to this survey, and the review of similar programs, the Office prepared a formal report which was submitted to the Legislature in December 1982. The following is a summary of that report.

Use of Interpreters by Courts Surveyed

An analysis of the returned surveys revealed that while the number of trials in civil cases in Texas is greater than in criminal cases, the services of an interpreter were used much more often in criminal trials.

Of the 218 judges responding to the survey:

59 judges (27%) indicated that they had not used an interpreter in any criminal case during the year and 112 judges (51%) had not used an interpreter in any civil case;

57 judges (26%) used interpreters in 1 to 5 criminal cases and 50 judges (23%) used interpreters in 1 to 5 civil cases;

28 judges (13%) used interpreters in 6 to 10 criminal cases and 9 judges (4%) used interpreters in 6 to 10 civil cases;

21 judges (10%) used interpreters in 11 to 15 criminal cases and 3 judges (1%) used interpreters in 11 to 15 civil cases;

6 judges (3%) used interpreters in 16 to 20 criminal cases and 3 judges (1%) used interpreters in 16 to 20 civil cases;

7 judges (3%) used interpreters in 21 to 25 criminal cases and 1 judge used interpreters in 21 to 25 civil cases;

1 judge used interpreters in 26 to 30 criminal cases and 1 judge used interpreters in 26 to 30 civil cases;

21 judges (10%) used interpreters in 31 or more criminal cases and 14 judges (6%) used interpreters in 31 or more civil cases; and

18 judges (8%) did not respond to the question regarding the number of uses of interpreters in criminal cases and 25 judges (11%) did not respond regarding the number of uses of interpreters in civil cases.

From this information, it can be inferred that the use of courtroom interpreters falls into three broad categories under the current system. One group of courts will find no use for interpreters in the handling of their business. A second, larger group will find use for interpreters in a small number of cases. Finally, there will be a third group in which a small number of courts make use of interpreters on a more regular basis.

Languages Used

When asked what languages were used by court interpreters in their courts, the majority of judges (172) reported using Spanish a total of 6,729 times during the year. The second most common language group was Vietnamese, with 38 courts reporting 91 cases where translators were used. The next most common languages were Chinese and Korean, with 20 and 16 cases, respectively. All other languages used fell into a fifth category, where the average instance of use was 2.7 times for the year. Those languages are: French (6), German (5), Greek (3), Pilipino (3), Polish (2), Portuguese (2), Laotian (2), Thai (2), Czech (1), and Arabic (1).

Of the 6,883 total uses of language interpreters by the 218 reporting courts during 1981, 97.8% involved Spanish interpreters and only 2.2% involved a language other than Spanish.

Methods of Obtaining Interpreters

The courts surveyed relied largely on their own resources in obtaining language interpreters for trial use. Of persons used by the reporting courts for interpretation, 30.3% were employees of the court or some other governmental agency whose primary responsibility was something other than that of language interpretation; 20.3% were provided by the parties to the case at trial. By-standers in court and volunteers made up 16.1%; and unusual circumstances such as bilingual attorneys and judges or language instructors made up an additional 2.0% for a total of 68.7%. Under more formal arrangements, language interpreters employed by a court or other governmental body for this specific purpose accounted for 21% of all interpreters. Of that 21%, 9.4% were employed on a full-time basis and 11.6% on a per diem basis. There was no response concerning the remaining courts.

Proficiency of Interpreters

When asked how the qualifications of interpreters were determined, most courts responded that they relied on their own means of certification. In 41.4% of the cases, courts relied on the interpreters whose abilities were known to them from prior use. In 25.4% of the cases, interpreters were accepted by one or more of the parties to the case at trial, and 11.1% through informal oral examination by the court, for a total of 77.9%. In 17.9% of the cases, interpreters were considered qualified because of certification by some governmental body or educational institution.

Instructions to Interpreters

Sixty-five percent of judges responding found it advisable to give "formal or informal instructions to a person appointed as a language interpreter," presumably to make up the translator's lack of expertise or of familiarity in an area of law, court procedure, or legal terminology. Twenty-two percent found no need for special instructions, and 13% made no response to this question.

Problems Encountered

One section of the survey was designed to elicit information on specific areas in which the courts might be having problems with court interpreters at the present time.

Responses indicating that a "significant problem" existed were negligible on the whole, never exceeding 5.2% of the sample in any one category. Most categories received "no problem" ratings by at least a majority of the respondents in all but one or two areas. No response was received from 18% to 22% of the time for all questions.

The categories in which the most responses of "some problem" were given can be grouped under two general headings. The first and largest problem area falls under the category of the interpreters' command of legal terminology and understanding of courtroom procedures. The area singled out as the most problematic was in command of legal and other specialized terminology, with "some problem" rated at 37.1% and "significant problem" at 5.29%. At the same time, 36.2% viewed command of legal terms as "no problem" at all, while, in response to a separate question, 70% said their interpreters understood legal terms well enough to effectively serve the court. The second biggest problem was also in this same general area, under the heading of inability of interpreters to make the parties understand court proceedings, with 27.1% reporting "some problem" and 4.8% reporting a "significant problem."

Another area identified as having numerous problems involved the language skills of the interpreters. Generally, "some problem" or "significant problem" was reported for accuracy of interpretation (27.2%), ability of interpreters to translate (23.4%), and interpreters' command of dialect, regionalisms, or slang (26.7%).

Comments of Respondents

The final section of the questionnaire solicited the recommendations and comments of the responding judges.

A total of 119 comments were received. An analysis of the comments showed that 59 of the judges replying were opposed to a certification program; 14 were in favor of such a program; and the remaining 46 appeared to be neither in favor of nor specifically against such a program but had general comments concerning the use of interpreters in the courtrooms.

Most respondents indicated that they did not recommend that interpreters be provided with special instruction, either in the form of seminars or additional schooling. Objections ran from the problem of funding such instruction to overburdening court personnel with useless capabilities and the expansion of the state bureaucracy. When asked if they would recommend special seminars on legal terminology and procedure, only 39% responded positively, while 50% were opposed. Although some problems were reported in the interpreters' abilities to translate legal terminology, 70% of the judges said their interpreters understood legal terminology sufficiently to serve for the court, while only 16% said that they did not.

Although some shortcomings were noted in the second identifiable problem area--that of overall ability as translators--respondents generally were not disposed in favor of corrective measures. While some comments were quite enthusiastic, the general survey response was rather ambivalent on the question of the need for formal training in methods of translation for interpreters. Responses were divided with 39% in favor and 42% against.

Finally, although the courts presently rely almost entirely on their own informal networks for finding qualified interpreters, the respondents generally were not in favor of a certification program by the State. Fifty-five percent of the returned surveys indicated opposition to this suggestion and 34% were in favor. An even stronger negative response was obtained, with a 67% "no" vote, on the question of whether court filing fees should be raised to cover the costs of a certification program.

Summary of Comments

From the responses received, it appears that most trial judges would prefer not to particpate in any type of state certification program or in the development of a state interpreters service. While some responded enthusiastically to this type of approach, on the whole, the concept was rejected on the grounds that the system would be of no value to those courts that did not use it, that the cost of the system would be prohibitively high for small jurisdictions that might benefit from it but did not have the funds to support it, and that this would simply be an expansion of state bureaucracy. In addition, there was also a comment concerning the possibility of inducing reversible errors in trials if this system was put into effect. A formal certification program, it was feared, would provide grounds for an appeal on the basis of denial of right to an interpreter, regardless of a defendant's actual fluency in English, whenever such a question might be raised.

Other Certification Programs

In another facet of the study pursuant to S.R. 744, the Office contacted the federal government and governments of other states to determine whether similar certification programs are in operation.

The federal program involves intensive and thorough testing, both oral and written, of the applicants' abilities to interpret from a foreign language into English and vice versa. This testing includes the use of legal terminology, as well as language differences by reason of dialect, regionalism, slang, etc. The budget for the program is approximately $125,000 per year. Thus far, 23 residents of this State have been certified under the federal program. In accordance with the Resolution, the Office maintains a list of federally-certified interpreters, and has supplied a copy to several judges upon their request.

The State of California has developed a state certification program similar to the federal program, administrered by the State Personnel Board. Apparently, the testing is not quite as intensive as the federal program but it also is quite expensive. According to the information we have received, the California program is budgetd at approximately $89,000 a year.

Other Possible Approaches

Another area explored pursuant to S.R. 744 was the possiblity of the Texas College and University System Coordinating Board developing a college-level course in court interpreting. A preliminary meeting was held with Dr. David T. Kelly, Assistant Commissioner to the Board, to explore the concept of a course to include instruction from one language into another, to be made available to foreign language students and other persons otherwise capable of bilingual interpretation. If such a course were developed, this Office could maintain a list of those persons who have successfully completed the course and make their names available to the courts of the State. Such a course in judicial interpreting has been offered previously at Rice University as a summer course meeting for a period of two hours, two days a week, for 12 weeks, and at the University of Houston at Clear Lake City.

This type of elective course may attract students who are majoring in foreign languages and persons who are otherwise bilingual, and could result in supplementing the income of high school and college foreign language instructors, among others. It would provide a pool of qualified language interpreters for the courts of our State. The course might be made available at several locations throughout the State and during the summer semesters as well as the regular semesters.

Possible Target Areas

To provide information on which areas of the State are more likely to have non-English speaking citizens needing court interpreter services, an attempt was made to obtain language demographic data from the 1980 U.S. Census. Although asked for on the "Long Form" Census questionnaire, information on concentration by population of different language speakers has not yet been made available in comprehensive form. An extract was found in several advance reports of the Census Bureau, making a limited analysis possible. An analysis of the information reveals that counties in which the Spanish-speaking population not proficient in English is largest, relative to the total population of the county, are concentrated in the Rio Grande Valley, the tier of counties adjacent to Mexico, and the Trans-Pecos area.

Viewing the State as a whole, however, 67% of Spanish-speaking persons with limited English ability live in seven of the 254 counties of the State: Harris, El Paso, Hidalgo, Bexar, Dallas, Webb, and Nueces. Assuming a logical correlation between non-English speaking population density and the need for court interpreters, it would seem that the primary need for Spanish language interpreters would be in the courts of these few counties. Results of the survey conducted by this Office tend to bear out this assumption. Of the 218 responses received, 63 (or 29%) came from judges whose courts are located in one of the seven listed counties. These 63 courts accounted for more than 57% of the 6,729 uses of Spanish interpreters during 1981.

Conclusions

Language testing and certification of interpreters in a manner similar to the presently operating federal program, or to the similar one in operation in the State of California could be instituted in this State. Should the Legislature decide to institute this type of program, an appropriation of approximately $100,000 a year would be required to properly administer this program.

Such a formalized program of testing and certification may not be necessary, however, because only a few Texas counties have a continuing need for language interpretation in their courts. The large majority of courts need interpreters only occasionally. The informal system now used for providing language interpreters to the courts appears to be working well, and the need for a state certification program does not appear to be acute. The majority of judges surveyed who expressed an opinion on the need for state certification were opposed to such a proposal.

The state Office of Court Administration presently maintains a list of the residents of this State who are certified under the federal certification program. The list of persons certified under that program is available to the courts on request.* If college-level courses are instituted to teach the rudiments of court interpretation to students already proficient in a foreign language, a list of students who successfully complete such courses could also be maintained and made available to judges on request. The few courts which are unable to acquire interpreters by less formal methods would then have a pool of interpreters from which to choose. The cost to the State would be minimal and state encroachment on local officials' authority to manage the resources of their courts would be minimized.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

Perhaps more caution should be used in drawing general conclusions from court statistics than from statistics on other subjects. The included data do not attempt to portray everything courts or judges do, or how much time is spent on court-related activities not represented by these court statistics.

Regarding appellate courts, temporary emergencies such as illness of a judge or unusually burdensome cases may distort the statistical picture. In addition, there is no reliable way to ascertain the time spent by appellate or trial judges in study or research in the composing of their opinions and decisions.

At least three factors are not represented in the district court statistics presented and should be borne in mind when evaluating judicial output:

1. One very complicated case may consume an inordinate amount of time compared to less complicated cases.
2. The judges of district courts in most non-metropolitan areas spend more time traveling between different counties comprising a single district than do their metropolitan counterparts, and a metropolitan complex of many judges of identical jurisdiction permits judicial efficiencies not available in non-metropolitan areas.
3. Judges have to spend many hours on administrative matters and other judicial functions not reported in this statistical report, e.g., preparing and submitting the necessary budget requests for the operation of the court to the county commissioners, impaneling grand juries, petit jury requirements, juvenile board duties and responsibilities, and many other matters.

Particularly the county court judges, justices of the peace, and municipal court judges spend a large amount of time counseling with the people in their communities, and as a result of this counseling, many cases are not filed. In addition, as a result of their official position, many of these judges have non-judicial responsibilities in the community which are not reflected in these statistics.

Art. 42.12, Sec. 3d of the Adult Probation Act and Article 42.13, Sec. 3d of the Misdemeanor Adult Probation Act provide for a system of deferred adjudication. A case in which a deferred adjudication is granted requires a similar expenditure of both time and resources by a court as that required in a case in which a final judgment is entered.

For the past few years, there has been 100% reporting from the district and county clerks regarding the activity in the district and county courts of Texas. This has not yet been true, however, regarding justice of the peace and municipal courts. For this reason, it is important to note that reported totals for justice of the peace and municipal courts do not reflect 100% of the activity of those courts.

One final caution: because of the large number of courts in Texas and the huge volume of court activity, reporting errors are bound to occur. The staff of the Texas Judicial Council and the clerks of court work closely to keep such reporting errors to a minimum. When errors are found after publication of an Annual Report, adjustments are made in pending case figures at the beginning of the following year.

SUPREME COURT
Analysis of 1982 Activity

The Supreme Court of Texas is the highest state court for civil appeals and promulgates the rules of civil procedure for the courts of Texas. It is composed of the Chief Justice and eight justices.

The number of applications for writs of error filed in the Supreme Court during 1982 decreased from 1981. A total of 765 applications were filed, compared to 876 in 1981--a decrease of 13 percent, but 2 percent higher than the ten-year average of 748.

In 1982, 119 new "regular causes"--primarily cases in which the Court hears oral argument and delivers an opinion--reached the docket, compared to 123 in 1981 and the ten-year average of 110. New civil mandamus matters increased from 96 in 1981 to 132 in 1982 (up 38 percent).

The Supreme Court disposed of 70 percent of the regular causes docketed during 1982 or carried over from 1981, the same percentage as in 1981. Eighty-one percent of the applications for writs of error were disposed of during the year, also the same percentage as in the previous year.

The Court delivered 107 deciding opinions in 1982, the same number as in 1981. A total of 152 opinions were written (including Rule 483 per curiam opinions), an average of 17 per justice. The Supreme Court disposed of 777 applications for writs of error from decisions of the Courts of Appeals, compared to 860 in 1981, for an average of 88 per justice. Fifteen percent of the 777 applications were granted. Of the granted writs, the Courts of Appeals were reversed in 77 percent of the cases, for an effective reversal rate on applications for writs of error from the Courts of Appeals of 9 percent.

Fifty-one regular causes were pending at the end of 1982--2 more than at the end of 1981, and 12 cases more than the ten-year average. The number of applications for writs of error remaining on the docket at the end of 1982 was 184--7 percent less than the 196 at the end of 1981, and 23 percent more than the ten-year average of 150.

* "Regular Causes" are reported in a separate category because they are the cases which pass through most, if not all, of the steps of the regular appellate decision-making process. Regular causes are cases in which oral argument of counsel in open court is received (unless waived) and in which the Court's decision is usually reported in a written opinion. Most are reviewed in conference by the Supreme Court, before oral argument and decision, upon application for writ of error, with three or more of the justices voting that the decision of the Court of Appeals was erroneous and that the writ therefore should be granted. A similar procedure is followed regarding petitions for original mandamus and habeas corpus, which become "Regular Causes" only after review and vote in conference. "Cases Other Than Regular Causes" include such actions as the Court's rejection in conference of an application for writ of error or application to file a petition for original mandamus or habeas corpus. This category is obviously larger than that of regular causes.

COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEALS

Analysis of 1982 Activity

The Court of Criminal Appeals is the highest state court for criminal appeals and is composed of a Presiding Judge and eight judges. Additionally, pursuant to article 1811e, V.T.C.S., special commissioners may be designated to serve as needed to aid and assist the Court.

Until September 1, 1981, the Court of Criminal Appeals received all criminal cases appealed from the district and county-level trial courts of the State. On that date, a constitutional amendment together with implementing legislation became effective which conferred on the 14 Courts of Appeals intermediate appellate jurisdiction in all criminal cases except those in which the death penalty was assessed. Appeal of these death penalty cases remains direct to the Court of Criminal Appeals. Decisions by the Courts of Appeals in criminal cases may be appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals by petition for discretionary review by the State or defendant, or the Court may review a decision on its own motion.

Jurisdiction Change Reduces Filings

Conferring of criminal jurisdiction on the Courts of Appeals has greatly reduced the number of new cases being filed in the Court of Criminal Appeals. There was a total of 414 cases added to the Court's docket during calendar year , 200 of these cases being added by petition for discretionary review granted by the Court. The 414 new cases represents a decrease of 88 percent from an annualized filing of 3,412 cases from the preceding year. In addition to those cases which were added to the docket, the Court also reviewed 860 other petitions for discretionary review which were refused. This reduction in the number of cases presented to the Court of Criminal Appeals has enabled the Court to make a substantial reduction of the backlog of pending cases. There were 2,471 cases pending with the Court at the beginning of 1982, whereas this number had been reduced to 1,400 pending cases at the end of the year, representing a decrease in the backlog of 44 percent.

Cases filed, disposed and pending 1973-1982

The number of applications for writs of habeas corpus and mandamus also reflected the effects of the grant of criminal jurisdiction to the Courts of Appeals. There was a total of 1,745 applications filed during 1982 as compared with 2,365 applications filed in the preceding year, for a decrease of 27 percent.

The impact of conferring of criminal jurisdiction on the Courts of Appeals can be further demonstrated by comparing the disposition rate for new cases and cases carried over from preceding years for 1982 with the rate for previous years. The Court of Criminal Appeals was able to dispose of 52 percent of the cases filed during the year or carried over from 1981. The disposition rate for 1981 was 35 percent and the rate for 1980 was 38 percent of the cases filed and carried over from preceding years.

Percent of Authored Opinions Rises

Of the total dispositions, 54 percent were disposed of by per curiam opinion, as compared with 76 percent in 1981 and 83 percent in 1980. There were 1,397 opinions (including dissents and concurrences) written in 1982 as compared with 2,266 opinions written in 1981. Forty-six percent of the opinions written in 1982 were authored opinions, compared to 24 percent of opinions written in 1981.

In the 10 years from 1973 to 1982, judges and commissioners serving on the Court of Criminal Appeals wrote a total of 22,669 opinions--an average of 2,267 per year. The 2,878 opinions written by the Court in 1978 was the largest number in any single year.

Petitions for discretionary review were received by the Court from 104 counties. Harris and Dallas Counties accounted for approximately 50 percent of the petitions filed, with 258 petitions being received from Harris County and 243 petitions originating from Dallas County. Tarrant County with 81 petitions represented eight percent of the 1,054 total petitions received by the Court.

During 1982 there were 46 death penalty cases reaching the Court under the automatic review provisions of article 37.071, Code of Criminal Procedure. In 1981 there were 44 death penalty cases reaching the Court on appeal.

COURTS OF APPEALS

Analysis of 1982 Activity

There are 14 Courts of Appeals in Texas which, since September 1, 1981, have heard intermediate appeals in both civil and criminal cases. Five of the courts have three justices each. The others range in size up to the Dallas Court, which had 12 justices in 1982 and added one more on January 1, 1983.

There were a total of 75 justices on the Courts of Appeals at the beginning of 1982. Three more were added to the Austin Court on September 1. The average number of justices serving in these courts during the year was 76.

Growth of Criminal Backlog Slowed Down

The growing backlog of criminal appeals in Texas, which reached crisis proportions from 1974 to 1980, was nearly brought under control by the Courts of Appeals during 1982.

From 1974 to 1980--when original criminal appeals were heard exclusively by the single Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin--the backlog had grown annually by an average of 45 percent per year.

During 1982, the first full year in which the intermediate Courts of Appeals had jurisdiction over criminal cases, the pending criminal case backlog in those courts increased by only 7.1 percent.

Looking at all original appeals of criminal cases, whether pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals or in one of the Courts of Appeals, that backlog was actually reduced by 14 percent during 1982--the first such reduction since 1974. Even so, a staggering 5,700 original criminal cases were pending in the appellate courts at the end of 1982.

The Courts of Appeals had 4,463 criminal cases and 2,432 civil cases pending as of January 1, 1983.

TOTAL WORKLOAD, COURTS OF APPEALS

COURTS OF APPEALS

criminal and 32 civil) per justice. A total of 7,611 cases were added to the dockets of the Courts of Appeals during the year, which included 4,691 criminal cases and 2,920 civil cases.

One measure of the success of the Courts of Appeals in handling criminal cases is their record in disposing of cases transferred to them by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

When the Courts of Appeals first began exercising criminal jurisdiction on September 1, 1981--as the result of a constitutional amendment--the Court of Criminal Appeals transferred 1,637 pending criminal cases from its docket to the various Courts of Appeals.

Of the 1,637 cases transferred, all but 76 had been disposed of by the end of February 1983, the Texas Judicial Council reported.

Controlling growth of the criminal backlog was made more critical by the unexpected surge in criminal case filings which occurred after the Courts of Appeals began hearing criminal cases.

There were nearly 50 percent more criminal cases added to the dockets of the Courts of Appeals in 1982 than were added to the docket of the Court of Criminal Appeals in 1980.

Two of the Courts of Appeals are located in Houston. One each is located in Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio, Dallas, Texarkana, Amarillo, El Paso, Beaumont, Waco, Eastland, Tyler and Corpus Christi. Each court has jurisdiction over a supreme judicial district.

Actual reduction of the huge backlogs, both civil and criminal, is the next goal for the Courts of Appeals. The size of this task is illustrated as follows: if no more new cases were filed in the Courts of Appeals, and each of the 79 current justices continued to dispose of 90 cases per year, it would still take almost an entire year just to eliminate the 6,895 case backlog.

Filings Averaged 100 Per Justice

Considering civil and criminal cases together, the Fifth Court of Appeals in Dallas had the highest average number of cases filed per justice (126) during 1982. State average filings were 100 per justice.

The Eleventh Court of Appeals in Eastland disposed of the largest number of cases per justice (120) during 1982. State average dispositions were 90 per justice.

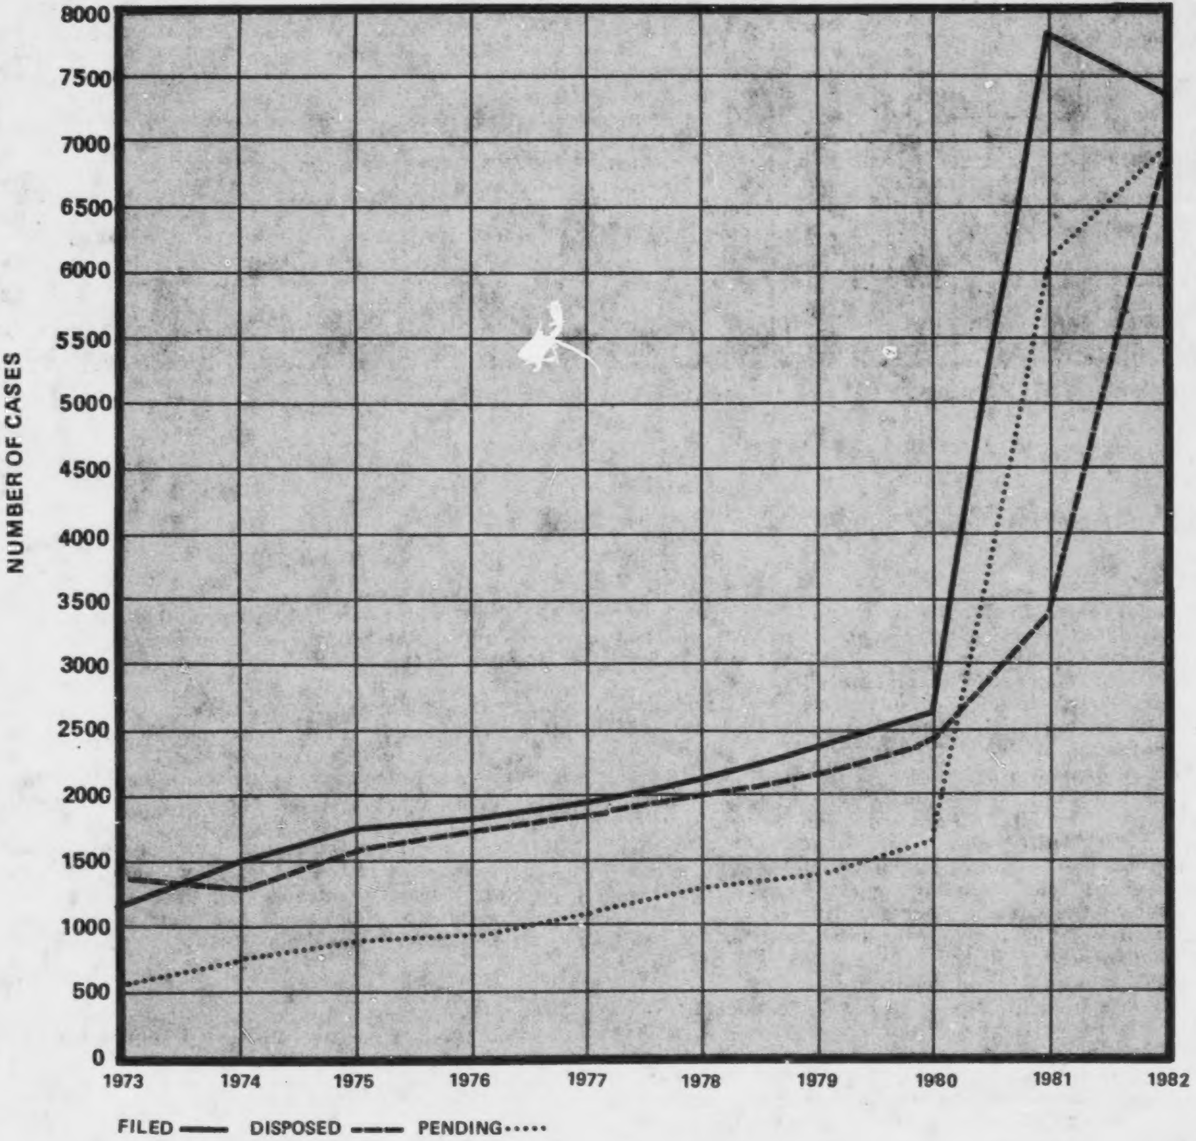
The largest number of pending cases per justice at the end of the year (120) was in the Fourth Court of Appeals in San Antonio. The lowest number was in the Tenth Court in Waco (34). The State average for pending cases was 88 per justice.

Approximately 25 percent of all cases filed in a Court of Appeals in Texas in 1982 were filed in one of the two Courts located in Houston. Approximately 20 percent of all cases filed in the State were filed in the Dallas Court.

In 1982, justices of the Courts of Appeals wrote opinions relating to 6,509 cases, 116 percent more than the 3,016 in 1981. The Courts of Appeals reversed, at least in part, the decision of the trial court in 13.3 percent of the cases disposed of, compared to 18.9 percent in 1981.

While the 14 Courts of Appeals operate to a large extent as autonomous courts in specific geographic areas, some equalization of the dockets occurs by transfer of cases among the courts by order of the Supreme Court, pursuant to Article

Figure 8.
COURTS OF APPEALS
Cases filed, disposed and pending 1973-1982



1738, V.T.C.S. The Supreme Court transferred 59 civil cases and 61 criminal cases in 1982, compared with 371 civil cases and 434 criminal cases transferred in 1981. In addition, the Court of Criminal Appeals completed the transfers allowed when the Courts of Appeals acquired criminal jurisdiction, by transferring 228 cases to the Third Court.

Disposition of Criminal Cases

Of the 4,463 criminal cases pending in the Courts of Appeals at the end of 1982, 46.1 percent had been on the docket less than 6 months, 34.0 percent from 6 to 12 months, and 19.9 percent more than 12 months.

The average lapse of time between filing of a criminal case in a Court of Appeals and its disposition ranged from 4.4 months in the Austin Court to 8.5 months in the San Antonio Court. The average for all courts was 6.7 months.

A case is "submitted" when the court hears oral argument or when it is referred to the justices for formal consideration if no oral argument is heard. The average lapse of time between submission of a criminal appeal and its disposition ranged from 0.3 of a month in the Eastland Court to 3.4 months in the El Paso Court. The average for all courts was 1.5 months.

New Civil Filings Remain Level

New civil cases filed in all of the Courts of Appeals during 1982 increased only 1.1 percent over 1981 and were 34 percent higher than the ten-year average. More new civil cases were filed in 1982 than in 1981 in all but the Texarkana, Amarillo, El Paso, Waco, and Houston Fourteenth Courts. Of the courts with increased civil filings, the Eleventh Court in Eastland experienced the largest percentage increase--24.2 percent (16 cases) and the Tyler Court had the largest increase in actual number of civil filings--18 cases. The Dallas Court continued to receive more new civil filings than any other court--512 compared to the average of 204 per court. DISTRICT COURTS

Analysis of 1982 Activity

During 1982, four new district courts were created as a result of legislative action. On January 1, 1982, there was a total of 340 district-level courts. That number increased to 344 by the end of the year with the addition of new courts. (Three additional courts were created, effective January 1, 1983.) For statistical purposes, 342 has been used as an average number of district courts for 1982.

The district courts experienced a 4.8 percent increase in new cases filed in 1982--458,551, up from 437,717 in 1981. New criminal cases filed increased 14.3 percent over 1981 while juvenile cases increased 4.9 percent and civil cases increased 2.2 percent.

Civil cases accounted for 74.6 percent of the new cases filed in 1982. The largest segment of the civil cases filed (40.3 percent) were for divorce. Of the civil cases filed, personal injury cases (including worker's compensation) comprised about 11 percent, as did tax cases, while debt comprised about 12.9 percent.

Juvenile cases (Title 3 of the Texas Family Code) accounted for 2.3 percent of the total cases filed in district courts.

Criminal cases accounted for 23.1 percent of the total new cases filed in 1982. Of the criminal cases, 24.1 percent involved a charge of theft (including auto theft), 19.9 percent burglary, 6.1 percent robbery, 1.9 percent homicide (including capital murder), 3.2 percent rape (including sexual abuse of a child), 5.3 percent felony DWI and 10.9 percent drug offenses (including marijuana). Six percent of the new filings were misdemeanor cases. Less than 15 percent of the criminal cases filed in the district court were by information, the remainder were by indictment.

The number of all categories of cases filed in 1982 in the ten Texas counties with populations over 210,000 increased 5.7 percent, somewhat more than the 3.5 percent increase in all other counties. These ten large population counties (Harris, Dallas, Bexar, Tarrant, El Paso, Travis, Hidalgo, Nueces, Jefferson, and Lubbock) had approximately 54 percent of the State's population and 57 percent of the total cases filed.

Total case filings in the ten counties increased in all but Hidalgo County (which decreased 9.1 percent) and Lubbock County (which decreased 3.0 percent). Increases in the other eight counties ranged from 12.1 percent in Jefferson County to 5.1 percent in Nueces County.

Filings in criminal cases increased 14.2 percent in the ten urban counties and 14.3 percent in all other counties. Criminal filings increased 44.0 percent in Travis and 25.5 percent in Nueces while dropping 20.1 percent in Lubbock County. Civil case filings increased in eight of the urban counties--as high as a 15.3 percent increase in Jefferson County. Civil filings in Hidalgo County decreased by 13.4 percent. Overall, civil filings rose 3.4 percent in urban counties and 0.7 percent in the rest of the state.

Percent of Dispositions Decreases

In 1982, the district courts of the State disposed of 42.9 percent of the total cases on their dockets (added in 1982 or carried over from 1981)--1.1 percent less than in 1981. The district courts in the ten counties with populations over 210,000 disposed of 45.9 percent. In all other counties of the State, 39.6 percent were disposed of. In all counties, 51.9 percent of the criminal cases and 40.9 percent of the civil cases on the dockets were disposed of during the year.

In the ten urban counties the disposition rate of criminal cases averaged 54.3 percent, ranging from 62.5 percent in Dallas County to 32.0 percent in El Paso County. The disposition rate of criminal cases in counties under 210,000 averaged 49.2 percent of those on the docket.

Comparable figures for civil cases show an average disposition rate of 44.0 percent in the ten urban counties and 37.3 percent in the rest of the State. The range in the ten urban counties was from 62.5 percent in Dallas County to 31.0 percent in Lubbock County.

An average of 1,222 cases per judge were disposed of in 1982, a decrease of 2.4 percent from the disposition rate of 1981.

Of all civil cases, 44.7 percent were disposed of by non-jury trials. (More than 69 percent of these non-jury trials were in divorce cases.) Fourteen percent were dismissed for want of prosecution, and 14.7 percent were dismissed at the request of the plaintiff.

The defendant entered a plea of guilty in 58.8 percent of the disposed criminal cases. Including these pleas, the defendant was convicted in 62.5 percent of the cases and acquitted in one percent. Thirty-five percent of the criminal cases were disposed of by dismissal. Of those cases dismissed, 15.3 percent were because of insufficient evidence and 22.9 percent because the defendant was convicted in another case. In the cases in which the defendant pleaded not guilty and which were disposed of by jury verdicts, the defendant was found guilty in 82.6 percent of the cases and was acquitted in 17.4 percent. In trials before the judge alone on not-guilty pleas, convictions resulted in 68.3 percent of the cases and acquittals in 31.7 percent. The defendant was convicted of a lesser offense than that originally filed in 9.4 percent of the cases resulting in convictions.

Among the criminal cases, the highest rate for disposition by conviction was the category of felony driving while intoxicated (DWI) with 80.3 percent of the dispositions being by conviction. The highest rate of disposition by dismissal was of misdemeanors (51.6 percent). Conversely, the lowest rate of dismissal was for felony DWI--17.1 percent were dismissed.

More Death Sentences Imposed

Thirty-two death sentences (up from 23 in 1981) and 436 life sentences were assessed in the district courts during 1982. A total of 19,074 persons were committed to the Texas Department of Corrections. Another 5,116 persons were incarcerated in local jails, 26,564 were placed on probation (excluding the 11,647 persons placed on deferred adjudication), and $12,764,600 in fines were assessed. Of the criminal cases disposed by the district courts of Texas in 1982, 36.0 percent were disposed of in a period of less than two months from the time of indictment or information, 14.2 percent took two to three months, 10.7 percent took three to four months, and 36.2 percent took over four months. The remaining 2.9 percent of the dispositions were after completion of deferred adjudication.

District courts handled 3.8 percent less divorce actions in 1982 than in 1981. In 1982, 138,532 divorce cases were disposed of--33.1 percent of all cases handled by district courts. Some 20.5 percent were dismissed.

Tax cases tend to stay on the docket for long periods of time compared to other categories of cases. Only 17.2 percent of the tax cases filed in 1982 or carried over from 1981 were disposed of by the district courts in 1982. Of those dispositions, 50.4 percent were dismissed by the plaintiff or for want of prosecution. Almost 36 percent of the personal injury-type cases ended in agreed judgments, and 20.4 percent were dismissed by the plaintiff.

Of the 312,506 civil dispositions during 1982, the courts disposed of 29.2 percent in under three months, 21.6 percent in three to six months, 17.5 percent in six to 12 months, 11.8 percent in 12 to 18 months and 19.9 percent took over 18 months.

The total number of cases pending in the district courts at the end of 1982--556,139--was 10.4 percent higher than the 503,620 pending at the end of 1981. Criminal cases pending increased by 19.8 percent while civil cases pending at the end of 1981 were up 8.9 percent.

Another way to view the volume of cases pending on December 31, 1982, is to assume that no new cases are filed in 1983 and that all the present district judges dispose of cases at the same rate as during 1982. At that rate, it would take an average of 485.6 days per court to dispose of the cases pending at the end of 1982.

COUNTY-LEVEL COURTS

Analysis of 1982 Activity

The county clerk in each of the 254 counties of Texas is supplied forms by the Judicial Council for reporting the judicial activity in the county-level courts ("constitutional" county courts, county courts at law, probate courts, etc.). For 1982, the clerks in all 254 counties reported all twelve months' activity, for a 100 percent reporting rate.

Looking at numbers of cases, criminal cases constituted 71.2 percent (374,175) of the 525,782 new cases filed or appealed from lower courts. Civil cases accounted for 15.5 percent (81,585), and probate represented 12.9 percent (67,806). New juvenile cases filed were less than one-half percent of the total.

DWI Cases Top Criminal Dockets

Concerning the criminal cases only, 30.0 percent of those added to the dockets of the county-level courts were for driving while intoxicated or under the influence of drugs (DWI/DUID), 21.3 percent were for theft, 7.6 percent for violations of drug laws, 11.8 percent for traffic offenses, 2.1 percent for simple assault, and 27.2 percent were for other criminal offenses.

Again concerning criminal cases only, 18.5 percent of the cases added to the county-level court dockets came by way of appeal from justice of the peace or municipal courts rather than being filed originally in the county-level courts. Traffic violations accounted for 49.7 percent of all appeals.

Debt Suits Dominate Civil Dockets

Of the civil cases added to the dockets during 1982, approximately 50 percent were classified as suits on debt, approximately 14 percent concerned personal injury/damage suits, approximately 4 percent were divorce suits, approximately 3 percent were tax suits, and approximately 29 percent were other civil cases.

During the twelve-month reporting period, the county-level courts of the State disposed of 46 percent of the 890,927 total criminal, civil, and juvenile cases on their dockets (added during 1982 or carried over from 1981). No statistics on the disposition of probate cases are recorded. The disposition rate was highest for juvenile cases (68.5 percent). Forty-eight percent of the criminal cases on the docket were disposed of as were 41.5 percent of the civil cases. Within the category of criminal cases on the docket, 58.8 percent of the drug charges, 46.5 percent of the DWI/DUID charges, 35.8 percent of theft charges, 53.5 percent of assault charges, 54.8 percent of traffic cases, and 56.6 of other criminal cases were disposed.

Looking at all cases (except probate), the county-level courts disposed of 416,855 cases, while 464,293 cases were added to their dockets.

Of the criminal cases disposed of in county-level courts, 43.7 percent of the dispositions followed a plea of guilty or nolo contendere, and 50.1 percent were dismissed. Trials were held in less than one percent of the criminal cases; 1,760 were before the judge alone, and 2,498 were before a jury.

The highest percentage of dismissals occurred in the traffic cases--64.7 percent of the dispositions were by dismissal. Dismissals accounted for 44.2 percent of the DWI/DUID, 51.7 percent of the theft, 43.2 percent of drug, and 59.7 percent of the assault case dispositions, respectively.

The methods of disposition of civil cases parallel those for criminal cases except that a higher percentage (13.0) of cases involved a trial. Of the civil cases tried, 808 were before a jury and 9,611 were before the judge alone. Default or agreed judgments accounted for 43.5 percent of civil dispositions, and 40.2 percent of civil cases were dismissed.

Total Pending Caseloads Rise

Total cases pending on the dockets of the county-level courts increased 10.0 percent from the first to the end of the year--426,634 on January 1 and 474,072 on December 31. (This does not include probate cases.)

Civil cases remaining on the dockets on December 31 represented a 2.7 percent increase in pending civil cases. Pending criminal cases increased by 12.3 percent during the year.

JUVENILE COURT ACTIVITY

Section 51.04 of the Texas Family Code provides for the designation of a court or courts in each county as the juvenile court, to hear proceedings under Title 3 of the Family Code. The court designated must be either a district court, criminal district court, county court at law, or constitutional county court. The designation is to be made by the juvenile board in each county, or if there is none, by the judges of the abovementioned types of courts in the county.

The total state-wide activity indicates that about 83 percent of the juvenile cases in the State were handled by district courts and the 17 percent were handled by county-level courts (county courts at law or constitutional county courts).

Juvenile Filings Increase 7%

Statewide, 12,708 new juvenile cases were filed during 1982--seven percent more than in 1981. Of these, 11,157 were for allegations of delinquent conduct (up eight percent from 1981) and 1,551 were for allegations of conduct indicating a need for supervision (up to seven percent). The courts disposed of 13,886 cases--12 percent more than in 1981.

Findings of delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision (C.I.N.S.) were entered in 64 percent of the dispositions. Findings of no delinquent conduct or no conduct indicating a need for supervision were entered in one percent. Thirty-five percent of dispositions were dismissed or otherwise disposed of (including change of venue transfers).

Probations Granted

Of those children found to be delinquent or in need of supervision, 82 percent were placed on formal probation. Where probations were granted, 5,730 (or 78 percent) of the children were placed in the care of their parents; 1,034 (or 14 percent) were placed in residential care facilities; and 579 (or 8 percent) were placed with foster parents.

Children found to be delinquent were ordered confined to a Texas Youth Council facility in 16 percent of the cases.

During 1982, 233 children were certified to be tried as adults, down 25 percent from 1981.

Other actions taken by juvenile courts during 1982 included the holding of 13,380 detention hearings and 981 hearings on motions to modify court orders and the granting of 734 motions to revoke probation.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE COURTS

Analysis of 1982 Activity

The Judicial Council determined from various sources that there were 954 justices of the peace in Texas during 1982. Each justice was asked to submit a one-page monthly report to the Council on activity in that court. All 12 months' activity for 1982 was reported by 612 justices of the peace, 133 others reported fewer than 12 months' activity, and 209 submitted no reports at all. Statewide, the Council received 8,402 reports out of a possible 11,448 for 1982 (a 73 percent reporting rate).

Two-Thirds of Filings are Traffic Cases

In terms of numbers of cases, criminal misdemeanor cases comprised 88 percent of the cases filed in the reporting courts. Of these misdemeanor filings, 75 percent were traffic cases (2/3 of all cases filed). During 1982, 1,341,478 traffic cases were filed, 13 percent more than in 1981. Non-traffic criminal cases filed were 10 percent more than in 1981 and comprised 25 percent of the criminal cases filed. Civil cases provided 12 percent of the new cases filed, approximately the same as during 1981. Twenty-two percent of all civil filings were small claims suits, 41 percent were forcible entry and detainer suits, and 37 percent were other civil actions.

In addition to cases filed, the reporting courts held 9,983 hearings to determine if a peace bond should be issued. In their capacity as a state magistrate, the reporting justices of the peace accepted 50,048 complaints within the jurisdiction of the county courts and 75,610 within the jurisdiction of the district courts (felonies). There were 7,951 examining trials held (preliminary hearings of district or county court cases) and 12,203 inquests conducted. Drivers license suspension hearings totaled 55,221. Also, 4,281 search warrants were issued, and 105,151 defendants charged with county or district court offenses were given statutory warnings. Emergency mental commitment hearings were conducted on 3,812 occasions, and 11,014 matters relating to juveniles were undertaken.

Justices of the peace reported the disposition of cases in two major categories: prior to trial, including dismissals (other than those granted after completing defensive driving), and at trial. Eighty percent of all cases were disposed of before trial, 17 percent at trial, and 3 percent were dismissed after the defendant completed a defen-

Looking at traffic cases only, 86 percent were disposed of prior to trial, 92 percent of those by payment of fine. Of the 14 percent that went to trial, 99 percent of the cases were tried before the judge alone and the remaining cases were tried before a jury. When traffic cases went to trial, the defendant was found guilty in 95 percent of the cases tried before the judge alone and in 75 percent of the cases tried before a jury.

Concerning non-traffic criminal cases, 83 percent were disposed of prior to trial. Seventeen percent went to trial. Of those that went to trial, 99 percent were before the judge without a jury. Guilty findings were made in 94 percent of the trials before a judge alone and in 64 percent of the jury trials.

A much higher percentage (68 percent) of all civil suits went to trial than did criminal cases (12 percent). Thirty-two percent of the civil suits were dismissed before trial. Of the cases that went to trial, 99 percent were before the judge alone and the remainder before a jury.

The courts reported the disposition of 1,647,569 cases, which is 81 percent of the 2,033,689 filed. Total dispositions were about one percent higher than in 1981.

Appeals were filed in 15,931 cases tried in the justice of the peace courts, or about one percent of the cases disposed.

Reported Revenues Increase 12 Percent

Total revenue collected by the reporting courts during 1982 of $55,625,570 was 12 percent more than in 1981. This revenue becomes part of the treasury of the county where the court is located except for a court cost on each case which is remitted to special funds of the State.

Finally, during 1982 justices of the peace reported holding 193,571 conferences prior to any legal action being filed in their courts. These conferences resulted in 88,174 causes (46 percent) not being filed as formal cases.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE COURTS

Explanation of Case Categories

1. Traffic Misdemeanors. This category includes all class C misdemeanor violations of the traffic laws of Texas and other violations of laws relating to the operation or ownership of a motor vehicle (for example, Speeding, Stop Sign, Red Light, Inspection Sticker, Driver's License, Registration, etc.).

2. Non-Traffic Misdemeanors. This category includes all other class C misdemeanor criminal violations usually found in the Penal Code of Texas and associated state laws (for example, Public Intoxication, Disorderly Conduct, Assault, Theft under $5.00, Parks and Wildlife Violations, etc.)

3. Small Claims Suits. This category includes all suits for the or debt) brought to the justice of the peace as judge of the Small Claims Court in accordance with Article 2460a, V.T.C.S.

4. Forcible Entry and Detainer. This category includes all suits for forcible entry and detainer (recovery of possession of premises) brought under authority of Articles 3973-3994, V.T.C.S. and Rules 738-755, Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

5. Other Civil Suits. This category includes all other suits within the civil jurisdiction of the justice of the peace court, including those for recovery of money (damages or debt) and for foreclosure of liens upon or for possession of personal property.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

Perhaps more caution should be used in drawing general conclusions from court statistics than from statistics on other subjects. The included data do not attempt to portray everything courts or judges do, or how much time is spent on court-related activities not represented by these court statistics.

Particularly the county court judges, justices of the peace, and municipal court judges spend a large amount of time counseling with the people in their communities, and as a result of this counseling, many cases are not filed. In addition, as a result of their official position, many of these judges have non-judicial responsibilities in the community which are not reflected in these statistics.

For the past few years, there has been 100% reporting from the district and county clerks regarding the activity in the district and county courts of Texas. This has not yet been true, however, regarding justice of the peace and municipal courts. For this reason, it is important to note that reported totals for justice of the peace and municipal courts do not reflect 100% of the activity of those courts.

One final caution: because of the large number of courts in Texas and the huge volume of court activity, reporting errors are bound to occur. The staff of the Texas Judicial Council and the clerks of the court work closely to keep such reporting errors to a minimum. When errors are found after publication of an Annual Report, adjustments are made in pending case figures at the beginning of the following year.

MUNICIPAL COURTS

Analysis of 1982 Activity

Each of the 802 municipal courts operating in Texas cities during 1982 was asked to submit a one-page monthly report to the Texas Judicial Council on activity in the court. All twelve months' activity for 1982 was reported by 556 of the courts; 90 others reported fewer than twelve months' activity, and 154 submitted no reports at all. Statewide, the Council received 7,288 reports out of a possible 9,624 for the year (76 percent).

Traffic Cases Dominate Dockets

In terms of numbers of cases, traffic cases comprised 91 percent of the cases filed in the reporting courts. A total of 5,924,667 traffic cases were filed in these courts during 1982. Non-traffic criminal cases accounted for the other 9 percent of the cases filed.

Of new traffic cases filed, 56 percent were for non-parking violations with the remaining 44 percent for parking-related offenses. Seventy-eight percent of non-traffic cases filed were for state law violations with 22 percent related entirely to local ordinances.

In the municipal judge's capacity as a state magistrate, the reporting judges accepted 19,645 complaints within the jurisdiction of the county courts and 26,626 within the jurisdiction of the district courts (felonies). A total of 8,716 examining trials (preliminary hearings of district or county court cases) were held, and 111 inquests were conducted by municipal judges. Drivers license suspension hearings totaled 14,572. There were 5,047 search warrants issued and 92,559 defendants charged with county or district court offenses were given statutory warnings. In addition, 1,042 emergency mental commitment hearings were held and 5,998 matters relating to juveniles were conducted.

Municipal courts reported the disposition of cases in two major categories: prior to trial including dismissals (other than those dismissed after completing a defensive driving course), and at trial. Eighty-seven percent of all cases were disposed of before trial, 11 percent at trial (after an appearance before the judge) and 2 percent were defensive driving dismissals.

Looking at traffic cases only, 90 percent were disposed of prior to trial, 83 percent of the non-parking and 99 percent of the parking. Of the 10 percent that went to trial, 99 percent of the cases were tried before the judge alone and the other one percent before a jury. When traffic cases went to trial, the defendant was found guilty in 87 percent of the cases tried before the judge alone and in 76 percent of the cases tried before a jury.

Concerning non-traffic criminal cases, 70 percent were disposed of prior to trial (67 percent of the state law violations and 79 percent of those relating to city ordinances), and 30 percent at trial. Of those that went to trial, 99 percent were before the judge without a jury. Guilty findings were made in 92 percent of the trials before the judge alone and in 63 percent of the jury trials.

The courts reported disposing of 5,212,552 cases, which is 80 percent of the 6,527,801 filed. Of the convictions, 53,460 cases were appealed from the municipal courts, a little more than one percent of the total cases disposed.

Reported Revenues Near $120 Million

Total revenue collected by the reporting courts during 1982 was $119,829,345. This revenue becomes a part of the treasury of the city in which the court has jurisdiction except for a court cost on each case which is remitted to the special funds of the State. In 1982, $14,092,159 was reported as being submitted by the cities to the State.

MUNICIPAL COURTS

Explanation of Case Categories

1. Traffic Misdemeanors. This category includes all class C misdemeanor violations of the traffic laws of Texas and other violations of laws relating to the operation or ownership of a motor vehicle.

Non-Parking includes all those violations which do not involve offenses for improper parking (for example, Speeding, Stop Sign, Red Light, Inspection Sticker, Driver's License, Registration, etc.).

Parking includes those offenses, by state law or city ordinance, which involve the improper standing of a vehicle (for example, Parking on Highway Right of Way, Within an Intersection, Overparking, etc.).

2. Non-Traffic Misdemeanors. This category includes all other class C misdemeanor criminal violations.

State Law violations are those usually found in the Penal Code of Texas and associated state laws (for example, Public Intoxication, Disorderly Conduct, Assault, Theft under $5, Parks and Wildlife Violations, etc.).

City Ordinance violations are those non-traffic offenses found in the ordinances of the city (for example, Dog Running at Large, Plumbing Code violation, etc.).

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

Perhaps more caution should be used in drawing general conclusions from court statistics than from statistics on other subjects. The included data do not attempt to portray everything courts or judges do, or how much time is spent on court-related activities not represented by these court statistics.

Particularly the county court judges, justices of the peace, and municipal court judges spend a large amount of time counseling with the people in their communities, and as a result of this counseling, many cases are not filed. In addition, as a result of their official position, many of these judges have non-judicial responsibilities in the community which are not reflected in these statistics.

For the past few years, there has been 100% reporting from the district and county clerks regarding the activity in the district and county courts of Texas. This has not yet been true, however, regarding justice of the peace and municipal courts. For this reason, it is important to note that reported totals for justice of the peace and municipal courts do not reflect 100% of the activity of those courts.

One final caution: because of the large number of courts in Texas and the huge volume of court activity, reporting errors are bound to occur. The staff of the Texas Judicial Council and the clerks of the court work closely to keep such reporting errors to a minimum. When errors are found after publication of an Annual Report, adjustments are made in pending case figures at the beginning of the following year.

DISTRICT COURTS: DETAILED STATISTICS

HARRIS COUNTY COURTHOUSE (Civil Court Building)
HOUSTON, TEXAS

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

Perhaps more caution should be used in drawing general conclusions from court statistics than from statistics on other subjects. The included data do not attempt to portray everything courts or judges do, or how much time is spent on court-related activities not represented by these court statistics.

At least three factors are not represented in the district court statistics presented and should be borne in mind when evaluating judicial output:

1. One very complicated case may consume an inordinate amount of time compared to less complicated cases.
2. The judges of district courts in most non-metropolitan areas spend more time traveling between different counties comprising a single district than do their metropolitan counterparts, and a metropolitan complex of many judges of identical jurisdiction permits judicial efficiencies not available in non-metropolitan areas.
3. Judges have to spend many hours on administrative matters and other judicial functions not reported in this statistical report, e.g., preparing and submitting the necessary budget requests for the operation of the court to the county commissioners, impaneling grand juries, petit jury requirements, juvenile board duties and responsibilities, and many other matters.

Deferred Adjudications

Art. 42.12, Sec. 3d., Adult Probation, Parole and Mandatory Supervision Law, and Art. 42.13, Sec. 3d., Misdemeanor Adult Probation and Supervision Law, both provide:

> (a) When in its opinion the best interest of society and the defendant will be served, the court may, after receiving a plea of guilty or a plea of nolo contendere, hearing the evidence, and finding that it substantiates the defendant's guilt, defer further proceedings without entering an adjudication of guilt and place the defendant on probation on reasonable terms and conditions as the court may require and for a period as the court may subscribe not to exceed the maximum period of imprisonment prescribed for the offense for which defendant is charged. (Art. 42.12, specifies a 10 year maximum). However, upon written motion of the defendant requesting final adjudication filed within 30 days after entering such plea and the deferment of adjudication, the court shall proceed to final adjudication as in all other cases.
> (b) On violation of a condition of probation imposed under Subsection (a) of this section, the defendant may be arrested and detained as provided in Section 8 of this article. The defendant is entitled to a hearing limited to a determination by the court of whether it proceeds with an adjudication of guilt on the original charge. No appeal may be taken from this determination. After an adjudication of guilt, all proceedings, including assessment of punishment, pronouncement of sentence, granting of probation, and defendant's appeal continue as if the adjudication of guilt had not been deferred.
> (c) On expiration of a probationary period imposed under Subsection (a) of this section, if the court has not proceeded to adjudication of guilt, the court shall dismiss the proceedings against the defendant and discharge the defendant. The court may dismiss the proceedings and discharge the defendant prior to the expiration of the term of probation if in its opinion the best interest of society and the defendant will be served. A dismissal and discharge under this section may not be deemed a conviction for the purposes of disqualifications or disabilities imposed by law for conviction of an offense, except that upon conviction of a subsequent offense, the fact that the defendant had previously received probation shall be admissible before the court or jury to be considered on the issue of penalty.

While the granting of a deferred adjudication requires both time and resources on the part of the courts, the law specifically prohibits the entering of any final judgment (disposition) except as provided under Sec. 3d(b) and (c) respectively.

In addition to the 94,006 criminal cases finally disposed of by the district courts of Texas in 1981, in 11,647 cases the accused was placed on deferred adjudication. During the same period of time, 2,314 deferred cases were dismissed after the probationary period was completed. For many purposes, the cases in which deferred adjudication was granted may be considered disposed, even though those cases remain on the docket and thus inflate the number of cases pending at the end of the year.

One final caution: because of the large number of courts in Texas and the huge volume of court activity, reporting errors are bound to occur. The staff of the Texas Judicial Council and the district clerks work closely to keep such reporting errors to a minimum. When errors are found after publication of an Annual Report, adjustments are made in pending case figures at the beginning of the following year.

DISTRICT COURTS

CRIMINAL DOCKET

A criminal case is defined as one defendant per indictment or information. For example, if an indictment names more than one defendant, there is more than one case; three defendants named in one indictment equals three cases. If the same defendant receives more than one indictment, even if for the same criminal episode, there is more than one case: the same person named in four indictments equals four cases.

Finally, if an indictment contains more than one count (Article 21.24, C.C.P.) only one case per person named in the indictment is reported. The case is reported under the classification for the most serious offense alleged.

The case-type categories, with abbreviation used in parentheses, are:

1. CAPITAL MURDER (CAP. MURD). Any offense under Penal Code Section 19.03 (Capital Murder).

2. MURDER OR VOLUNTARY MANSLAUGHTER (MURD OR VOL. MANS). Any offense under Penal Code Sections 19.02 (Murder) or 19.04 (Voluntary Manslaughter).

3. ASSAULT OR ATTEMPTED MURDER (ASLT OR ATT. MURD). Any felony offense under Penal Code Section 22.01 (Assault); any offense under Section 22.02 (Aggravated Assault), 22.03 (Deadly Assault on a Peace Officer), or 22.04 (Injury to a Child); or any offense of attempt (as defined in Section 15.01) to commit: Murder (19.03) or Voluntary Manslaughter (19.04).

4. RAPE. Any offense under Penal Code Sections 21.02 (Rape) or 21.03 (Aggravated Rape).

5. SEXUAL ABUSE OR RAPE OF A CHILD. Any offense under Penal Code Sections 21.09 (Rape of a Child), 21.10 (Sexual Abuse of a Child) or 21.11 (Indecency with a Child), or, if the victim is younger than 17 years, any offense under Sections 21.04 (Sexual Abuse) or 21.05 (Aggravated Sexual Abuse).

6. ROBBERY (ROB). Any offense under Penal Code Sections 29.02 (Robbery) or 29.03 (Aggravated Robbery).

7. BURGLARY (BURG). Any offense under Penal Code Sections 30.02 (Burglary) or 30.04 (Burglary of Vehicles).

8. THEFT. Any felony offense under Penal Code Sections 31.03 (Theft) or 31.04 (Theft of Service) except when the property involved is a motor vehicle.

9. AUTO THEFT. Any felony offense under Penal Code Section 31.03 (Theft) if the property involved is a motor vehicle, or any offense under Section 31.07 (Unauthorized Use of a Vehicle).

10. ARSON. Any offense under Penal Code Section 28.02 (Arson).

11. MARIJUANA SALE OR MANUFACTURE (MARJ SALE OR MANF). Any felony offense under the Controlled Substances Act (Article 4476-15, V.T.C.S.) for the manufacture, delivery or sale, or possession with intent to deliver or sell marijuana.

12. OTHER DRUG SALE OR MANUFACTURE. Any felony offense under the Controlled Substances Act (Article 4476-15, V.T.C.S.) or the Dangerous Drugs Act (Article 4476-14) for the manufacture, delivery or sale, or possession with intent to deliver or sell a drug or controlled substance other than marijuana.

13. MARIJUANA POSSESSION (MARJ POSS). Any felony offense under the Controlled Substances Act (Article 4476-15, V.T.C.S.) for the possession of marijuana (over 4 ounces).

14. OTHER DRUG POSSESSION (OTHER DRUG POSS). Any felony offense for possession under the Controlled Substances Act (Article 4476-15, V.T.C.S.) or the Dangerous Drugs Act (Article 4476-14) other than possession of marijuana.

15. FORGERY (FORG). Any felony offense under Penal Code Section 32.21 (Forgery).

16 FELONY D.W.I. An offense under Article 6701l-2, V.T.C.S.

17. OTHER FELONY. Any felony offense not clearly identifiable as belonging in one of the preceding categories.

18. ALL MISDEMEANORS (ALL MISD). Any offense classified as a misdemeanor.

CIVIL DOCKET

A civil case, as opposed to a criminal case, is not dependent on the number of persons involved in a suit. Each separate suit normally commenced by the filing of the plaintiffs original petition, defines an individual civil case.

The case-type categories are:

1. AUTOMOBILE PERSONAL INJURY/DAMAGES (AUTO PERS. INJURY). All cases for damages associated in any way with a motor vehicle (automobile, truck, motorcycle, etc.), with or without accompanying personal injury. Examples include personal injury, property damage, and wrongful death cases.

2. OTHER PERSONAL INJURY/DAMAGES (OTHER PERS. INJURY). Cases for personal injury or damages not arising out of an event involving a motor vehicle. Examples include "slip-and-fall" cases.

3. WORKERS' COMPENSATION (WORKERS COMP). Appeals from awards of compensation for personal injury by the Texas Industrial Accident Board. (Art. 8307, V.T.C.S.)

4. TAX. Suits brought by governmental taxing entities for the collection of taxes.

5. DIVORCE. Suits brought by a party to a marriage to dissolve that marriage pursuant to Family Code Chapter 3. (Annulments are not reported here, but under Other Civil.)

6. ACCOUNTS, CONTRACTS, NOTES (ACCT CONT NOTE). Suits based on enforcing the terms of a certain and express agreement, usually for the purpose of recovering a specific sum of money.

7. RECIPROCALS (RECIP). Actions involving child support in which the case has been received from another court outside the county or state. Includes Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Act (U.R.E.S.A.) cases.

8. CONDEMNATION (CONDM). Suits by a unit of government or a corporation with the power of eminent domain for the taking of private land for public use.

9. NON-ADVERSARY (NON ADVER.). This is a narrowly defined category, to include only:

-Adoptions
-Changes of Name
-Occupational Drivers License
-Termination of Parental Rights
-Dependent and Neglected Child Cases
-Removal of Disability of Minority
-Removal of Disability of Minority for Marriage
-Voluntary Legitimation (Section 13.01 Texas Family Code)

10. OTHER CIVIL. All civil cases not clearly identifiable as belonging in one of the previous categories are included in this category.

JUVENILE DOCKET

Juvenile cases are based upon petitions for adjudication of a child alleged to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision (C.I.N.S.) as governed by Title 3 of the Texas Family Code.

OTHER PROCEEDINGS

The proceedings under these categories may stem from criminal, civil or juvenile cases.
